MEMORY VERSES, 28-30.—Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

To the folks at home: Please help the little ones to learn this lesson.

LESSON STORY.

Do you find it hard to think of Jesus as ever speaking stern words of displeasure? He was so kind, so patient, so gentle to those who wanted to be right and do right that we scarcely know his voice when we hear him utter words of reproof.

If you study the New Testament you will find that again and again he did wonderful works. The people looked on and perhaps laughed him to scorn, or, it may be, asked him to go away from their city. If you think a little about the things Jesus said would come upon the cities which would not listen to him, you will surely see how foolish they were to treat him in that way. But do you know that just as sad things will come to the person who refuses to believe Jesus as to the city.

There are three verses in this lesson which every one should know by heart. Can you tell which they are?
