

should or should not adhere to conventions of this nature. This, he said, was a right in accordance with good democratic practice and consistent with the progressive development of real self-government. This amendment was defeated in plenary session and the resolution was then adopted by 52 votes in favour, none against and 3 abstentions. In approving this resolution the Assembly urged that the amended international Conventions be signed without delay and instructed the Secretary-General to perform the functions conferred upon him by these Protocols when they entered into force. The resolution also directed the Economic and Social Council and the Secretary-General to suspend all action under these Conventions and Protocols with respect to Spain.