ITCH OINTMENT.

In a series of experiments at the St. Luke's Hospital, Paris, to determine what will cure itch in the shortest time, forty-one different preparations were employed. One of these, the following ointment cured in the smallest number of days :

R	Sublimated sulphur.....	℥ ij
	Subcarbonate of potash.....	℥ j
	Adeps simplex.....	℥ viij

M. Sig. Apply morning and night.

The writer of this has been in the habit of adding to the above the oil of bergamont, three drams, thus adding to the flavor and potency of the ointment.—Modern Medicine.
