A Superb Selection of Plain, Striped and Tapestry Wall Papers

"Give us plain wall-papers," cry the decorators who scheme out backgrounds for charming rooms. And lo, in this big springtime showing of papers a perfect avalanche of fascinating plaster effects, plain painted papers, grass cloth and imitations thereof, also interesting fabric-like productions! Grey, buff, biscuit, amber, willow blue and wood browns are the colors in chief vogue, both in the papers described, and also in the jasper and little self-tone stripes which are such near relatives to the fashionable plain wall effects. And when papers are not plain they are generally tapestries and verdure—often so, in fact, when large, light dining-rooms and halls call for treatment. Washable papers in block and tile effects offer themselves in immense variety for bathrooms, kitchens and pantries.

Bedroom Papers and Cut-Out Borders, Half-Price

Very few and far between are the opportunities of securing wall paper at half price in these days of increased cost, and when it is paper of this description, such an offering is extraordinary indeed! The papers are extremely dainty—tiny flowered effects in pink and blue, in rose and grey, in grey and yellow; pretty two-color stripes in blue, green, or grey; the popular crash and linen weaves in soft grey and fawn shades. Think of the dollars you can save by choosing your paper from among this half-price offering, but remember, it will soon disappear, so come early. Special, per roll..... 12 1/2

Cut-out borders to go with the plain designs among these papers, are obtainable in very pretty designs in rose, blue, yellow and tan, rose and grey, yellow and green. These also are half price at, per yard..... 7 1/2

Much That is New and Lovely in Fabrics for Curtains and Coverings

The aesthetic soul will find a happy hunting ground in the drapery department. Despite the difficulties that attach to the making and procuring of chintzes and similar fabrics at the present time, our buyers have gathered together a splendid showing of new designs for simple and elaborate plans of furnishing—smart little formal patterns for small rooms; big picturesque effects for studios, tea rooms and the like, and beautiful old-time, bird-and-flower decked linens for lordly living rooms and dainty drawing rooms. Velours, too, will occupy a prominent place in the display, being so much in demand these days for the covering of arm chairs and Chesterfields. The ever popular casements cloths in their usual rainbow of cheerful pinks, greens, and blues, and filet and lock-stitch nets are other attractions on the program.

Swiss Net and Nottingham Lace Curtains, Greatly Reduced, Some Almost Half-Price.

Here is a golden opportunity, for the curtains are extremely effective and include many pretty new designs, and all are, even at their original markings, splendid value—less even than present mill price. The Swiss Net Curtains show effective borders and corners, most of them also have little sprays in well finished applique work. All are worked upon fine net and have neatly scalloped edges. Being made of a double net, they are particularly strong. The Nottingham Lace Curtains are in all-over effect, neatly woven, and all are reduced to, pair..... 2.95

Canadian and Imported Furniture for Every Room in House, Club or Hotel

"Verandah Comfort" is one of the slogans of the splendid display in the Furniture Building—everything to make the outdoor living-room comfy, convenient and charming. Hand-woven willow—brown, grey, ivory, blue or natural—composes some of the most inviting chairs and quaintest tables and stands. Sometimes they're cushioned in chintz of a gay, summery nature, and generally they include settees, low arm chairs, tea tables, stands for magazines, tabourettes, yea, even floor and table lamps. Featured, too, will be furniture from our own factories—Queen Anne and William and Mary designs in walnut and mahogany, Louis XVI designs in enamel, and Tudor and Jacobean designs in mellow brown oak. In material and workmanship it holds its own with the best importations from other lands—a fine tribute to Canadian cabinet makers. Needless to add that prices are considerably less. A new sofa for your living-room, a new dresser for your bedroom, a new table for your sun-room—whatever your need you'll find it easy to fill in this great exhibit of fine Canadian furniture.

Oak Extension Tables, Reduced to $14.50 and Mattresses to $8.90

Consider the cost of workmanship and material and you'll realize what splendid value is offered in these tables and what a grand opportunity is afforded of adding to your furniture at little cost. There are two designs (one is illustrated) in quarter-cut oak in golden and fumed finish, having 46-inch top with automatic lock and square pedestal base; extending to 6 feet. But 50 tables altogether, and since the saving is considerable, remember it would be well to come early. Reduced price, today..... 14.50

The mattresses, too, are extraordinarily good value and well worth an early visit to the Store. They are made of clean, sanitary and odorless felt, in layers (not stuffed), with 4 1/2-inch border, roll stitched edges, are closely tufted and well sewn, covered with strong fancy art ticking and are most comfortable. Sizes 3' 3' 6", 4' and 4' 6". Reduced price..... 8.90

Wilton, Axminster and Brussels Rugs in a Fine Array of Designs

Every year sees a lovelier patterning and mellower coloring on Wilton and Axminster Rugs. And this year do they prove most convincingly their right to a place in the most artistically furnished room. For truly a delight to the eye are the band-border Axminsters in plain old blue, soft, woody greens and browns, and deep coppery yellow—ideal foundation for the room with chintz curtains and covers. Very pleasing, too, are the Wilton reproductions of the fine old Persian designs, and the simplified adaptations thereof. As for the twelve-foot wide Axminster Carpet in sand or the fashionable taupe—'tis one of the most interesting items in this superb display of modern floor coverings. The clever decorator is employing some of his very pet schemes this season. For bedrooms, sitting-rooms, and halls, of simple furnishings, will be found Brussels Rugs in most attractive conventional designs in two-tone effects of the blues, tans, browns, and green of popular demand.

Clearance of Large Brussels Rugs, Reduced to $21.50

You may judge of the value when you learn that these rugs are all in size 9 x 12 feet, for under present conditions Brussels Rugs of that size and quality cannot be bought at the mill for the money. "Odd lines and discontinued patterns, they are to be cleared at many dollars less than the usual amount, so if you'd find the selection at its best, come early. Included are conventional and Oriental designs in greens and tans. Special price..... 21.50
