HILL ON PAIN.

PAIN AND ITS INDICATIONS. By Edward C. Hill, M. D., Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology, Denver and Gross Medical College.

Pain, from the standpoint of the patient, is the most important of symptoms. To recognize its cause and give relief is the first duty of the physician.

Dr. Hill has written what may be considered an "encyclopedia of pain," enabling the physician to trace this symptom to its origin and then suggesting the indicated remedy or remedies.

This work has been carefully classified, so as to present the facts in the most available form for the physician's use.

It will be found a valuable work of reference and an indispensable vade mecum in the treatment of this symptom.

It abounds in valuable prescriptions, garnered from many sources.

Treatment, as a matter of fact, occupies a very important part, it being the object of the author to point out the indications through which the cause of each and every pain can be reached, so as to effect a cure when possible, as well as to indicate the remedies of most value in each individual case, to be used for the purpose of giving relief.
