

GOOD LITERATURE FOR OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

We shall be glad to provide our subscribers with the "Penny Volumes," the demand for which has been incessant during the last twelve months, in sets of six for twenty-five cents per set. A subscriber may order as many sets as he or she likes, but on no account can a set be broken. We have been compelled to offer the volumes in this manner, owing to the inconvenience that has been occasioned in the past by a large run on certain works, which has caused us to be unable at times to send the books asked for until a fresh supply was procured from England. We start afresh with 1000 books, made up in sets according to the subjoined list. When our present stock is nearly exhausted we shall order a fresh supply; in the meantime we would advise our friends who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity of providing themselves with the best kind of literature at a very small cost to send in their order at once. First come, first served, is still our motto, and it has not infrequently happened that when we have ordered certain works that have been asked for we have received word that they were out of print and unobtainable. When ordering simply state the number of the set or the numbers of the sets. Remit in stamps or cash. Give your full address, and if you do not receive the books within a week send a post card notifying us thereof and of the date the order was sent. The "penny poets" and the "penny works of fiction" are abridged editions, carefully edited by W. T. Stead.
