LOCAL PAPER ADVERTISING
The Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation, of London, one of the largest financial institutions in Western Ontario, pays the following tribute to results obtained by advertising in the weekly press of the country.
In a letter to its Petrolia agent, A.
A. Dewar, it says: "People in the smaller towns read their local newspaper more thoroughly than in the larger places, especially the weeklies. We are convinced of this and would like if you will arrange for the enclosed reading notice. While we cannot undertake a general campaign at present, we feel the results from the advertising will warrant the expenditure." — Petrolia Advertiser-Topic.

BRUCE McALPINE

DISTRICT AND GENERAL

In two counties of Florida more than 5,000 signboards have been removed to allow the natural beauty of road travel to be apparent.

Canada has one mile of railway to every two hundred and twenty persons, a larger mileage in proportion to population than any other country.
A Canonsburg, Pa., man lost his watch 14 years ago, while he was plowing. Last week a woman on his farm found the timepiece in a big potato she was peeling.

An inscription placed below the picture of a rooster in a tavern room recently excavated at Pompeii, Italy reads as follows: "When this rooster crows we'll give credit."

Edward Hunt, of Mount Brydges, fell from the roof of a barn on the farm of J. Bailey, near Etonia, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull.
Death was instantaneous.

A cow, which a Gouverneur, N. Y., man was transporting in his motor truck, leaned over the seat and licked his face. He lost control and the truck overturned in the ditch.

Nearly 100 head of cattle and 50 pigs were killed or so badly injured that they had to be destroyed when a stock train left the tracks on the C.N.R. at Malton, near Toronto.

The rush to secure permits at the Customs Office in Chatham since the recent plebiscite has boosted the number of home brewers in Keat county to approximately the 1,000 mark.

Nell F. Campbell and Duncan L.
McMillan, of Dunwich, in a suit for damage to farm property as a result of a fire which spread from the Pere Marquette tracks, were awarded $700 by a jury at the Elgin fall assizes.

A large barn, belonging to Charles Baynton, of Euphemia township, was destroyed by fire early Wednesday evening. Six hundred bushels of grain, a large number of chickens, harness and implements were all lost.

A workman tearing down an old building at Los Angeles found a watch buried in the concrete and which will still run. It was dropped by a cement worker 14 years ago, when the building was constructed.

A farmer near Orangeville was offered $21,000 for 2,000 pounds of ginseng which he has ready for sale.
Several other farmers in that vicinity have ginseng under cultivation, and it is expected two tons will be sold. The high price is due to the war in China.

Liquor seized by Inspector Walter Bolton, of the license department, in Middlesex county for the year ending October 31 is valued at $50,000, the inspector states. During the year, Mr. Bolton prosecuted 33 cases, fines levied being $10,000. During the past three months Mr. Bolton obtained 13 convictions out of 14 cases before the court. One man was committed, while the others paid out a total of $2,350 in fines.

HONOR BRIDE-ELECT
Mrs. Duncan Gillies, Mosa, entertained at a miscellaneous shower given on Friday evening in honor of Miss Lillian Waite, a bride-elect of October. A wagon well laden with gifts was drawn into the room by little Ruth and Janet Gillies. In a few appropriate words Miss Waite expressed her thanks to her friends for the many useful and beautiful gifts which she received. Lunch was served, and after singing "She's a Jolly Good Fellow" all returned home, having spent an enjoyable evening.

MUNRO-WAITE
The marriage of Miss Lillian Waite to Malcolm Munro, both of Mosa, took place on Wednesday afternoon, October 29, at the manse, Kilmartin.
Rev. D. Robertson officiated.

The bride looked charming in a gown of pearl grey silk canton crepe trimmed with silver beads and touches of old rose. She was attended by Miss L. MacGregor, of West Lorne, who wore a gown of apricot brocade silk crepe. The groom was supported by his brother, Duncan Munro.

Following the ceremony a dinner and reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Logan, the bride being the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Both Mr. and Mrs.
Munro are very popular, and they have the best wishes of the community for a long and happy married life.
They will reside on the groom's farm in Mosa.

Two Irishmen watching Shriners passed.
"Who are those fellows, Mike?"
"They are Shriners."
"And what are Shriners?"
"Why, they are Masons."
"Sure, and what the devil do they want now? They're gettin' $18 a day."

FUNERAL OF PETER McARTHUR

"Let me have a scarlet maple for the grave-tree at my head.
With the quiet sun behind it, in the years that I am dead."

So wrote Bliss Carman, premier Canadian lyric writer, but little did he think that he would be giving such a graphic word picture of the burial of his close friend, Peter Mc-Arthur.

As the remains of the "Sage of Ekfrid" were lowered into the grave in the quiet Ekfrid cemetery on Thursday afternoon the sun shone through the leaves of the scarlet maple which stands as a sentinel at the head of the grave, and is a fitting mark of the last resting-place of a man, and an outspoken exponent of thoughts of freedom, the simple life and Canadian advancement.

