

Business of the House

Mr. Fleming (Eglinton): Why Wednesday?

Mr. Chevrier: I wonder what the business of the house is for tomorrow and whether consideration has been given to the business with which the house will be dealing when we reconvene on April 10.

Mr. Churchill: Tomorrow we will carry on with the supplementary estimates, followed by items Nos. 1 and 2 on today's order paper, if there is time for them. These items are concerned with Bills Nos. S-5 and S-6 dealing with insurance matters.

I hope to make a forecast, perhaps tomorrow night, concerning the business with which the house will be concerned immediately following the Easter recess.

At ten o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to standing order.
