BLACK HAND OUTRAGE IN
NEW YORK TENEMENT
Bomb Exploded in Vestibule—No One Killed But Lives of Sick Children Endangered.
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Several people were thrown into a panic and the lives of several sick children were in danger by the explosion of a bomb about 10 feet from the vestibule of an East 75th Street tenement house early today. The bomb was thrown into the vestibule by a Black Hand man who was seen by the police sergeant on duty when he saw the spark as he was passing. The sergeant entered the hallway to investigate, but when he saw the bomb was about to explode, he fled to the street. He had barely reached the street when the explosion occurred. The vestibule doors were blown out, the ceiling fell and the windows in the front of the building smashed. The tenants fled to the street carrying a number of children ill with scarlet fever.

CHAPMAN REFUSES
AGITATOR'S REQUEST
Declines to Pray for Manna
for Boston's Unemployed

LESTON, Feb. 6.—Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, who is conducting evangelistic services in this city, today arranged to hold a conference on Monday afternoon next with Morrison I.
Swift, well known in this city as an agitator in behalf of the unemployed.
At the head of a small company of followers, Swift approached Dr. Chapman as the revival was about to enter Tremont Temple for the daily meeting, and asked him to read to the audience, which already had packed the great auditorium, a petition asking Dr. Chapman to pray "that manna be sent down from heaven" to feed the unemployed of Boston. He also asked the clergyman to devote next Sunday's services to the needs of the unemployed. Dr. Chapman declined to grant these requests, and also declined to permit Swift to speak to the unemployed from the Temple pulpit.
"For the man who is honestly out of employment I would give anything I possess if I could be of service to him personally and to any other unemployed in this city. The heart of the church is with the man who is unfortunate."
Tremont street in front of the Temple was crowded with the hour set for the daily meeting, and policemen were stationed at the doors to prevent the overcrowding of the structure.

How She Got Rid of Her Fat

Rango did it. No starvation diet, no exercise, no pills.
A Free Trial Package Will Convince You
A woman's form is essentially one of grace; the lines of beauty vanish as fat accumulates and instead of beauty we see bulk, and what was once fair becomes a fright.
Rango will reduce you. It is perfectly safe. You eat it like fruit or candy and easily and safely reduce your fat a pound a day.
For sale by all druggists at $1.00 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by The Rango Co., 338 Rango Bldg., De-

UNCLE SAM PLANS
TO GET 3,000 GOATS

Must be of Angora Variety and Able to Eat Anything
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—
"Wanted—By the United States Government, three thousand Angora goats, able to eat anything, from a red shirt or a dress to the bushy chaparral of the national forests, back to the three hundred year old alley goats of Jersey City, Hoboken and Harlem especially desired." This is the advertisement which may be looked for in the next few days, when the government has completed a scheme now being formed of herding out three thousand Angora goats on the bush covered foothills of California, and thereby protect the forests.

"Golden-Haired Boy" Story
False, Says Mrs. Lawson

Woman Suing Brooklyn Manufacturer for Divorce Says She is Prostrated by Publicity Given Affair PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—"I am as ill as I can be. The notoriety has almost killed me."
So said Mrs. Lena Lawrence Lawson yesterday when she was seen in reference to the divorce proceedings she has instituted against her husband, William M. Lawson, a wealthy Brooklyn manufacturer.
"I didn't think that there would be so much publicity about it, and I am sorry I came to Philadelphia," she continued. "I thought the case would be heard quietly before a master and that there would be no more of it.
Oh, I am just all broken up over it.
The papers haven't treated me right.
Mrs. Lawson has apartments at the Margrave, Twentieth and St. Johns streets, where she has been stopping since she came to Philadelphia to institute the proceedings for divorce.
Inquiry at the house yesterday brought the information that Mrs.
Lawson was in bed and very ill. The statement was also volunteered that she had been instructed by her attorneys not to discuss the case in any particular. Mrs. Lawson verified this when she was seen.
"I have been instructed by my attorneys both in New York and Philadelphia not to talk about the case until it comes up for hearing," she declared. "I'm too sick to be bothered, anyway."
"I think the papers have treated me shamefully. I didn't suppose that anything would be published, but I think they ought to tell the truth."
"It wasn't right to talk about a golden-haired boy. When there are plenty of servants in the house and a chef it is a nice thing to throw slurs about me having a boy for a cook."
"Is there any truth in the story of your relations with the golden-haired boy?" Mrs. Lawson was asked.
"Of course there is not. There is no truth in it whatever, and I am going to see my New York lawyers about it.
Something must be done. My lawyers in New York are Kenneth & Kenneth, at 229 Broadway. I have written them a letter, but they didn't get it until this morning."
"What charges have you brought against your husband in your present action?" was asked.
"I have charged him with cruelty and desertion," was the reply. "I am sure that will prove sufficient and I have no fear as to the outcome of the case."
"My husband began to treat me with cruelty shortly after we were married," continued Mrs. Lawson, "and when the trial takes place I will be able to prove this."

