By the exercise of the greatest possible tact the government officials have practically destroyed sectional feeling and there is no longer any doubt that Her Majesty will be welcomed with an enthusiasm equal to, if not greater, than that which was displayed during her recent visit to London.

A HAT SOCIAL. Novel Entertainment at McAdam Junction-Personal Items.

McAdam Junction, April 2.—The ladies of the Union church held a hat social and fancy sale on Wednesday evening last. A sumptuous supper was provided. The hats were auctioned and the gentleman who won the prize for the best trimmed hat was C. Thompson. The fancy table was well patronized. About $65 was realized. The proceeds will go towards seating Union church with pews instead of chairs. Mrs. Lacy and Mrs. Matthews, of Clarendon Station, are visiting friends at McAdam.

Rev. Mr. Lucas, field secretary, was in McAdam on Friday and held two meetings in aid of Sunday school work.

Canadians who are in the habit of visiting this city know of the Boston Music IIall and the associations connected with it. It is to be remodelled inside at considerable cost and made a valuable addition to the many amusement houses of round the old place. It has been used for many kinds of diversion lately. Boxing exhibitions have been given in it, political meetings, concerts, and in the summer promenade concerts with a German beer garden thrown in. It was in this old hall the ball was given in honor of the Prince of Wales when he visited Boston in 1830. Fine lectures have been delivered in it, and addresses from people meminent in

Mrs. Gardiner's collection is very rare and unique, and the paintings, of which there are many, are unsurpassed in beauty and excellence. Mrs. Gardiner is a lady of generous impulses, very much devoted to art, an a zealous patron of music and the the drama. She is fond of playing the role of Lady Bountiful, and has taken many a poor struggling art st under her wing and started him on a career.
