A Difficult Problem for Slavery.

There is a process going on in the slave system of the south which has not attracted much attention, but is of great importance in its tendency. We allude to the gradual absorption of the lands and slaves in lower lands.

Maxims Lately Avowed by Romish Priests.

Under this head, the French correspondent of the New York Observer gives a long letter, from which we make the following extract:—'I have in my hands several recent letters of Bishops, of which I will give you a short analysis: it will be instructive to your readers:—' these Bishops facts—positive, numerous and striking facts—these facts have no weight with them. The Pope, being the ambassador of God, the Vice of Jesus Christ upon the earth, must necessarily be the best of princes: therefore he is so, is there not a wonderful proof? You will perhaps object that the Pope's own subjects—those who can best appreciate his temporal authority—despise and hate him subitly that they are only kept in obedience by foreign bayonets.

Conference Proceedings.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS.—The Thirtieth Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada commenced on the 6th inst. in the city of Kingston. On the 7th at about half-past ten o'clock the arrival of the Rev. Humphrey Pickard, D. D., and the Rev. James Sawhney, M. A., was announced. The Wesleyan Methodist Conference of the Eastern Provinces of British North America was announced. The Rev. Dr. Wood introduced the deputation of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada, and drew from the body of which they came to represent to the Conference. The Rev. Dr. Wood then addressed the Conference. Mr. Naraway, a minister of eighteen years standing, though apparently the junior of his colleagues by several years, his powerful physique, deep chest, large head, and massive brow, put him out as the orator. He is a man of strong affections and powerful feelings; he appears to possess a terrific imagination, coupled with a sound philosophy, large heart, and a heart that has been developed and matured by extensive culture. It is almost superfluous therefore to say that his address was characterized by all the elements of a true and manly eloquence.

Railroad Car for the Prince of Wales.—The editor of the Hamilton (C. W.) Spectator has suggested the railroad car divided for the use of the Prince of Wales and suite on the Great Western Railway. In its size and outside appearance the car will be similar to an ordinary first class car, except in its painting, a part of which will be the Prince of Wales' arms, and some beautiful panelling. The principal feature of the inside is the spaciousness, a large long bay window, and a large end and side partition of the room are richly ornamented with pediment, cornice, pilaster and entablature complete. The windows are surrounded by a silk upholstery panel, and are opening with drapery. Over the door at each end of the saloon is placed the Prince of Wales' coronet and saloon carved in wood. With this as its centre runs a fluted pilaster, which supports an extended fan, while in place of windows two large mirrors will be suspended each side of the doorway. The furniture will be constructed of hickory or birch maple, a third of these remain in the style of Louis XIV. and XV. Next to the saloon, on either side of the car, is the dressing room and wash room, which will be fitted up, with every regard to comfort and convenience. At the other end of the car is the ante chamber, 14 feet long. This room will be plainer than the principal saloon, but by no means deficient in elegance and taste.

Immigration.

Immigration.—A fine class of emigrants arrived by the 'Nova Scotian,' to the number of 263. Upwards of a third of these remain in Western Canada. Another vessel, with Norwegian, of a very respectable class, to the number of 350, arrived on Monday night. The destination of most of these is not yet fixed, and many of them will remain in Canada.
