Late hours Saturday night along with a busy tiresome day, are an evil which calls for a smedy. It is an evil too for which the people can easily apply a remedy. We are convinced that nearly all the purchasing which is usually done Saturday night, could just as easily edone on Friday afternoon, and we are much mistaken in the Christian and humantarian intiment of this city if when they understand the extent and magnitude of this evil they one insist upon, and assist in its cure. We believe people do not know nat every Sabbath is broken by the delivery of goods in the early morning, the result of rders given late Saturday night. That they do not know, that, in some departments the mployees are forced to work dangerously near to one o'clock or disappoint valued customs, whose orders were delayed till Saturday, and that employees as well as principals are ebarred Sunday morning Church services, if not for the entire day, or, are in no condition body or mind to enter into the services of the day, which should be the brightest, happist and most enjoyable of the week. These are more serious matters than appear at first st and most enjoyable of the week. These are more serious matters than appear at first ght, and lie at the bottom of much Sabbath desecration directly and indirectly. We have it this matter frankly before you and kindly ask your co-operation and assistance in bringgabout a better state of things.

We have decided to Close our Stores sharp at 8 o'clock every Saturday Night, ommencing Saturday next, 10th inst., with the hope that we will soon be able to Fergus defeated Elora yesterday by a score of 19 to 14.

Cockman, the Guelph boy, has been released by Indianapolis. Other Western Lengue clubs want him.

"The Buffalo Bills" and the "Keewatin's" had an exciting contest last night—judging by the yells of the crowd, and the unpiring. Score—3 to 4 with a fight in the wind to make up for the winning run. The ball, a ten center, was lost twice, two bats, ten cents more, were broke, and the Keewatin's went home to get licked again—over their maw's knee—and their pants mended

In the old league days when Ned Haulon was playing centre field for Detroit, a batter hit a low, long fly towards the middle of the rear fence at Recreation park. Hanlon was a bird in those times, and permitted nothing of that kind to escape his clutches. The moment the ball started Ned turned and ran back like a sprinter, occasionally glancing back over his shoulder to note the progress and direction of the ball. At the last moment he leaped into the air to pull down the ball, but at that instant a swallow darted along beside the sphere, confusing Ned's vision, and he leaped for the bird instead of the ball. Everybody laughed, and at the close of the inning, when Hanlon came running in, they laughed again. "Its all right," exclaimed Ned, "but I came d—near eatching a swallow."—St. Louis Sporting News.

BUFFALO BILL.

The Wild West Show under the maniferent of Buffalo Bill (Hon. W. F. Cody) will erect their tents tomorrow, in the Exhibition ground. From the reports in the Toronto papers the exhibition was witnessed by thousands, and everybody was delighted with the entertainment given. The rough riding of the Cowboys, Yaqueros, Cossaeks, etc., along with the military feats, native and sports of the Riffan Arabian horsemen were wonderful performances of horsemanship. The jugging of the Arabians was far in advance of anything ever seen in Toronto.

Miss Annie Oakley gave a splendid exhibition of her dexterty in the use of firearms, breaking 11 balls as they were thrown into the air one after the other. She used both a revolver and a rifle. Johnnie Baker also gave a good exhibition of rifle shooting, backwards, standing on his head, and in many other difficult positions. The most anusing number on the programme was an illustration of cowboy fun, which included the breaking of wild horses, lassoing them while in full flight, and then the efforts of the cowboys to train the horses to the saddle.

the horse to the saddle.

The prairie emigrant train crossing the plains, and the attack on the Deadwood wood make coach by Indians, in which Buffalo Bill and his cowboys come to the rescue, is a thrilling performance.

The National contests consisted of artillery and cavalry drills, bare back riding, Indian war dances, hurdle racing and buffalo hunt, which make up a novel and entertaining performance. The music by the cowboy band is also an excellent feature of the show.
