

SEMI-CENTENNIAL

GIFT ENTERPRISE

GIFT FROM

P. JAMIESON,
THE CLOTHIER OF CANADA.

At an enormous expense we have secured the pure-bred pony, "Oscar Wild," imported direct from the Shetland Isles by Ex-Alderman Hallam, on his recent tour in Europe, also the beautiful chaise, harness, whip, cushions, lamps, mats, etc., etc., made specially for the Handsome Oscar.

This elegant gift, valued at $350.00 we will give to the lady or gentleman customer who guesses at the nearest number of buttons in the vase.

That is, every customer who purchases goods to the value of $5.00 is entitled to register his or her name in a book, provided for the purpose of keeping a record of each person's skill, and receive a duplicate of his or her guess, purchasers of $10.00 worth of goods 2 guesses, $15.00 3 guesses, and so on.

A committee of five reputable citizens have put the buttons in the vase and placed their seal thereon, the vase will be opened by the same citizens and the buttons counted at a Grand Orchestra Concert to be held at the Horticultural Gardens during Semi-Centennial week, whence the happy person can drive home in his or her own pony chaise.

Instead of spending all the money we intended for newspaper advertising, we have concluded to spend a portion of it in this manner, so as to do good to some one of our numerous patrons.

No matter how cheap you can buy

CLOTHING & FURNISHINGS,

JAMIESON WILL SELL YOU STILL CHEAPER.

It will pay you to walk 40 miles to buy your clothing and furnishings at

P. JAMIESON'S,
THE LIVE CLOTHIER OF CANADA.

Woman's Work.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

SEVERAL hours were spent very pleasantly by the members and friends of the Canadian Women's Suffrage Association, on Friday the 4th ult., at the house of Mrs. W. B. Hamilton. The occasion was the presentation of a farewell address and a copy of The History of Woman Suffrage, to the past President of the Association, Mrs. McEwan, who, together with her husband and children, is about to proceed to the North-West.

The year of Mrs. McEwan's presidency was the first of the Association, and has been marked by an amount of success largely due to the energy and perseverance of that lady. She not only filled her presidential duties in an able manner, but also aided the passing of the Municipal Franchise for Women Bill through the Ontario Legislature, by the careful and indefatigable attention which she bestowed on those outside details, which are at once so trying and yet so necessary to a due consideration of the subject, by the supporters of a Bill in the House. Her uncompromising and constant efforts on behalf of University co-education, and her laborious endeavours for the success of the Toronto Women's Medical College, are also thankfully acknowledged by Mrs. McEwan's co-workers and friends, and it was felt that some recognition of her labours would be but a graceful act on their part on the eve of her departure from among them.

The newly-elected President of the C. W. S. A., occupied the chair, and in a few words mentioned the object of the meeting, which was to do honour to one who had performed her arduous duties in a highly satisfactory manner, and to send her on to her new sphere cheered and encouraged by the good wishes of the friends she was leaving behind. Mr. William Houston, one of the vice-presidents, read and presented the address to Mrs. McEwan, expressing at the same time his earnest sympathy with the objects of the Association of which he is a member, and speaking warmly in praise of Mrs. McEwan's work on their behalf, as also on behalf of University co-education.

Mrs. McEwan, who was received with much applause, thanked the friends of the cause of Women's Suffrage for their address and present, which was entirely unexpected on her part, and in moving terms referred to the delight she had experienced in seeing the great success of her labours, which she had made as much her daily duty as those domestic ones she owed to her family. After reiterating her well-known views on the matter of University and school co-education, Mrs. McEwan asked the kind sympathy of all present on behalf of the Toronto Women's Medical School, which, she said, she left as a bequest to those remaining.

By request of the members of the C. W. S. A., Mr. Houston was asked to testify to Mr. McEwan their appreciation of the unflinching and earnest support he had not only given his wife in her official capacity, but the cause which she and the Association to which they both belonged represented.

In a few feeling words Mr. McEwan thanked the Association for the compliment they had paid him, and also his wife, saying that the way to reach his heart was through her, and that whatever honour was paid to her was appreciated by him more warmly than any that could be done to himself. He also said that while the indefatigable efforts Mrs. McEwan had made on behalf of the causes they both loved were evident, none could testify so