

THE WHITE RIBBON.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Conducted by the Ladies of the W. C. T. U.

OFFICERS.

President—Mrs Trotter. Vice-Presidents—Mrs Hemmison, Mrs Chambers.

Recording Secretary—Ernie Bishop. Cor. Secretary—Mrs McKenna. Treasurer—Mrs Forsythe.

Next meeting in Temperance Hall, Thursday, May 25th, at 3.30 p.m.

"They Will Be Done."

We are not, know not; all our way lies with these things in day.

We take with solemn thankfulness our burden up, nor ask it less;

"Have Faith in God."

Often God seems to place His children in positions of profound difficulty.

Food Waste vs. Liquor Produce.

This particular phase of the drink problem is not new, but heretofore has not been given adequate thought by temperance advocates.

Nearly a hundred years ago John Wesley gave as one main reason why food was so scarce and dear, the consumption of grain in distilling.

The London Times speaking on the subject says:

"It is far too favorable a view to treat the money spent on alcoholics as if it were cast into the sea."

"It shall be done," replied the doctor; and with his cane, he smashed the wine canteen which stood on the table.

The Influence of Habit.

ALL IMPORTANT IN CHILDHOOD FOR DEVELOPING PURE AND NOBLE CHARACTER.

Many a man owes his reclamation from sin, to the little prayer or said to child hood, night after night, at a mother's knee.

Our great cities are thronged with young women, battling with the world for a living, and knowing no home influence save those found in the passing population of a boarding-house.

"I can't help doing that—I did it so much when I was little. And sometimes—I'm awfully glad I can't help it for it's the only link between me and home-life."

Vines as Decorations.

Vines, indeed, may cover foundations, bare walls, unsightly board fences, and unpainted sheds, etc.

On one occasion two gentlemen, invited as guests at a table where Mr. Clouston was expected, made a wager that they would start a conversation on a subject about which even Mr. Clouston would know nothing.

Don't be too enthusiastic over the people you admire, or you will make everyone else late than.

The moment at which to look away, the word which not to speak, the crisis at which not to smile—the power to recognize these supreme moments is good taste personified.

The New York Observer says, Christianity has no competitors, it has only imitators. There is no morality which rivals, either in theory or in practice, the ethics which the world's one master taught.

A SECTION FOREMAN.

HIS LIFE ONE OF EXPOSURE AND MUCH HARDSHIP.

From the Watchman, Lindsay, Ont.

Wm. McKendry, a gentleman of 52 years of age, has for 22 years been a respected resident of Fenelon Falls, Ont.

For twenty-two years he has held the position of section foreman for the G. T. R., which position he fills to-day, and judging from his present robust appearance he will be capable of doing so for many years to come.

"No; but I'm engaged, and that's as good as married."

"If he's better, if you only know it."

"Professor," said a graduate, trying to be pathetic at parting, "I am indebted to you for all I know."

"No; but I'm engaged, and that's as good as married."

"If he's better, if you only know it."

Scraps for Odd Moments.

"Nellie, you're as full of air as a barrel organ."

"Well, if I am I don't go with a crank. Good-bye."

"What shall I write about?" inquired the would-be poet. "You had better write about your face," replied the editor pointing to the door.

"Don't you ever take a nap in the daytime?" "No; it's too much trouble to get awake more than once a day."

Mulligan—And did you have a foine time on your trip to Skegway? O'Rourke—Ya. Oi was only there two days and got into four fights.

Minards Liniment cures Burns, etc. "Married yet, old man?" "No; but I'm engaged, and that's as good as married."

"If he's better, if you only know it."

—Weak— Delicate Children

are a source of much worry and care to their parents. They do not enjoy any of the pleasures of childhood. They are puny, restless; their appetite is sickly and wayward, and their young lives experience none of the buoyancy of youth.

It strikes me that invention is the manner of necessity. How do you make that out? Take the bicycle. Nobody needed it before it was invented, and now we couldn't get along without it.

Reub Haynes—Gosh all hemlock, Si, ye should a told yer ole father if ye be so per as this.

College Son—Why, what's the matter, pa?

Reub Haynes—Can't yer boy no collars that ye wear a cuff around yer neck?

We may not all be Ciceros, And charm admiring throngs, Nor write immortal treatises, Or sing immortal songs.

In nature's wondrous plan, And help the world to turn around; So I'll do what I can.

The book agent waited in, but dutifully refrained from clearing the portal. "I'm not interested in the Philippines," shouted the business man.

"But, sir, I—"

"Yes, I see you are an advocate of the 'open door,' but I'm not kindly go outside and shut it. Good day."

Minards Liniment for sale everywhere.

A cabin boy on board a ship, the captain of which was a very religious man, was called up to be whipped for some misdemeanor. Little Jack went crying and trembling to the captain.

"Pray, sir," said he, "will you wait till I say my prayers?" "Yes," was the stern reply. "Well, then," replied little Jack, looking up and smiling triumphantly, "I'll say them when I get ashore!"

"Miffins, the bookkeeper tells me that you have lost the key of the safe, and he cannot get at the books."

"Yes, sir, one of them. You gave me two, you remember."

"Yes, I had duplicates made in case of accident. And the other?"

"Oh, sir, I took care of that. I was afraid I might lose one of them, you know."

"And is the other all right?"

"Yes, sir, I put it where there was no danger of its being lost. It is in the safe, sir."

Minards Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.

Maud—What is it? Come over to your house? When? This evening.

Maud—Speak a little plainer.

Irene—I said this evening.

Maud—Can't you hear?

Irene—This evening. This evening.

Maud—Maybe you're too close to it. Hold your mouth further away.

Irene—Oh, get your carrying out of the phone!

Maud—Thank. I don't wear any. I haven't even holes in my ears.

Irene (recovering her temper)—Haven't you, dear? No wonder you can't hear. Try putting your nose to the phone.

PORT MELBURN, June 4, 1897. C. C. RICHARDS & CO. DEAR SIRS,—MINARD'S LINIMENT is my remedy for colds, etc. It is the best liniment I have ever used. MRS JOSHUA HARR.

On one occasion two gentlemen, invited as guests at a table where Mr. Clouston was expected, made a wager that they would start a conversation on a subject about which even Mr. Clouston would know nothing. To accomplish this end they read up an ancient newspaper article on some unfamiliar subject connected with Chinese manufactures. When the favorable opportunity arose the topic was started, and the two conspirators watched with amusement the growing interest in the subject which Mr. Clouston's feet betrayed. Finally he joined in the conversation, and their amusement was increased on gushing of teeth—to speak figuratively—when Mr. Clouston said, with gentlemanly composure, "I have been reading an article I wrote for the—Magazine some thirty or forty years ago." —St. James' Gazette.
