FASHIONS FOR JUNE

WEDDING GOWNS AND OTHER FROCKS IN MONTH OF ROSES.

Presses Worn by a Charming Young Bride and Her Tiny Maid—Delight tul Morning Gowns and Tailor Cos-tumes in White and Light Linens.

Again preparations for the June eddings are being pushed along. The gown sketched is to be worn by a very youthful bride. It is therefore built n the filmiest and daintiest fashion in ucked white chiffon, flounced around the hem with exquisitely fine brusseli lace. A deep tucked collar edged with lace and an applique above finishes the upper part of the bodice. The bodice fullness at the front is pouched over a deep pointed satin belt. A lover's knot of orange blossoms is placed at the left side, a big loop of the flowers falling over the shoulder on to the train of white satin, which is lined with soft puffed chiffon. The veil will be arranged over a coronet of orange blossoms. A string of pearls will be the jewels and a shower of orchids the bouquet. For the pretty little girl bridesmaid has been prepared a frock in soft white silk, with insertions and edgings of valenciennes and a white satin sash. She will wear a large white chiffon hat with ostrich feathers The linen gown will be one of the popular features of the season, and every trousseau includes several speci-mens of it as morning gowns or as a tailor made summer walking dress. A modish model appears in the second cut. The attractive waist and the skirt with its deep flounces, surmounted with groups of horizontal tucks alternating with wide embroidery, show the effect that may be gained in a well cut, well made costume. Much variety is afforded in linens—some in colors showing fleck design of white, others bearing a woven spot, and all delightfully light and, eccording to the latest Fuling, far less crushable than the old time linens.

Hopsacking will again make good, hard wearing, utility costumes, and a new material appears in "fishing net," which is very sturdy and submits to almost any kind of handling. Delaines in pastel hues, delicious old French grays, ecru and biscuit rank among he practical things of the season. A French tailor costume of great chic is built in dark blue, trimmed with in-let embroidered cornflower blue cloth pastilles. And the latter color in way, one of the season's smart hues. Various tones of blue blending off to mauve and violet are introduced on almaure and violet are introduced on armost every smart cloth costume.

Fashionable loose mantles of decided convenience for the summer are chiefly made in light lawn soft cloths, smooth faced or fancy woven, and those very light tones are in the materials. AMY VARNUM.

A Good Idea.

It is a good idea to keep in one's purse a list of the more imperative needs of the house—viz, the quantity and color of furniture covering needed for a chair that must soon be reupholstered, so that when a suitable piece of cordusoy—which, by the way, wears like ison and is always handsome—or flax velours is found it need not be lost through a doubt of its availability.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely destrange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good four can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Chensy & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. Chenzy & Co. Testimonials free.

and Canadian Chambers. In the course of a brief address he said that unless science can show that vivisection is absolutely necessary the whole thing should be given up. He said that in his travels in Italy he had seen much cruelty to dumb animals, and found a general disregard of it on the part of officers of the law in that country; but the world moves, and better conditions can be looked for. Spesking for himself, he had never permitted the docking of tails nor the use of overhead checks on his own horses. He had known instances of habitual stumbling to be caused by a tight check-rein.

Painting the town red is not one of the cardinal virtues.

The knowledge of some people is about as useful as buried treasures.

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this dismay be inferred from the multitude of so-called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who used them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digection and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

It has cost Dr. Pierce $25,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Advisor, which have been applied for, This book of 1008 pages is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of malling and customs. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo.

FOR STREET WEAR.

Fashions In Motor Coats—Shirt Waist Suits as Popular as Ever.

For automobile and outing wear coats of mohair and shantung are the favorite materials. They are admirably suited for shedding dust. The mohairs have never before been manufactured in such silky materials as this year. The shantungs are heavier than last, and the favorite shades are ash gray, damson blue and willow green. The coat of natural colored silk, however, braid, has a very smart appearance

A CABRIAGE HAT.

Both black and brown taffeta coats are also being turned out for the same purpose.

The latest development of the sleeve frill is the employment of fine lace frills dyed to the exact shade of the gown. Chiffon is also largely used for sleeve frills.

Shirt waist suits will be more popu lar than ever, and these little one color costumes are infinitely more becoming than the light waist and dark skirt to the woman who is at all inclined to us and is sure to have many admirers, as it lends itself so admirably to the shaded petal trimming. Rose petals of silk or velvet are particularly effective. In the picture we have a dainty hat most suitable for carriage wear. It is of horsehair straw, draped with lace and a bunch of pink roses. JUDIC CHOLLET.

HINTS ON ECONOMY.

Last Year's Dresses Can Be Renovated-The Senson's Tailor Made. There is quite a pronounced fancy for simple gauze and muslin frocks for evening wear. Renovations this season are not hard to make. The principal difficulty comes in the skirts, which require more fullness, and often this may be ob tained by the addition of a front panel of embroidery, the same material being used to make the sleeves fuller. Sleeves are often plain to the elbow where they blossom out into many long frills of lace or accordion plaited chiffon. Wide collars of lace and embroid-ery cover a multitude of sins, not to speak of the ever present fichu. Skirts may be freshened up by the addition of ribbon ruching put on in a conventional design.

