

INDEX

- Birds named:
 Swallow, 202.
 Thrush, 202.
 Veery, 65.
 Vireos, 271.
 Water-thrush, 271.
 White-throat, 65.
 Wood thrush, 65.
 Wren, 65.
 Yellow-throat, 201, 271.
 Yellow warblers, 109.
- Black, William: his knowledge of angling, 168.
- Blackmore, R. D., 162; fishing described by, 167.
- "Book of the Black Bass," 163.
- Borgund: church at, 186.
- Boyle, Hon. Robert, 160.
- Brogue: as an ornament of speech, 78.
- Brook: a lazy, idle, 216; in the power, 217; considered as a sign, 221; the lesson of a, 226; fishing in a, 231.
- Browsing: a diversion for anglers, 86.
- Burroughs, John, 153.
- Butler, Dr. William: his pleasant saying about the strawberry, 80; his character as a physician and a philosopher, 90-91.
- "By Meadow and Stream," 162.
- Byron, Lord: a detractor of Walton, 151.
- Camp-fire: the art of kindling a, 246.
- Camping: pleasures of, 19.
- Cannon Mountain, 205.
- "Chalk-Stream Studies," 160.
- Chance: a good word with a bad reputation, 12.
- Chatto, William Andrew, 144, 162.
- Cheerfulness: a virtue in good talk, 79.
- Christian character: illustrated, 34.
- Civilization: a nervous disease, 222.
- Cleopatra, 164.
- "Cloister and the Hearth, The," 117.
- Colquhoun, John, 158.
- Conversation: compared with talk, 15.
- Cook: a good, 251.
- Cooking-fire: the art of kindling a, 250.
- Cotton, Charles, 57, 155.
- Crinkle-root, 87.
- "Crocker's Hole," 162.
- Crosby, Chancellor Howard: a good talker, 72.
- Davy, Sir Humphry: alighted by Christopher North, 159.
- "Days in Clover," 162.
- Days: Superstitions about them, 7.
- Dennys, John: "The Secrets of Angling," quoted, 152.
- DePeyater, Mr. and Mrs.: the success of, in the art of the angler, 125.
- De Quincey, Thomas, 155.
- Deucalion: the first artistic fisherman, 5.
- Dickinson, Emily: quoted, 97.
- Drivstuen, 194.
- Eagle Cliff, 203.
- Elizabeth, Queen, 91.
- Elk: the Tarn of the, 192.
- Emerson, Ralph Waldo: quoted, 119.
- English sparrows: beasts, not birds, 64.
- "Essays Critical and Imaginative" of Christopher North, 159.
- Etnadal, 183.
- "Ettrick Shepherd," the, 57.