Gordonsville Soldier Welcomed

A large gathering of the friends and relatives of Roy E. Craig met at his home, Gordonsville, on May 30 to rejoice with his parents and family over his safe return from the battlefields of France.

All were glad to find him in good health in spite of the fact that he passed through many strenuous months. There were present about 75. The evening was pleasantly spent by old and young. Vocal and instrumental music were provided, Mrs. S. J. Burlock being the accompanist. We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall was sung by Miss Neva Nye.

Pte. Roy E. Craig enlisted with the 140th and participated in the battles of Paschaendale, Vimy Ridge, Hill 70 and Cambrai. On behalf of the assembled company the presentation to the returned hero of a beautifully upholstered arm chair was made by Mrs. E. Brittain. Although taken by surprise Mr. Craig made a neat speech in reply. After which these rousing cheers were given.

Luncheon was served at 11 o'clock. After singing the National anthem the party dispersed, all expressing themselves satisfied with a hearty good time.

A similar reception and presentation of a watch and fob were given Pte. Rupert Grant on his return early in the spring.

To keep children healthy the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. Nine-tenths of the ailments which afflict little ones are caused by derangements of the bowels and stomach. No other medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets in guarding either the baby or growing child from the ill that follow a disordered condition of the bowels or stomach. They are a mild but thorough laxative and never fail to give results. Concerning them Mrs. W. B. Coolidge, Sarnia, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for over three years and have found them the best medicine I have ever used for my children. I never have any trouble giving them to my little ones and they have saved me many a doctor's bill. My advice to all mothers of little ones is to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OUR WAR FIGURES.

Canada Enlisted 584,323 Men, and Sent 460,000 Overseas.

Speakers can speak about Canada's war effort, and writers can write, but so much has been said and written that cold figures have, for a change, an invigorating quality. The following hard facts speak for themselves. Canada enlisted 584,323 men. Four hundred thousand of them went overseas, 184,323 stayed at home.

Canada's total outlay for the war to the end of 1918 was $900,000,000. The national debt before the war was $336,000,000.

It is now $1,200,000,000, or one billion, two hundred million dollars. The Canadian army discharged, up to September 20 last, 70,500 officers and men, for reasons ranging from battle wounds to incompatibility of temperament. Medically unfit, 1,857 officers and 33,600 other ranks were discharged.

Canada sent 4,053 of her soldiers to the British army as officers, 3,955 of whom enlisted in the ranks in Canada. War loans in Canada have totalled $756,000,000, or $100 per head of population.

Canada has borrowed $307,000,000 in the United States. Credits on behalf of the Imperial Government for $950,000,000 have been established by Canada.

But the savings in Canadian banks have increased since 1914 by $275,000,000.

Canada has given $40,000,000 to the Patriotic Fund, $18,000,000 to the Canadian Red Cross, $6,000,000 to the British Red Cross, $4,500,000 to the Y.M.C.A., $3,000,000 to the Belgian Relief Fund.

The grand total of Canada's war gifts totals $12 per head of population.

Canada produced 55 per cent. of the 15-pounder shrapnel shell used by the British army in the last six months in 1917, which, to anyone who was present at Hill 70 or Passchendaele, for instance, is saying something.

Saved Millions of Dollars. Canada has few sons of whom she has more reason to be proud than Gen. A. D. McCrae.

Few men even in the West have crowded more adventure and work into a comparatively short life than this versatile general, who first opened his eyes on the world in Glencoe, Ont., forty-three years ago. At nineteen he left his humble home to seek fortune in Duluth, and acquitted himself so well that, while still in the twenties, he had built up one of the biggest insurance businesses in the West, and had established a group of rural banks.

He did more than any other half-dozen men to plant settlers in the West; he became the head of big industrial enterprises from lumbering to whale fishing, until while still in the thirties he was one of the richest men in Western Canada. When the war came and the Canadian Government needed horses the task was committed to McCrae, and he did it so well that he was next entrusted with the organizing of supply and transport, saving millions of dollars by checking waste.

On his appointment as quartermaster-general in 1916 he did still more brilliant and useful work on a large scale, notably by the clever disposal of surplus and obsolete stores at many times the price they would have fetched now.

In appearance Gen. McCrae is tall, well-built, and soldierly, with a strong, clean-shaven face, keen eyes and a resolute mouth and chin. He looks what he is—a man of clever head and iron will, who always knows what to do and how to do it, and sees that it is done.

Most Active Volcano. The most active volcano in the world is Mount Sangay. It is 17,196 feet high, situated on the eastern chain of the Andes, South America. It has been in constant eruption since 1725.
