LONDON, March 11.

EAR LORD: I have read with great asrdinal Gibbons document in relation to gets of Labor. The Holy See will, I am gents of Labor. The Holy See will, I am gents of Labor. The Holy See will, I am gent and action. It passes the unding that officious persons should be do to rather than church officials. Surely iscopate of the whole world is the most ul and direct instrument in the hands of dy See for gathering correct local know und enforcing its decisions.

Holy See for gathering correct local knowge and enforcing its decisions.

The can know the temper of America, EngThe can know the temper of America, EngThe can know the temper of America, EngThe and Ireland as they who have a finger on the pulse of the people! Hitherto the
on the pulse of the people in the people of the temper the the Holy See will have to deal with the opple and his bishops in close daily and perpulse and his bishops in close daily and perous contact with the people. The more see and pulse this is pressed, the stronger town will be. Never at any time has the opiscoph bean so detached from civic powers and united in Inself and so well able to e. to realize and to use its powers and united to see and use these powers will breed and trouble and mischief. Mythanks are due tee Cardnad for letting me share in the arguent. If I can find a copy of my lecture on "The ignity and Rights of Labor." I will send it to
m. It will, I think, qualify me for knight, bod in the order. Hentano, some years ago, ublished books on the guilds, in which he roves that the association of labor and crafts oes back to antiquity. But there is published books on the guilds, in which proves that the association of labor and crafts proves that the association of labor and crafts proves that the sack to artispity. But there is this notable fact: In the English and Teutonic laws they were recognised, tavored and chartered; in the Imperial and Latin laws they were rigorously probibited. We are at they were rigorously probibited. We are at they were rigorously probibited. We are and they were rigorously probible and they were rigorously probible.
