Soviet Russia in Throes of Revolt.

Bolsheviki Disturbed Over Wrangel's Successes--Public Sceptical of Asquith's Proposal -- Military Censoring Irish Mails -- Shortage in Canadian Fisheries.

REVOLT IN RUSSIA.

LONDON, Oct. 5. Further reports of disorganization and revolt in Soviet Russia have been received by Reuters. Limited from "a reliable person who has just crossed the frontier into Finland." Reuters' information says the Red army is in a state of disorganization, that the revolt is exceptionally bad and that the Bolsheviks have broken out in Siberia, Amoy and near Samara. There is great unrest among workmen. The Bolsheviks are very anxious about General Wrangel's successes in the South and the latest call of Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik Minister of war, is for liquidation of the Southern front before the winter. The Bolsheviks, say the advices, realize that this winter will be the hardest they have experienced and that it is doubtful whether they will pass calmly. Their leaders are very anxious about the whole situation.

LOYD GEORGE WILL DISCUSS IRELAND.

LONDON, Oct. 5. Premier Lloyd George will speak at length on Friday and is expected to deal at length with the Irish question. He will probably analyse Lord Grey's proposals for settlement and also examine Asquith's which appear in a letter to the Times this morning. The Premier's suggestion of granting Ireland the status of an "autonomous Dominion" in the fullest and widest sense received with general scepticism.

DESTROYED IN HURRICANE.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5. Word was received here to-day of the destruction during a tropical hurricane last week of the British steamer Western bound from Frontera, Mexico, to New Orleans. The crew was saved.

EXAMINING THE MAILS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 5. On arrival in Dublin to-day of mails from provinces and from England the military party entered the central sorting station and carried away all letters. Business men inquiring for their mails were informed that the military authorities had all of it, but delivery would take place after the letters had been examined. A similar method of obtaining information already has been employed by the government in other Irish centres.

ANOTHER CLASH.

CORK, Ireland, Oct. 5. Residents of Cork had another terrifying experience early to-day. The cause of the trouble was a brush between the military and unidentified persons who fired on curfew patrols. The patrols with heavy fusillades of machine guns sweeping all suspected areas with searchlights.

POLICE BARRACKS ATTACKED.

SKIBBEREEN, Ireland, Oct. 5. Armed bands attacked the police barracks last evening making prisoners of 15 policemen and seizing arms and ammunition. The barracks was burned. There were no casualties.

GETS FOUR YEARS.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5. Four years' imprisonment was the sentence passed to-day on Sam Gale, one time captain in a forestry corps of the Canadian expeditionary force, for the theft of baggage from Mrs. D. H. Slater, of St. John's, Nfld., and Mrs. E. Brotherton, of Seattle. These ladies left their suit cases in the Windsor Hotel when they were taken by Gale who cashed at the C.P.R. offices the tickets for Seattle found in the baggage.

CANADIAN FISHERY SHORT.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5. The catch of sea fish of all kinds for the month of August on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts decreased in value nearly one million dollars. The smaller catch this year is due to a large drop in aggregate landing of Cod, Haddock, Hake and Pollock on the Atlantic coast. A shortage of bait and less active demand with lower prices contributed and resulted in curtailment of fishing operations.

ABOUT MONEY AND THINGS.
Can you think of money when the sun is shining high.
An' the little fleecy sail boats race the ocean of the sky?
Does money really matter when you're out among the trees.
An' listen to the song birds an' the drowsy of the bees?
An' long about October when the world is lookin' fine
Are you blinded to its beauty by the sordid dollar sign?

There's a heap more here than money! though a little gold is good.
An' I'd like a bigger fortune an' would get it if I could.
There are times that I forget it--times I even cease to care
That my pocketbook is empty an' I've nothing fine to wear.
An' I let the race go by me while I loaf along the way
To glory in the splendour an' the beauty of the day.

It may be, as some have told me, that I waste a lot of time.
But the fields are full o' gladness an' the air is full of rhyme.
An' the trees are all so lovely that I've got to stand an' look.
An' I like to rest an' listen to the babbling of a brook:
Though I know it costs me money an' the thing men call success,
I just take my compensation in a day of happiness.

There are some who live for money, and by gold they rise or fall.
But there's so much more to live for when you think 'bout it all.
That the most of us, I fancy, often wander far astray
Seekin' gladness an' contentment in a different sort o' way.
We go rompin' with the youngsters, trampin' any trail we choose,
An' we never stop to reckon up the money we may lose.

Short-Sighted Advertisers.

By using their editorial and news columns for printing material which is framed to please the advertiser rather than to interest and benefit the reader, a certain type of parasite publications eke out a precarious if at times bountiful existence. We have recently heard of a manufacturer who in the past year has spent about $5,000 with certain so-called labor papers and who is now wondering what he got out of it. In the financial and other journalistic fields there are a number of these propositions, papers which endeavor to market their editorial influence instead of building up that influence by serving the interests of the reader--going after business with the big stick instead of selling advertising service in a legitimate way.

