Mr. LESLIE assuredly did, for e was then a member of what our contemporary calls a "political club at the other end of the town," that Cantain BAY-PIRLD's survey of the Lake, which it appears His Excellency has promised to procure from the Admiralty, was communicated to the Committee in May 1831. Capt. BAYPIELD. although he suggests difficulties, which practical engineers have said can be easily overcome, does not consider the project at all impracticable, and it was for the purpose of obtaining the opinion of persons competent from their experience in such works, to give a decided opinion, that the new survey was asked for.

The drought still continues. There has been The drought still continues. There has been no rain at Quebec, excepting some light showers, since the 28th of May. Vegetation is now sufficing severely. The fires made on new lands for clearing have never been altogether extinguished, and are now spreading in vegetable mould which covers the surface, and in the woods. The country is enveloped in smoke, and the roads and fields are covered with dust, which rises in clouds with every breath of wind. The springs. ouds with every breath of wind. The springs, wells, and streams are dry, and the rivers, not-withstanding the melting of four or five feet of snow a month and a half since, are uncommonly low. The grain crops, although short, are still healthy, excepting on very light lands. We are sorry to see it announced by Mr. Evans, of Montreal, that the wheat thy

The Stores on the burnt district are new fast being completed, and the merchants are rapidly returning to their old stands. It is easy to see already, that this rebuilt section of the city will surpass in convenience and beauty what it ever could have become but for the great conflagration. Indeed there is no city in the world which can boast a mass of six hundred such stores. Providence has so ordered events that what seemed at first an overwhelming calamity, will, perhaps, be compensated by its ultimate effects, and rather turn out for the greater prosperity of the city.
