Health Restored ALL RUN DOWN No Strength nor Energy Miserable IN THE EXTREME. HANDS COVERED WITH SORES. CURED BY USING Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Several years ago, my blood was in bad condition, my system all run down, and my general health very much impaired. My hands were covered with large sores, discharging all the time. I had no strength nor energy and my feelings were miserable in the extreme. At last, I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon noticed a change for the better. My appetite returned and with it, renewed strength. Encouraged by these results, I kept on taking the Sarsaparilla, till I had used six bottles, and my health was restored."—A. A. TOWNS, prop. Harris House, Thompson, N. Dak.

STOCK GOSSIP.

J. Weaver & Son, Chatham:—"We are well pleased with the result of our poultry advertisement in the ADVOCATE, and our supply of stock is about exhausted, except one pen of Spanish. In the fall we will be ready with a supply of young stock of all our varieties. The chicks look fine. We like the ADVOCATE; it is the leading paper of its class. Berkshires, writes Mr. J. C. Snell, "if not buying, are in steady demand, and our order list has been larger than usual at this season, and at satisfactory prices. Among recent shipments have been those to British Columbia, Manitoba, and New Brunswick, besides a number to the Southern and Western States. We have never had a better lot of young things, and we can supply pairs or trios not skin, having used three first-class imported boars. Good young boars fit for service are scarce, but we are making arrangements for an importation, in which these will be a specialty."

TAPE BROS. DUROC-JERSEYS. A member of our staff recently spent a night at the farm of Tape Bros., Ridgeville, and doing a season of successful business. The large herd, which are in fine condition, are nearly all living on fine fresh pasture along with a little supplementary feeding of shorts, etc. It is a pity that this valuable breed of swine is not better known in this country, as they have many grand qualities. While they are one of the very largest of breeds, they are not at all coarse, and they mature very early. One characteristic that impressed us favorably was their contentedness, which always tends to easy feeding. Another valuable feature is their prolificacy; their litters oftener number over than under a dozen; and we were shown a young sow, while there, that had two weeks previous to our visit brought forth seventeen vigorous youngsters. Such a circumstance as three litters in a year is not at all uncommon among them. This herd is well-known to all who have observed the breed at the large Ontario shows during the last two years, as they have been very successful winners. The present stock boar, Duke of Kent—10—is indeed a grand animal, as last autumn's contest proved. He took the first in the class for aged Duroc or Tamworth boar; also first for boar and four of his progeny, both the Toronto and London shows. He might be described as a big pig on short legs. He is deep, long, and is hammed to the hocks. The brood sows of the herd are the best that could be purchased from such noted American breeders as E. H. Small, and C. J. Stuckey, of Illinois. The seven brood sows which have litters now ready to wean are Duchess of Kent, Pansy Blossom, Daisy Blossom, Lady Blossom, and three young sows of the same breeding, most of which have been successful show-ring winners. We also noticed ten fall sows of 1894, the progeny of this foundation stock. There are also six fine young boars fit for service, which should be eagerly picked up to use on leggy sows to improve their pork-making qualities. We might mention that while the majority of the litters are from Duke of Kent, there are others from a noted boar, Sir John, so that pairs can be supplied not skin. During the last few months sales have been numerous and well spread out, extending from Prince Edward Island to Manitoba, and there is yet to be heard the first complaint from purchasers. Orders by mail will receive careful attention.
