THE GROWING EXCELLENCE OF
SCIENCE.

Those who have seen only the early numbers of Science have a very imperfect idea of the present character of this periodical. . . . It has learned that there is a science of language, a science of literature, a science of history, a science of mind, a science of morals as well as the physical and natural sciences, and so aims to give its readers organised knowledge concerning whatever affects man."—PROF.