The fair plaintiff would not go into particulars as to what this treatment consisted of, but declared that there was enough evidence at the trial.
When asked about the charge of desertion she said:
"My husband left me five years ago in September. He deserted me, and I can prove it."
"It is said that he has an estate of $200,000. Is that true?" she was asked.
"It's a good deal nearer $1,000,000," she answered.
"In your action for divorce will you attempt to get what you consider your share of his money?" she was asked.
"I'll get my rights," was the reply.
"I am not worried about that. I'll get my rights when the case is heard."
"The notoriety that has been given this case has been very humiliating to me," went on Mrs. Lawson. "I don't think that I have been treated right.
My lawyers told me not to talk about this case and of course I can't, but I think that the newspapers should not say things about me which are not true. I would just like to know who gave out the statement about the boy story. If true, true and no one has any right to say it."
"I am not a resident of Philadelphia," she said, "and I am sorry I came here. I wouldn't have come at all if I had thought the matter would get into the papers. I am really sick, too. I have been in bed since the story came out in the papers and the notoriety has just about killed me. I can't see any one and I mustn't talk."
"Mrs. Lawson did not say how long she would remain in Philadelphia, but she would probably stay here until her case comes on for hearing.
The troubles of the Lawsons were first aired in 1905. Lawson, who is a wealthy yute manufacturer of Brooklyn, has sued for divorce three times since then. In the first suit Lawson obtained from the supreme court of Brooklyn an interlocutory decree of divorce. Mrs. Lawson having failed to defend the suit. Later, on her plea that she was innocent of the charges, the case was reopened and the jury refused to grant a divorce.
Some time later another action was brought and the jury in this case disagreed. In 1906 the father was awarded the custody of the two children, but in 1907 this decree was set aside after it had been shown that the parties had agreed to a separation and that the mother should have control of the children, the father having accused to them at all times.

AMERICAN WOMAN IS DIRECTING RELIEF WORK
At Syracuse—Men Clearing Streets and Women Making Garments.

ROME, Feb. 6.—According to a report received here from Edmund Billing, representative of the Massachusetts relief committee, Miss Katherine B. Davis of Mount Kisco, N. Y., is doing good work in relieving the sufferings of the Italian earthquake sufferers.
She has regiments of men working on the streets of Syracuse and women making clothing. Some of the men are provided with clothing and others with money. She has also organized collectors, and is thus providing the needy with shoes. The condition at Syracuse are much better for both the refugees and those in hospitals. Miss Davis was about at the end of her money, and was about to leave for Rome, but she is now supervising the making of a big consignment of underclothing.
Continuing Mr. Billings says they are putting a second story on a very substantial orphan's home, which when completed will provide accommodations for 125 orphans. The labor being supplied by the Messina refugees, and the town is giving the matter consideration.

Mother Gave Her
Child Away.

