U. S. SENATE MAY DROP FORDNEY TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(Canadian Press Dispatch)—Hope that the Fordney emergency tariff bill would come to a vote in the Senate at this session had been practically abandoned by proponents to-day when the measure came up for what was generally believed to be its final day of debate in that body. Leaders were understood to have definitely decided to put aside the measure, which would shut out Canadian wheat, and take up the money bills when the Senate convenes on Monday. That the bill could be brought before the Senate again was admitted by proponents to be doubtful in view of the opposition which has prevented action thus far.

I. L. P. TO OPPOSE GAS RATE RAISE

Will Support Mass Meeting of Protest Next Monday

John G. Hotherhall was elected president of the Independent Labor party at the annual meeting held in the Labor Temple on Sunday afternoon. Harry Wray, past president of the I. L. P., was again nominated, but declined the nomination. The gas question was discussed by the members and it was decided to support the mass meeting being called for a week from to-day, when the delegates will be elected to go to Toronto and oppose the application of the City Gas Company for higher rates. It comes before the private bills committee.

John Colbert was chosen as first vice-president, George Murphy as second vice and James Hevy as third vice-president. Arthur Mould was appointed secretary. Daniel Menzies is treasurer and Fred White financial secretary. The following ward chairmen were elected: F. H. Swadlow, ward 1; R. G. Carroll, ward 2; Frank Crookford, ward 3. Henry B. Ashplant was elected as general organizer for the party.

REPRISAL QUICKLY FOLLOWS AMBUSH

House in Dublin Suburb Destroyed by Military

BELFAST, Jan. 30.—(Associated Press Cable)—An officer and one man were seriously wounded and five others slightly when a lorry in which the officer and 12 men of other ranks were riding were ambushed last night in the vicinity of Terenure, a quiet residential district on the south side of Dublin. A bomb was exploded and shots were fired at the lorry, to which the soldiers replied vigorously. Auxiliary police were rushed to the scene, but the assailants escaped. A police patrol was fired on near Virginia, County Cavan, last night. The police returned the fire and three of the attacking party were seen to fall. There were no police casualties.

Call's Wood House in Kewslagh, a Dublin suburb, was wrecked Saturday night by the military. The house was owned by the aged mother of Patrick P. Pearse, once "provisional president" of Ireland, who was executed after the 1916 rebellion. All the occupants except Mrs. Pearse had left the building in December owing to repeated raids. The military wrecked the house with axes and crowbars. Local opinion today seemed to be that the wrecking of the house was done in reprisal for the ambushade at Terenure. Residents of the building were engaged to-day in removing the furniture that remained in the rooms.

MR. JENSEN TELLS OF MORMON IDEA OF HELL

"The Mormon Idea of Hell," was the theme of Nephi Jensen at the Star Theater last night. Mr. Jensen, a former lawyer of Utah, now president of the Canadian mission of the Mormon church, spoke in part as follows: "The orthodox hell is the hottest place I have heard about. We are told that melted steel at white heat is used as ice cream by those who live in Satan's country. If a drop of water should be taken out of the ocean each year in the time the ocean was dried up it would not be breakfast time in hell. "The orthodox hell is the creation of inspired theologians. It has no existence in fact. There is no saving virtue in the doctrine of hell fire. People who become good because they are scared, do not remain good in any degree. The chief use of the orthodox doctrine of hell is to scare people into the church. "The torment of the wicked will consist of an intensified consciousness of guilt, which will make them shrink from the presence of God. All the wicked will not partake to the same extent of this punishment. On the day of judgment it will be more tolerable for some nations than others. And some sinners will be beaten with many stripes and some with few stripes. This rule applies to people in the church and out of the church. "God's punishment is everlasting. But those who receive it are only punished in proportion to their guilt. When they have paid for their sins they will be liberated. Jesus declared that when a person has paid the uttermost farthing for his sins he would come out of the prison house. "Those who have committed the unpardonable sin are the only ones who will be punished forever. Most people will be saved in some degree of glory. This statement may seem strange when it is remembered that Jesus said the road to eternal life is narrow, and that few find it. Only a few will enter into the highest degree of glory."