Particularly fitting, too, it seemed was the reading of the verses penned by Carman in his "The Grave-tree," and also the reading of one of Mr.
McArthur's own poems, "Life," during the brief funeral service at the old homestead. These two and the simple yet impressive burial rites of the Anglican church, read by Rev.
William Willans, rector of St. John's church, Glencoe, constituted the funeral ceremony. Simple in his tastes and habits of life, the last rites were simple, as he would have had them.

The bier was banked with scarlet maple leaves and pines gathered from trees which had been planted by the now silent philosopher and which had shaded and protected the tent in which he spent so many of his work hours.

Tribute to the memory of one beloved by all who knew him was shown by a funeral cortege which extended from the bereaved home to the graveside, a distance of nearly two miles. Further expression of tribute was the stream of telegrams of condolence which reached the family, Premier King and Bliss Carman being among those who so showed the personal loss felt. Floral tributes, numerous and beautiful, were silent expressions of heartfelt sympathy, and brought to the bereaved ones a measure of surcease from their sorrow when they realized that many mourned with them, even though the loss did not affect their personal households.

Among those who stood with bared heads beside the grave were many prominent in newspaper and periodical publications. They had been associated in life and active work with one whom they had learned to love, respect and admire for his forcefulness and determination for his sincerity in the causes which he espoused, for his unflinching battles for the better things in life, and for his characteristic writings which carried to thousands ideas and ideals which tended to encourage a closer walk with nature.

Silent came the folk from the countrywide to do tribute to one who had espoused their cause and had been their advisor and friend; silent came the men from the busy and noisy marts and the turbulence of city activities in honor of one whose opinions they valued and whose friendship they cherished as a possession seldom found in life. Recently they joined in the last rites that can be performed in this world, and as they dispersed to their several homes and to resume the activities of daily life, they one and all felt the definite inspiration of the remembrance of one whose life was an encouragement to those who in-hored, and whose every thought and action emphasized the value of friendship.

The acting pallbearers were J. C.
Elliott, K.C., ex-M.P.P., London; W.
D. Moss, Glencoe; David McArthur and Martin Johnson, Ekfrid; John McKellar, Sault Ste. Marie, and Randolph Churchill, London. Honorary pallbearers were H. C. McLeod, Montclair, N.J.; Prof. G. E. Day, Guelph; Charles M. Macfie, Appin; Arthur E.
Sutherland, Glencoe; William Deacon, Toronto, and Stewart Lyons and John Lewis, of the Toronto Globe.

Among the floral tributes were wreaths of other designs from the Masonic Lodge at Niagara Falls of which Mr. McArthur was a member, from the Globe staff, the London Press Club, the Glencoe High School and the Glencoe Book Club.

Besides his wife and family of four sons and one daughter Mr. McArthur is survived by two brothers and two sisters—John, of Boston, Mass., and Duncan, Catharine and Mrs. Brown, of Ekfrid.

The fair grounds at Wallaceburg are to be sold. The society is facing a big deficit following the recent fair.
The six years old son of James Olson, a London teamster, was fatally burned while playing near a fire of leaves.

BADLY HURT IN CAR CRASH

Graham McDonald, 18 years old, of Middlemiss, is in a critical condition at Victoria Hospital, London, from injuries received in an automobile accident on Sunday night.

McDonald suffered a broken jaw, a fracture at the base of the skull and other severe injuries when the car which he was driving ran against a telephone pole. Refusal of the steering gear to function properly is given as the cause of the mishap. William Trestain, of South Ekfrid, who was riding with McDonald, escaped with a shaking up.

McDonald and Trestain are students of the Glencoe high school. At the recent W.O.S.S.A. field day and track meet they were winners in many of the events. Trestain was spending the week-end with McDonald at the latter's home in Middle-miss, Sunday evening they drove to Lawrence in McDonald's car to visit friends, and it was while returning about 11 o'clock that the accident occurred. Both were rendered unconscious, but Trestain "came to" shortly after the accident and walked a mile and a half for assistance.

McDonald was rushed to the hospital where an X-ray was taken to determine the extent of his injuries.
For a time it was thought that he might recover, but he is still unconscious and a report received yesterday at noon gives no hope.

LOWER PRICE FOR SUGAR

A marked reduction in the price of sugar is anticipated by officials of the Dominion Sugar Company at Chatham.

The sugar market, it is pointed out, is in a weakened condition at the present time. The Ontario beet crop is unusually heavy. A tremendous sugar beet crop has been harvested in Europe, and considerable cane sugar is available in Cuba.

"With these conditions existing the price of sugar is sure to be considerably reduced," said one official.
Asked if the condition of the market would have any effect on the price which farmers will receive for their sugar beets, the official stated that the rate of pay would not be as high as that of last year.

DEATH OF MRS. TWISS

After an illness extending over a period of several months there passed away at her home, second range north, Ekfrid, near Glencoe, Saturday morning, Mrs. Twiss, wife of Robert C. Twiss, in her 69th year.

Mrs. Twiss was well known and highly esteemed in the community.
She was formerly Miss Jennie Trus-ler, of Forest, and prior to her marriage taught the school in S. S. No.
5, Ekfrid.