Had Given up all Hope of Living.
Heart Trouble was Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.
Mrs. Andrew Gandy, Gattana, N. B., writes:—"In the year 1905 I was taken sick and did not think I could live any length of time. My trouble was with my heart and people told me that nothing could be done for a case like mine. I consulted the very best doctors but they could do me no good. For seven weeks I could hardly cross the floor. I had no pain, but was so weak nobody in the world could believe how I felt. I had given up all hopes of living and had given my little girl to my sister-in-law.
"One day a friend came to see me, and called me by name, said, 'Lena, if I were you I would try a dose of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as they are good for heart trouble.' My husband got me a box, but for two days I was not feeling any better, but on the fourth day my husband said, 'I believe those pills are doing you good.' I was able to say, 'Yes, I feel a good deal better this morning.' He said, 'Well, I will get you another box right away.' I took two boxes and three doses out of the third one, and I was perfectly well and have not been sick since then.
"I will never be without them in my home for God knows if it had not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I would not have been alive now.
"Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25,

TOMMY RYAN, OF ST. JOHN,
MARRIED TO QUINCY GIRL

(Quincy, Ill. Journal, Jan. 31)
"Philadelphia Tommy" Ryan, pugilist and teacher of scientific boxing and physical culture, who is at present making his home in Des Moines, Iowa, arrived in this city yesterday and this morning announced that he had a match for a go to a fight with Miss Hattie Rottor, of this city, the final arrangement of agreement to be signed tomorrow morning. The pair have been teaching for several years, or ever since Tommy first came to Quincy to promote boxing and wrestling courses and to teach physical culture, in the act of which he is an adept.
Close friends of both have noticed that Tommy was becoming more aggressive of late and the news that he had crowded Miss Rottor against the ropes and secured a favorable decision from Dan Cupid, the ever present referee, was rather anticipated.
The marriage will take place at St.
Francis church tomorrow morning, respective of the bride sitting as groom-smen and bridesmaids. At noon the couple will depart for Des Moines, Iowa, where Mr. Ryan conducts a physical culture school. Probably in the evening the couple will return to Quincy to take up their residence here. Mr. Ryan opening a school here.

REPORT OF FREE KINDER-GARTENS FOR JANUARY

In Portland Street Kindergarten in January, there were forty-five enrolled, and although some mornings were very cold, there was a large average attendance. The Little New Year was the first subject and then talks of the bright sun, the moon and stars were followed by division of time into night and day. The story of the long night led them to the lanes of the East main. The pleasures and uses of snow were talked of—the protection afforded the roots and seeds, etc., and the boys of the Department had the thought of to the woman glad to get his legs to the river-bank.
"The Land a Hand Circle" of the King's Daughters are supplying this kindergarten with a lunch of bread and milk which is served at eleven o'clock each morning. A mothers meeting was held and questions of cleanliness and punctuality, etc., were discussed.
There are six young ladies in the training class under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Matthews.
In Waterloo Street Kindergarten the enrollment for January was forty-two.
Chickens has made the average here smaller than usual and some are obliged to wear home because they have no boots or rubbers. Time has been the topic here also—the calendar, the clock, etc., were talked of, with the moon and stars. Then came the uses of snow and the woodman.
One morning I visited there was a large attendance. Miss Miller and her assistant seemed very happy in their work. A gift lesson on the first gift of six colored balls I found instructive and enjoyable. The little ones were delighted to sing the motions of the balls and at the close of the lesson (unconsciously learning all about motion and rest) sang the balls to sleep. There was a fourth gift lesson given also to the larger children while I was present. I saw also a new sliding game and heard some new songs.
In Brunel Street the attendance has been smaller because of chicken-pox and colds. There were twelve cases of chicken-pox at one time and this room has not been as warm as it should be during the last month of January.
Here also, the New Year with its clean page and all its possibilities was taken as the first subject, followed by talks on light—the sun by day and the moon and stars by night with the occupations to illustrate. The gift lessons to impress the thought and the occupations express those impressions.
The woodcutter and carpenter were the trades particularly emphasized here.
More volunteer assistants are needed at the Brunel Street Kindergarten.
Any lady who can give an hour or more one morning a week will be cordially welcomed.
Visitors are invited to write their names in the book provided for that purpose.
The donations and subscriptions during the month of January have been acknowledged and exceeded the expectations of the association.