SHACKLETON PREDICTS CONTINUANCE OF THE MILD WINTER

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Prince and Princess Biliseo, of Roumania, arrived here to-day on the steamship Aquitania en route to Washington, where the prince will be the new Roumanian minister. Princess Biliseo is a daughter of Herbert H. Asquith, former prime minister of Great Britain, where Prince Biliseo served for 15 years with the Roumanian legation. Sir Ernest Shackleton, the explorer, also a passenger, predicted the winter would continue mild. "I base my predictions," he said, "on observations taken in Northern Sweden and Norway and of ice along the Siberian shore and in the Atlantic, which is free and soft. Also the peaks in Spitzbergen are not covered with snow as usual." Sir Philip Gibbs, English war correspondent, also was on board the Aquitania.

WILL MOVE FOR EARLY ENFORCEMENT OF THE RESTAURANT LAW

HAMILTON, Jan. 29.—Hon. Walter Rollo, minister of labor, stated here to-night that he would move at the present session of the Legislature for the early enforcement of the amendment to the Factory Act of 1914, which had not been enforced because of the war intervening. As originally drafted the amendment was aimed at discouraging Chinese restaurateurs from employing white girls. Mr. Rollo explained, but as a result of a protest from the Chinese consul at Ottawa against his race being thus discriminated against, the amendment was enlarged to include proprietors of all restaurants.

URGES PEOPLE TO PROBE FACTS OF RELIGION

Dean Fox Says Many Are Rejecting Christianity Without Examination

People to-day, under the impression they are modern and up-to-date, are rejecting religion without going into the facts and basic principles of the New Testament, declared Dean W. Sherwood Fox, of Western University, speaking at a men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium yesterday afternoon. He declared these same people looked upon business and science in a modern way and that before rejecting a principle they should probe for and find the facts. Why was not the same done with religion? By a series of illustrations Dean Fox gave an interesting definition of religion regardless of denominations and following this up enquired on what Christianity is. "He guided by facts," he said, "if you were told that some plan or scheme was worthy you would not reject it in toto before examining the facts, would you? That is the difficulty being experienced with religion. People who call themselves modern and with modern ideas are turning down religion without even looking into the facts. Dig into these facts and be guided by them."

THE FOURTH VICTIM

KINGSTON, Jan. 30.—Arthur Byrne, the eight-year-old son of Patrick Byrne, who, with two children, Emmet, aged five, and Stanley, aged three, met death on Friday night when the Byrne home was destroyed by fire, died on Saturday night from his injuries. Arthur had been thrown out of a window by his father in a desperate effort to save the boy's life. Of the family of five only Mrs. Patrick Byrne remains. At an inquest here on Saturday night in connection with the death of Mr. Byrne, the origin of the fire was not clearly established.

CONGREGATION IN NEW EDIFICE

Church of the Redeemer Is Remodeled

Two large congregations marked the opening of the newly remodeled Church of the Redeemer yesterday. Rev. A. S. H. Cree, the rector, preached inspiring sermons at both services. Rev. Mr. Cree was appointed rector only a few weeks ago. He is a London boy, but during the past year had a charge at Parkhill. The official dedication of the new church will be held on March 3. The church is not quite completed, but everything will be in readiness by March. The dedication services will be conducted by Bishop Williams and Canon Carlisle, of Windsor. Special music is also being arranged for. For the past three months the congregation has been holding services in the Orange Hall, which was kindly loaned by the order while the church was being remodeled. During this period considerable inconvenience was experienced owing to the hall being too small to meet the demands. Owing to the incessant growth of the church it was found necessary to remodel the old church or build a new one. At first it was deemed advisable to build a new edifice, but owing to the high cost of material they found it impossible. The old church on the corner of Adelaide and Grosvenor, was about 199 feet west on Grosvenor and an addition of 10 feet was added to the front. A foundation was put Mrs. Patrick Byrne remains. At an inquest here on Saturday night in connection with the death of Mr. Byrne, the origin of the fire was not clearly established.

