LIGHTNING ADVANCE OF ENEMY FAILURE

Three and a Half Columns of Austrians Advanced in Bukovina. CAVALRY SOON ROUTED Direct Attack on Chotin Defeated, But Attackers Persist in Attempt.

PETROGRAD, via London, April 6, 10 p.m.—Despatches from Chotin received here tell of the development and failure of extensive Austrian operations in Bukovina, near the Russian frontier, by which the Austrians hoped to achieve a coup similar to the German attack on the Russian army corps during the last advance into East Prussia.

The Austrians, it is said, attempted lightning advance in two directions from Czernowitz, which was used as a base. The first of these, striking northward to Zate Szczyty, to the west of the Russian frontier, attempted an encircling manoeuvre, while the other group proceeded direct to Chotin, across the Russian border. Thus, the Austrians hoped to catch the Russian left flank along the River Dniester in a vice, cutting them off from their main forces. Three and one-half Austrian columns were employed in these manoeuvres.

First Steps Succeeded. The preliminary northward movement of the first Austrian group was successful in repulsing the Russians occupying Sadowa, a village six miles north of Czernowitz, and then moved on two parallel roads toward the Russian frontier. In the meantime the second group reached a point on the right bank of the Dniester, seven miles from the Russian border. Thence an Austrian brigade of cavalry, according to reports, two columns of Russian cavalry in smaller numbers than the Austrians engaged the Russian forces, driving the Austrians from the frontier.

Despite the failure of the direct attack upon Chotin the encircling movement, attacking the Russian fortifications covering the line on the Dniester near Zate Szczyty, is still continuing. It is regarded here, in view of the retreat of the other group from Chotin, that the success of the venture is not likely.

PROBE COMMENCED IN DRUG CONTRACT

Madame Plamondon of Quebec Supplied Medicines for First Contingent.

OTTAWA, April 6.—H. W. Brown, director of contracts, was the first witness on the stand at this afternoon's meeting of the public accounts committee when the $25,000 contract given to Mme. Plamondon, Quebec, for drug supplies for the first contingent was enquired into. Mr. Brown stated that on April 22, 1914, Madame Plamondon had secured a six months' contract for the supply of drugs to the permanent force at Quebec.

A board of officers under Colonel Jones, director of medical services, had in March, 1914, fixed prices for the purchase of drugs for the permanent force at Quebec. Complaint had been made that these prices were too low, and an enquiry it had been found that prices had in some cases been fixed at lower figures than wholesale prices, and changes had been made for Potter of the permanent army medical corps stated he had nothing to do with the increases asked in the Quebec drug contract with Mrs. Plamondon.

"Have prices of medical supplies advanced since the war?" asked Dr. Reid.

"Yes, much. There has been a general increase in prices in Canada." "Did prices go up in August last year?" queried Mr. Kytte.

"Yes, owing to the demoralization of the market some prices went up greatly then."

VETERINARY STUDENTS.

Editor World: I would greatly appreciate if you were to give some prominence to this letter as it contains a serious problem. Ever since the veterinary students moved into their new building at the corner of University avenue and Anderson street, that corner has become a disgraceful spot. That section is a thoroughfare for the orthodox Jews, as they pass to and fro from the various synagogues in that locality, and not only have they been subjected to the calling of all kinds of insulting names, but they have also been subjected to the most serious doubt in my mind as to that fact, to have at least the rudiments of a liberal education would be somewhat more decent and fair-minded than the ignorant peasant who cannot sign his name. But evidently the long association of the veterinary students with animals of a lower mentality, notably the pig and jackass, has had its corresponding effect on their minds.

I make this statement most seriously, sir. Here is not the place to thrash out the old question of antisemitism, nor do I come to lay a trifling complaint or ask a favor. I am certain that I voice the sentiments of all these old men of the various synagogues, who have been subjected to these insults and physical violence. These men in the great majority are honest law-abiding citizens of this community, subject to its laws and it is ridiculous to imagine for even a moment that a group of half-baked, so-called students are to take matters into their own hands.