The tailor made frock is likely to

The tailor made frock is likely to prove the most expensive of the entire wardrobe, for it cannot even be partially made at home. The woman who cannot afford to invest much money in hers had better buy it ready made in some good shop.

It is no wonder the best tailor mades are expensive; they show such perfection of cut and such dainty touches in the way of handmade trimmings.

Lace stoles are mounted on chiffon and taffeta and make dainty neck pieces with which to replace the old fashioned boa. Chiffon, crepe de chine and mousseline are made up in dainty fashion with gauged centers of contrasting material. Ribbon is shirred and combined with chiffon and lace to form chic cape effects.

Pongee this season comes dyed in a variety of shades, including gray, a royal bine and a rich brown. It makes pretty cost, and skirt costumes and shirt waist costume dresses, and it wears well.

The picture represents a gown of cream veiling trimmed with dat tucken.

the Tears Flow and You Will Be All the Better For It. "A real good cry," said the facial artist, "ought to be as refreshing to the face as it is soothing to the feelings. And it would be, if women just understood how to manage it. In the first place, they should not try to repress their tears. This is a nervous strain, and nervous strains are produc-tive of wrinkles and that 'weary look' which adds years to a woman's age.
"Then crying and sniveling are going to rejuvenate us, madame," exclaimed the customer in astonishment as she turned the other cheek.

"Crying, yes; sniveling and moping, no," replied madame, proceeding with the patting and pinching, which were calculated to restore the lost roses of youth. "When from any cause the tear ducts fill, the tears should be allowed to flow gently and unrestrainedly over the face and fall into a hand-kerchief held beneath the chin to receive them. No attempt should be made to stop them halfway down or to mop them up as they leave the eyes, and; above all, they should never be sidetracked at the nose. The wiping and rubbing that result in swollen eyelids and red noses are not only un necessary, but as positively injurious to the complexion as the other method beneficial.
"You mustn't keep pumping up new tears by reminding yourself of all the mean things that made you cry at first. After the first tears have started just lie back and think over soothing things, all that is in your life that makes it full of sunshine and brightens it in spite of the present clouds. Don't work yourself up into a spasm of sobbing and shaking by being too sorry for yourself. Just get out your little 'banky,' put it where I told you and let the refreshing shower come, gently and steadily as the spring rains fall. Roses will bloom in your cheeks and lips afterward instead of on your nose, and if there are violets in your eyes they will come out brighter and fresher than ever."

AN ARTISTIC MANTEL Good Results Obtained From an Old

Mahogany Bed. Here is an ornamental mantel made from an old mahogany bed. As will be seen from the illustration, the posts form a support for the lower shelf. The latter (unless part of the bed can be used, which is quite possible) must be of wood stained and polished to match the old wood, but it need not if the footboard of the bed is used, and effective it is if the carving on i s handsome. It may of course be shortened to fit the mantelpiece and finished at each end with a neat wooden beading to match. Above the footthe mantelshelf. The shelf above, when graced by large effective pots in earthenware or metal, china bowls. etc., and the lower one by smaller household gods, a clock and other odds and ends, present an appearance which few other mantelpieces attain, at a cost which, given the bedstead, certainly is less than half that of a modern handsome erection. Do not paint or enamel the wood. Oil it.

To Roast Coffee at Hon It is some trouble to roast coffee in the house, but the result more than the house, but the result more than pays for the trouble. Buy the green coffee in any quantity, just so it is not too large, and roast it a pound at a time. One expert puts the beans in a common iron spider, with a tailespoonful of butter, and stirs over the fire until the coffee is quite hor. It is then put in a shallow baking ban in a hot oven and roasted to a dark chestnut brown, stirring well from time to time to prevent burning and also to allow the beans to brown evenly on all sides. The odor of the roasting coffee is delicious, and, by the way, acts as a clearing agent, rendering the atmosphere clean and fresh after the fragrance has disappeared. Never grind more coffee than is needed for a single brewing, as the bean loses strength after grinding.

Lemon Pudding.

Lemon pudding is an economical dessert and a very good one withal. Have a pint of breadcrumbs, a quart of milk, a cupful of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, a tablespoonful of butter and the grated rind of a lemon. Mix these and bake in a porcelain shallow dish. Whip the whites of the eggs stir, with four tablespoonsful of powdered sugar and a tablespoonful of lemon fulce. Spread this ever the pudding for a meringua, browning in the even.

Trees and Rainfall.

Some persons sak if trees affect rainfall. That question is one on which foresters differ, but the large majority. are satisfied they do induce rainfall.
Vonmulere, Schenck and many others are emphatic in the claim that forests induce rainfall. It is certain they retain humidity to a great extent, and that alone would affect the rainfall; but the point on which all agree is the value of forests for the conservation of water, preventing floods or drought distributing the water evenly the whole year. It is a matter of history in foreign countries that when forests have been destroyed the rainfall has been greatly lessened and more spas modic.—T. P. Lukens in Maxwell'