In Canada there are several labor papers but none of them stand very high with the workers. They have endeavored to gain a standing with the manufacturers by using their influence with labor, but as a matter of fact they appeal to the radicals rather than to the members of the international unions. Nearly all of these unions have their own official organs and the members depend upon them for news of their craft. Such workers do not take any interest in the radical sheets and these have practically no influence with them. So in other journalistic fields intelligent advertising must appeal to the reader's best ideals and interests; the advertiser who endeavors to secure an advantage over the reader by some form of subterfuge or trickery will in the long run find that he is wasting his money.

In buying publicity an honest appeal through a dependable publication which holds the confidence of its readers will always be found to be most effective. The Audit Bureau of Circulation places a hall mark upon its member publications which can be used as a safe and reliable guide by advertisers. Financial Post.

Popular Teacher Honoured.

On Thursday night, September 30th, the teacher at Lower Island Cove, Mr. Charles Garland, was given a surprise party at his home by his scholars and presented with the following address:

DEAR MR. GARLAND:
We wish to take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your work among us; and to prove our gratitude to you for urging us always to do our best, we ask you to please accept this small token of our esteem, and we sincerely wish that we, as teacher and scholar will be banded together in unity to face the coming year, which we hope will be more successful even than last year.

Yours faithfully,
CANDIDATES OF C.H.E. EXAMS.

Miss Alma Vail then presented him with a beautiful signet ring with initials engraved, and on the inside "From his candidates, L.I.C. 1920." Mr. Garland not having heard anything whatever concerning our intentions was completely taken by surprise. He then replied to the address and thanked us for the very nice gift and good wishes. Refreshments were then partaken of and games indulged in till the wee sma' hours. The success of our school is increasing year by year since Mr. Garland has taken charge. In the recent C.H.E. exams 12 passed out of 14 who sat. Intermediate 2, preliminary 1, primary 9. A greater interest in education has been awakened here and we are hoping to see our school equal to any of the outport schools in the near future.

Cutting the Garment.

Persons who visit St. John's are delighted (?) with the splendid houses which members of the Government are building or have purchased for themselves. Our own representative is no longer contented with "be it ever so humble" as at Morton's Hr. in days of yore. Big salaries demand houses in proportion, and a seven thousand dollar salary is worth quite a pretentious dwelling.

And in the face of this the Minister of Public Works in writing regarding the discussion on the Breakwater site declares the Government must "cut the garment according to the cloth"--the garment of Public Works being made up of the remnants when big salaries have been paid.

Does the Public realize what havoc was played with the Country's finances this spring, in the face of hard times staring the country in the face. Does it realize that nearly thirty thousand dollars in increase in salary alone to members of the House of Assembly--was voted this year--nearly enough in itself to build a breakwater in Twillingate, and more than enough to make Shoal Tickle ten feet deep from end to end.

And that was only one "item." Other salaries were increased in proportion. Twillingate Sun.

W.M.S. MEETING.--At the monthly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of St. Thomas's Parish, which is being held in Canon Wood Hall this evening, a paper, prepared by Mrs. Llewellyn Feld Jones, wife of the Commissioner of the East Africa Protectorate, and the daughter of H. W. LeMessurier, Esq., C.M.G., presenting interesting accounts of missions in East Africa, will be read.

The Wonderful Railway Commission.

The Railway Commission--and no one is quite sure whether Reids own the Government or not, though it begins to look a good deal like it--was in session recently and its deliberations resulted in something like this as we can get it.
The cross-country service is to be discontinued this winter, trains not running past Millertown Junction because the poor Reids might lose money, you know, keeping the line open across the Topsails. When we shall get Canadian and American mails next winter the dear only knows.

The Commission also was very busy over the matter of Excursion trains from St. John's to Holyrood, for next summer. Just imagine frittering away time on excursion trains and sending the people of this District around in the Sniff!

Moreover the Commission--it should not be forgotten either that the chairman of this Commission is none other than the Acting Premier, Hon. W. F. Cosker--has announced an increase in passenger rates of a cent a mile, with probable increases in freight rates to follow.

And this is the Government that was to bring Reid to his knees!
Furthermore, not content with that everything is now being played into Reids hand.

The Prospero must call at Lewisporte going and returning passengers and freight for Reid, and expenditure of Government coal--for the Prospero is a Government ship--to take her there. The Earl of Devon sails from Lewisport to Cook's Hr. and return. Result loss of considerable business which was done by firms here with ports on the Treaty Shore, and Twillingate wants all the business it can get these times.

What do the people really think of it all.--Twillingate Sun.
