TOPPED THE BIG DAY

Annual Dinner of the I. B. S. Held at Port Stanley Last Night.

Upon the conclusion of the day's programme yesterday, the members of the Irish Benevolent Society held their annual banquet at the Hotel Invererie about one hundred attending.

President Stevely was in charge and introduced the toast list. After the health of the King had been drunk the toast to "Sister Societies" was intro-Court Wellington, Seventh for London, duced, Mr. Geo. B. Gerrard, president of St. Andrew's Society, responding. > "The Irish Benevolent Society" was responded to by Mr. Dennis Mason and Mr. Philip Pocock.

Mr. Mason, in the course of his remarks, paid a fine eulogy to two departed members of the society. Rev. Father Tiernan and Rev. Canon Dann. The work of these two men in cementing the Irish of London and vicinity would be felt for years to come. Mr. Mason also paid a tribute to going away from the wire.

The amateurs who drove in the first King Edward VII., and urged young Canadians to be loyal to the greatest empire that had ever been known. Mr. Pocock congratulated the executive of the society on their excellent picnic. The weather was ideal, the arrangements perfect, and everything passed off smoothly. He paid a tribute to the excellent work of President Stevely, the officers, and the chairmen of the different committees. committees The next toast introduced was to "The Chairmen.

Chairmen."

The president paid a tribute to the very efficient work of Secretary Carty, and also alluded to the excellent chairmen, who had worked with him in the success of the picnic. Particular mention was made of Mr. John M. Daly, chairman of the music committee; Harry and the printing committee of the printing committees. Ranahan, chairman of the printing com-mittee; Mr. Geo. H. O'Neil, chairman of the sports committee; Mr. Ben Noble, chairman of the dancing committee, Mr. Jos. Hickey, chairman of the refreshment ommittee, and Mr. J. H. Fowler, chair-nan of the baby show committee. Responses were made to the toast by

Mr. Geo. H. O'Neil, who gave a large part of the credit for the success of the sports to Harry E. Buttrey, John M. Daly. Harry Ranahan, Ben Noble and J. H. Fowler.

Mr. Geo. H. O'Neil gracefully presented the Montebello stakes and the ed the Montebello stakes and the Tecumseh stakes to the winners of the president's and secretary's races respec-tively, and they were suitably acknowl-tively, and they were suitably actions edged.

The toast to "Our Guests" brought a witty response from Mr. Thomas Gillean.

During the evening Mr. John M. Daly gave several songs in fine voice.

Among those present were: President S. Stevely. Secretary Ed J. Carty, Treasurer P. F. Boyle. Mr. Denis Mason, Mr. Geo. B. Gerrard. S. J. Pyeatt, superfutendent of the Pere Marquette, Detroit,
