QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

DOCKING HORSES—TUBERCULOUS HORSES.

1. Is there a law passed against docking horses or not?
2. Do horses take tuberculosis?
3. If mares are bred to a horse that has tuberculosis, will they be in danger of getting it, too?

YOUNG FARMER.

Ans.—1. None in this country that we know of.

2. Yes; but the disease is much more rare in horses than in cattle.

3. There would practically be no danger, though, of course, there is just a remote possibility of it.

STONE SILO.

1. I intend building a silo, and would like to know if it would be cheaper to build it of stone or cement, the stone being quite handy. The dimensions of the silo will be fifteen feet diameter by thirty feet high.

2. Would cement do in place of mortar for plastering crevices? Could small stones be placed in all spaces between the large stones?

3. Would it be advisable to begin the wall 1½ feet thick at bottom, tapering to a foot at top?

4. How deep is it necessary to dig for foundation?

H. L. C.

Ans.—1. If you could obtain the use of the steel curbs for building a cement silo, and have gravel reasonably handy, cement would probably be cheaper than stone, as so much less material is needed, walls being thinner, and no high-priced mason is required for the work, but stone silos have been built and used successfully.

2. Cement mortar would be preferable to ordinary lime mortar. Great care should be exercised to have all spaces filled. Small stones certainly can be used as fillers.

3. Stone silo walls should not be lighter than what you suggest. It will be needful also to have hoops of 1-inch iron imbedded in the walls, not more than four feet apart, to strengthen against outward pressure.

4. Down to solid earth. Have broad footing.

SPIDERS.

My wood-shed windows have been infested all summer with numerous large and small spiders (the latter by the hundreds), which continually cover the windowpanes and inside the whole window-frame with thick cobwebs. I have repeatedly killed all I could find, and destroyed their work, only to see them increase in numbers and size in a few days, and continue their work. The woodshed joins on to the summer-kitchen, but I have never seen a fly caught in the webs, so I wonder what the spiders live and increase so well on. Please give some simple home exterminator.

Ontario. A. C. C.

Ans.—We usually look upon spiders as useful creatures, inasmuch as they destroy large numbers of insects that are more or less injurious or annoying, and, therefore, we do not, as a rule, advocate their destruction. The only method that we know of by which our correspondent could get rid of them in his woodshed, would be to continue sweeping them off from the windows and crushing them under foot. Spiders lay an immense number of eggs, which they enclose in a silken cocoon. After some time the eggs hatch out, and the immediate neighborhood of the cocoon becomes covered with minute spiders. Like many other creatures whose food supply is precarious, they seem to be able to live for a long time without any nourishment. This may perhaps account for the absence of flies in the webs observed by our correspondent. If the building could be made air-tight, fumigation would destroy all the spiders, but that would be a troublesome and rather unnecessary operation. We do not think that at this late period in the year there will be any further increase in the numbers of the small spiders. C. J. S. BETHUNE.

The Dangers of Summer.

Many dangerous and distressing diseases prevail in summer and fall, and as they occur suddenly, often terminate fatally before aid can be had.

Complaints, such as Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera, Morbua, Cholera Infantum, Summer Complaints, etc., are quickly cured.

This wonderful bowel complaint remedy has been on the market for 64 years and it has been used in thousands of homes throughout the country during this time.

You do not experiment when you buy an old and tried remedy like this. Ask your druggist for Dr. Fowler's, and insist on getting what you ask for. Do not take some substitute which the unprincipled druggist says is "just as good." These cheap imitations are dangerous to your health.

Mrs. Jeff Flaherty, Belfountain, Ont., writes:—"In the month of September, last, my youngest child took Summer Complaint and the doctor had very little hopes for her. My neighbor told me to get Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so that night I sent my daughter to get it, and when she came home I gave the baby one dose, and in half an hour there was a change for the better, and after the third dose she was completely cured. We feel it is far and beyond any other remedy for Summer Complaint and besides it saves paying a doctor. I advise everyone to use it. Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Fowler's. The original and only Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., Price 35 cents.

"Mornin', sah! Mornin', said the aged darkey to a gentleman visiting the South. Then he added, 'Be you the gentleman over yonder from New York?'"

Being told that such was the case, the old darkey said, "Do you mind telling me something that has been botherin' my old haid? I have got a grandson—he runs on the Pullman cyars—and he done tells me that up thar in New York you all burn up youah folks when they die. He is a powerful bar, and I don't believe him."

"Yes," replied the other, "that is the truth in some cases. We call it cremation."

"Well, you suttently surprize me," said the negro, and then he paused as if in deep reflection. Finally he said, "You-all know I am a Baptist. I believe in the resurrection and the life everlastin' and the comin' of the Angel Gabriel and the blowin' of that great horn, and Lawdy me, how am they evah goin' to find them folks on that great mawmin?"

It was too great a task for an off-hand answer, and the suggestion was made that the aged one consult his minister. Again the negro fell into a brown study, and then he raised his head and his eyes twinkled merrily, and he said in a soft voice:

"Meanin' no offense, sah, but from what Ah have heard about New York, I kinder calculate they is a lot of them New York people that doan' wanten be found on that mornin'."
