LAWSON WAXES ELOQUENT.

Mr. Thomas W. Lawson has returned to Boston after a trip to Canada. "Opportunities," he said in an interview, "lie unheeded along the railroad tracks, on the mountain sides, in the gutters, crying to be snatched. Opportunities are as plentiful as the leaves upon the trees, as the fish within the bounding brooks, as the grass upon the earth. "Western Canada offers the greatest opportunities. Out there they have actually put into practice the things that I have been advocating for years in banking, in insurance, in taxation—in everything."

"Western Canada is being run for the people. The people will own Western Canada—all of the people, instead of one or two rich men."

"The wealth is in the land, and land is to be had for the asking. Let me give you an example of the opportunities. In nine days I was the recipient of 638 propositions, and every one of them A-1, gilt-edged, aged-in-the-wood propositions!"

"To tell you the truth, my head is so full of the West that there isn't room for much of anything else. To my mind, the far western United States and Canada—and especially Canada—is the most wonderful section of the world. When Horace Greeley told young men to go West, he was right. He would be right in exactly the same degree if he were alive and said the same thing. I say again that any young man who doesn't go to a ticket office and buy a ticket to the far west, with its glorious opportunities for the people—the masses—ought to be locked up, for he is committing a crime against himself."

RAILROADS AND FIRES.

New fire regulations in regard to railroad operation and construction have been passed by the provincial government of British Columbia. The first of the rules, to which the others are largely incidental, is as follows:

"During construction, the right-of-way of every railway shall be cleared of all trees, logs, brush and other perishable matter. Logs specially reserved to be made into ties, timber or cordwood must be removed within a reasonable time. All other inflammable material must be piled as near the centre of the right-of-way as possible without interfering with the construction of the roadbed, and burned under permit from the provincial fire warden. Before issuing any such permit the warden must be sure that ample precautions have been taken to render such burnings safe."

There are also provisions that every locomotive shall be equipped with an extension smoke box, fitted with netting mesh; that the ash pans on locomotives shall be covered with heavy sheet iron dampers, and that wire screens must be fixed in the windows of all smoking compartments from April to October, inclusive.
