A Question.

Matthew Arnold. Joy comes and goes, hope abbs and flows, Like the wave. Change doth unknit the tranquil strength

Love lends life a little grace, A few sad smiles, and then Both are laid in one cold place In the grave.

Dreams dawn and fly, friends smile and die Like spring flowers; Our vaunted life is one long funeral. Men dig graves with sitter tears For their dead hopes; and all Mazed with donbts and sick with fears Count the hours.

We count the hours. These dreams of ours False and hollow; Do we go hence and find they are not dead f Joys we dimly apprehend. Faces that smiled and fied; Hopes born here and born to end. Shall we follow?
