Lies Credited to History.

There was probably no such man as Ropulus.

There never was such a person as Pope Joan, the so-called female Pontiff.

Wellington at Waterloo did not say, "Up guards, and at 'em!"

Alfred the Great did not visit the Danish camp disguised as a minstrel.

The existence of the Colossus of Rhodes is considered by some historians as extremely doubtful.

There is no historic authority for the statement that little George Washington cut down the cherry tree.

Montwell and Hampden did not attempt to sail to America just before the outbreak of the English revolution.

Philip III., of Spain, was not roasted to death by a roaring fire because court etiquette would not allow any one to come to his assistance. But, on the other hand, he died a natural death.

Pocahontas did not save the life of John Smith. It has been ascertained that this worthy man was the most able-bodied pre-parator of his century.

Seneca was not a half-Christian philosopher, but a grasping money-lender and usurer, who died worth over £3,000,000.

Cesar did not say: "Et tu Brute." Eyewitnesses to the assassination deposed that he died fighting, but silent, like a wolf.

Richard III. was not a hunchback, but a soldier of fine form, some pretensions to good looks, and great personal strength and courage.

Gen. Cambronne did not say: "The guard dies, but does not surrender." The words were the invention of a Paris journalist, and attributed to him.

Mary Stuart, of Scotland, was not a beauty. She had cross eyes and to save the trouble of dressing her hair she had it cut off close to her head and wore a wig.

Sappho, the poetess, was not a wanton beauty, nor did she throw herself from the Leucadian cliff to be cured of an unworthy love. The latest investigations prove her to be a respectable married woman with a large family.

Queen Elizabeth was not the angelic creature represented in the history and poems of her own times. Her hair was red, her temper red hot. She sometimes drank too much, and at any provocation would carry on like a trooper.

Mr. H. B. McKinnon, painter, Mr. Albert says:—"Last summer my system got impregnated with the lead and turpentine used in painting; my body was covered with scarcely spots as large as a 25-cent piece, and I was in such a state that I could scarcely walk. I got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and at once commenced taking it in large doses, and before one-half the bottle was used there was not a spot to be seen, and I never felt better in my life."

Curious Condensations.

Denmark has a 4,200 acre park.
Iron steamships appeared in 1830.
Uncle Sam has 33,136 locomotives.
Pumpkins weighing 250 pounds have been grown in California.
The longest cable message ever sent from Africa was King Behanzin's $1,500 message.
Cairo, Egypt, has a population estimated at 500,000, of which 30,000 are Europeans.

B.B.B. Cures Sick Headache.

GENTLEMEN.—Having suffered for a number of years with sick headache I concluded to try B. B. B. and by the time I had used two bottles I was cured and have not had any symptoms of it since. I can safely recommend B. B. B. for sick headache.—