Surviving are her husband, one son, Alfred, electrician, of Niagara Falls, and four grandchildren. Mrs.
Twiss also leaves two sisters in Forest, Miss Clara and Miss Adeline; Mrs. Brown, a sister, in Leamington, and a brother and sister in the West.
Funeral services were conducted at her late residence on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. A. S. Whitehall, pastor of the Glencoe Methodist church, and interment was made in Oakland cemetery.

APPIN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Appin branch of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs.
Charles M. Macfie. In the absence of the president the first vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Allan, presided and after the usual business routine a pleasing piano selection was given by Miss Helen Macfie, Dr. J. H. A.
McDonald was the speaker for the afternoon and gave an interesting and instructive address on "Health." Mrs. L. D. Galbraith was appointed the delegate to the W. I. convention and Mrs. J. W. Macfie also expressed her intention of being present. Over 30 members were in attendance besides some visitors and children.
Those assisting Mrs. Macfie as hostesses were Mrs. D. McIntyre, Mrs.
John Fletcher and Mrs. Daniel McIntyre.

BEREAVED FAMILY'S GRATITUDE

Dear Mr. Sutherland: Such wonderful kindness came to us from far and near that I would like, through you, to give expression to the gratitude of myself and children. I would greatly prefer to thank all personally, but as I cannot I would like them to know what a wonderful help kindness and friendship have been.

Very sincerely yours,
Mabel McArthur.
Ekfrid, November, 1924.

TOWN COUNCIL

At the regular monthly meeting of the Glencoe council on Monday evening the following members were present:—Allan McPherson, reeve; George F. Munroe, Neil McAlpine, G.
A. Parrott and Samuel Irwin, councillors.

On motion of Messrs. McAlpine and Irwin a number of accounts for work on streets, drainage work, etc., were ordered to be paid.

On motion of Messrs. Parrott and Munroe the public library was given $178, balance due from assessment of one mill.

It was moved by G. A. Parrott, seconded by Neil McAlpine, and carried, that this council place itself on record in favor of enforcing the Ontario Temperance Act regardless of any person.

The Siddall-Wright drain by-law was finally passed.
Roy Siddall's account, amounting to $201.50, for 33 cords and 76 feet of gravel at $6 per cord, was passed for payment.

A PECULIAR FIRE

A Chatham paper says:—Herb Wilson, of Chatham township, was the victim of a very unusual circumstance yesterday. He came to the city to attend service in the Blessed Sacrament church. He drove his horse into the barn at the rear of the church, and left it attached to the buggy in which were a buffalo robe and an overcoat.

Evidently Mr. Wilson neglected to knock the ashes out of his pipe before putting it in his overcoat pocket for when he returned to the barn after the service he found that there had been a fire.

The entire front of the body of the buggy was burned away, leaving only the top and the seat. Old Dobbin had evidently been having a hot time of it, but escaped with only a singled tail.

Some of the neighbors had smelled the smoke, and had arrived on the scene in time to put out the fire before it reached the horse.

Mr. Wilson presented a humorous spectacle as he started out for home.
The buggy was minus the dashboard and floor, and the horse was minus a few tail hairs, but otherwise everything was O. K.

A HALLOWE'EVEN EVENING

Ekfrid, Nov. 5.—A legion of ghosts sallied forth from near and far and met at S. S. No. 4. Standing to be measured as you entered the door, you were admitted when you had paid two cents for each foot that you were tall.

Once inside you were greeted by ghosts tall and short, old and young, garbed in ghostly garments. Hallowe'en decorations lent picturesqueness to the gay scene. Lights shone sparingly from Jack-o'-lanterns, making it more spooky and weird. One felt a protection in their masquerade costume, else that glance for an expectant ghost or that creepy sensation of the smothering of a scream would be disastrous. Here we were reminded of the ghosts that Bobby Burns tells about in "Tam o' Shanter."

The grand march was called, and conspicuous among the fete of ghosts were the many clowns who still are circus acrobats. Back to earth we came for this night only in the year the big darty from Africa, the Jap, Uncle Sam, the Red Cross nurse, Sister Rachel, the sedate lady, the sport, the bathing beauty, the minister, the undertaker, an Irish miss wearing the green and shamrock, the boy scout, the gypsy, the dude, black witches and white witches and the spectre cow so faithful here on earth. The ghosts came here to sing and play the community games, and all did justice to the dainty lunch of pumpkin pie, sandwiches, cake and tea. After lunch the guests frolicked and danced while the Ingelhart and Welch orchestra furnished excellent music. The merry-makers expressed themselves as having a very enjoyable evening, due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. D. McCall and the assisting committee.

MIDDLESEX HOGS FIFTH

Middlesex County captured its first prize in hog competitions on Friday, when the carload selected by J. P.
Andrew were awarded fifth place at the competition in Toronto. The win was a most popular one, according to Mr. Andrew, who attended.

Middlesex secured fifth place from among twenty entries. In previous years hogs from this county have made a rather poor showing when competing with swine from other counties.

Both Mr. Andrew and Mr. Finn, officials of the local agricultural office, were well pleased with the result.