Capacity Crowd Attends Pleasing Event and All Had a Good Time. Natives of Sussex-by-the-sea and of the verdant hills of Devon were brought together at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on Saturday night with those Londoners who are proud to own Cornwall and the Isle of Wight as their birthplace. No fewer than 800 attended the South England night at the sign of the Red Triangle, and were repaid by a splendid concert, while more than 200 late comers were unable to obtain admission to the auditorium. It was a "large" evening in more ways than one as might surmise by the fact that 47 numbers—all of which were excellent—found their way on the program. George Yull acted in the capacity of chairman, and George Balch led the sing-songs and also elucidated the different pictures which were thrown on the screen at intervals. Bob Liddle, who, was responsible for the entertainment, made an effort to make a few announcements, but before he could do it he was swept off his feet by a dozen men, while the crowd took up the refrain of "It's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Honey songs and skits developed the proper spirit among the crowd for the affair, and made of it an outstanding success. So popular was the event that it was decided by the audience that another excursion to the south of England will take place shortly. A date has not been fixed as yet, but an array of talent is promised for it when the time is opportune. So many were the contributors to the program that it is impossible to mention more than a few of the best. Miss Florence Padock, James Burnhall, Donald Payne and Mrs. Hudson gave some appreciated solos, while Miss Eleanor Tustin, a nine-year-old made a real hit with the gathering. George Balch and H. Clarke worked up a lot

Three Minutes with Potter's Clay

As clay in the hands of the potter, so is newspaper advertising space in the hands of the merchant.

He can mold it, fashion it, and with it create a thing almost animate: To wit, a clearly written or pictured expression of his merchandise and of the personality of his store.

Few merchants have experienced the fascination of doing this, because they are too busy to cultivate the art of written expression.

Yet the art well repays the cultivation.

For example: Supposing you were told that for three minutes, to-morrow, 20,000 people would gather to listen to you talk about your merchandise.

Supposing only five per cent. of them were possible purchasers.

And you had just three minutes.

You would think out very carefully in advance what you were going to say to them, wouldn't you?

You would make every sentence a graphic picture, and say it with all the force and animation that you are capable of.

Well, then, the readers of this paper are your audience, your clay and you are the potter. They are yours to talk to, not only for three minutes to-day, but for three minutes every day.

Isn't it worth while, then, to put all your skill and judgment into the preparation of your daily newspaper advertising?

of enthusiasm in the sing-songs, and such favorites as "Nancy Lee" were sung with feeling by the audience. Mr. Liddle announced that the next reunion night would be for the natives of the Heilands and Lowlands and every man and woman who has ever said farewell to Glasgow is expected to be on hand.

SAVES BOY FROM DROWNING

SARINIA, Jan. 30.—Prompt action on the part of Capt. Deise Whitley saved the life of the 15-year-old son of John Washburn, of Sombra, when the lad broke through the ice on the St. Clair River yesterday. While reaching out to draw the Washburn boy to safety the ice gave way beneath the rescuer, throwing him into the river as well. The two were finally able to crawl out on the ice and make for shore.

Fresh Milk as you need it

Carnation Milk is pure, fresh, "whole" milk distributed in a new and better way.

It is fresh, pure, whole milk from Canada's finest dairy farms with part of the water removed by evaporation, then sealed while perfectly fresh, in air-tight containers.

It is thus safeguarded against contamination and sterilized for added safety. Nothing else has been taken away—all the rich food value of the original milk remains. And nothing is added—no sugar, no preservatives of any kind.

You can keep this milk unopened in the container indefinitely—any quantity—for any household need.

The home that uses Carnation Milk never "runs short" of milk. Pour it direct from the can—as cream—for tea, coffee, cereals, on fruit or for whipping.

But dilute it for other purposes. Add at least an equal quantity of water to restore it to the natural consistency and richness of ordinary milk.

Greatest convenience of all—buy Carnation Milk with your groceries! Your grocer is the Carnation Milkman. Order several tall (16 oz.) size cans, or a case of 48 cans.