It is indeed a brave act for 20 to 40 husky students to attack a dozen or more men, the youngest of whom is fifty. I would suggest that if these men are so great and like this where the British watch-word of "FAIR PLAY" is ever the slogan such things should not occur. Occurrences like these must be nipped in the bud, but dramatic measures, by which they become serious, or that watchword will only be boast.

LATEST U.S. NOTE PLEASES FRANCE

Suggestion Made, However, That Neutrals Attack "Highway Robbers."

PARIS, April 6, 5:40 p.m.—The Journal Des Debats, in a long editorial commenting on the American note regarding the allies' blockade against Germany, says it is a well-reasoned document and that France and Great Britain will be ready to compensate innocent neutrals for losses due to errors made by French and British ships. In concluding the editorial says: "Why, instead of witnessing the combat as simple spectators, do not third parties throw themselves upon the highway robbers who have assailed innocent passersby? They would thus better render homage to principle than by looking from right to left to see if there is not something to pick up."

SERBIA TO BLAME BULGARIA CONTENTS

Border Posts Fired Upon, Says Official Note From Sofia.

TURKS LED UPRISING

Serbia Believes More Attacks Are Being Planned Across Border.

LONDON, April 6.—The Bulgarian minister in London gave out today the text of a note from his government, disclaiming responsibility for the recent invasion of Serbia by a force described as Bulgarian irregulars. The note repeats in the main what has already been set forth in despatches from Sofia. It is said that the uprising was initiated by the Turks among the inhabitants of that part of Macedonia included in Serbia. These Turks rose in revolt, the note says, and fled to Bulgarian territory, pursued by Serbian troops.

Explanation Not Accepted.

In official Serbian quarters in London this explanation is not accepted. It is said that the official telegram received today "indicates that more attacks are being prepared on Bulgarian soil, with the immediate object of cutting off the supplies of the Serbian army." It is added that among the killed were not only Turks, but Austrians, and that on the bodies of the dead were found documents showing the purpose of the invasion.

Drug Clerk Tells How To Cure Indigestion

Recommends to Sufferers the Best Stomach Remedy in Toronto Today. "It is a wonder some of us have stomachs left," remarked a well-known drug clerk recently. "Why all drug stores sell a score or more of stomach remedies for which there is a wide demand, most of them are just peppin pills, which aid digestion of the food that is in the stomach at the present time. They have no curative or strengthening effect on the stomach at all, and, of course, do not reach or cure the cause. So the same people keep on coming here and buying and using them until they are real chronic dyspeptics. When anyone really asks my advice, I swear by and recommend ordinary, natural magnesia, which doesn't irritate the food at all, but acts as an antacid and sweetens the sour, fermenting contents of the stomach. That stops the pain, heartburn, sour rising, wind, bloating, fulness, etc., in just a few minutes, and the stomach digests its food without help or trouble, which is the proper way."

Beer is a Temperance Drink

Beer, ale, and stout are low in alcoholic strength. They are mild and wholesome, a person would have to drink them to gluttonous excess before he could become intoxicated by them.

As Mr. David Lloyd George, The Chancellor of the Exchequer in England says:

"Beer in alcoholic strength is just a little above ginger ale."

Throughout the world, and throughout the history of the world, mankind has demanded some stimulant property in its liquid food—even the tea drinker wants it. The desire is material and innocent.

It is not to be crushed as essentially evil, but rather to be guided in such a manner as will eliminate the chances of abuse.

We should, therefore, encourage the use of a beverage which, while providing the desired stimulant, will provide it in such a diluted form as will remove the danger of excess—a beverage which will at the same time contain healthful properties.

Cosgraves Mild Chill-Proof Pale Ale, Half-and-Half, XXX Porter, and Golden Gate Beer (draught) fulfill these conditions.
