Avoiding a Conflict.

Every effort of the European Powers appears to be devoted to ward avoiding a conflict in the Near East, but the Turks are apparently determined to precipitate hostilities, if the press dispatches of last week are to be relied upon, or are any index of the actual state of affairs existing. Too often foreign news is colored to suit financial exigencies, and the steady decline in English exchange as quoted might have been, and in all probability is the result of overdrawn pictures of Eastern conditions. Be that as it may Oriental diplomacy and intrigue are difficult to overcome, the western ideals of meum et tuum not being acceptable to the wily Turk, who is just as ruthless to-day as in the past ages when he massacred and slaughtered all and sundry that stood in his path to conquest. The "butcher of Europe" has not changed. Both his religion and upbringing forbid that. He is as ready now as ever to wade through blood to attain the domination that he once held, and in that desire perhaps he is encouraged by the millions of his Asiatic and African coreligionists. The news at the end of the past week showed that all the parties involved were but marking time, with the exception of the Kemalists, whose aggressive tactics have not been in any way curtailed. Notwithstanding ultimatums and threats of immediate war the forces of Mustafa Kemal have been all the time advancing, slowly but surely, until at length they have almost surrounded the British, who obviously will have to bear the brunt of any attacks made upon their positions, as all the other European soldiery have been withdrawn from Chanak. Kemal is insistent in his demands that the British withdraw from this position, and with true Oriental subterfuge promises that if this is done he will remove the Nationalist forces slightly from the neutral zone. Note the word slightly. That a state of war exists between Britain and Turkey cannot be doubted, though no overt act on the part of either country has yet brought on a conflict. As peace has never been included between the British and the Ottoman Empire, their relations are still governed by the terms of the 1918 armistice, which have not yet been readjusted by either party thereto. The situation, therefore, is dangerous in the highest degree, for a moment may be sufficient to kindle the spark of combat, and bring about the ever impending battle for supremacy between Christianity and Islamism. Only by walking warily in diplomatic paths will this universal struggle be averted. The Turk knows he holds most of the cards in the game, and is playing them to suit his own purpose. Whether the meeting said to have been arranged between the British Commander-in-Chief at Chanak and the Nationalist leader, Kemal Pasha, will materialise in an amicable adjustment of present questions and claims, we shall doubtless know to-day. Meanwhile it is not altogether good policy to place too much reliance upon the made to be broken promises of the unspeakable Turk.

Canadians not Opposed to N.F. Development.

The special London correspondent of the Halifax Herald, E. Monti-Zambert, cabling from the English capital on September 22 to his paper makes the following statement:—"Apropos of the Washington cable recently published here stating that Canadian financiers will oppose the Newfoundland scheme because of their jealousy over Newfoundland forestalling them in the London money market, your correspondent is informed on good authority that prominent Canadians and many others with interests in Canada—would be glad to see the British Government lending money to build up a great industry and relieve unemployment, whether in Newfoundland or Canada, where any influx of capital is welcomed. No Canadians have borrowed money in the local market for over eight years."

And so we find that all the bother was made in United States, and our e.e. of Duckworth Street fell as usual for the kite flying of American journalistic propagandists. What excuse has it to offer?

Inadvertently Omitted.

In the Belvedere Collection List, published on Saturday, the name of James J. Parker Esq., was inadvertently omitted. The sum which should stand opposite Mr. Parker's name is $100, and we make this correction to-day specially, as the donation is not included in the current list appearing in another column.

Supreme Court Opens.

THREE INDICTMENTS PRESENTED

The fall session of the Supreme Court opened this morning at 11 o'clock, and the following Grand Jury were sworn in:—Denis Galtway, Foreman; Lorenzo Moore, A. Barnes, Ed. Cahill, Wm. LeDrew, E. J. Godden, J. D. Cameron, W. Ebsary, Jas. J. Colford, J. S. Currie, Frances Milley, Robert Dawe, Fred Smallwood, J. J. St. John, Jas. Nugent, Wm. Blackler, Elijah Bishop, Samuel Eddy. The Chief Justice, after the Grand Jurymen were sworn, stated that there were three indictments for their present consideration, the first being Denis O'Brien, of Freshwater, who is charged with manslaughter, due to the death of his brother, Thomas O'Brien, which event occurred in a barn on March 26th last. The second indictment was a charge of Larceny preferred against Samuel Dawe and John Butler, in that they did break and enter the store of P. J. Fortune, Water Street, on Sept 8th, 1922. The third indictment was against Geo. W. B. Ayre, charging him with misappropriation of funds, the property of Jane Taylor to the value of $10,233. The Jury, after hearing the charges, retired to consider the evidence, and at 1 p.m. returned to Court again with a true bill in the case of Samuel Dawe and John Butler. They also found a true bill against Geo. W. B. Ayre. On motion of Mr. Summers, Deputy Minister of Justice, Dawe and Butler will be arraigned to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. Howley, K.C., moved for the arraignment of Geo. W. B. Ayre on Thursday. It was ordered accordingly. The Grand Jury will sit this afternoon to consider the Bill of Indictment against Denis O'Brien.

Police Court.

A BUSY MORNING.

A former tinsmith, who was given in charge by Adm. Frensham, S.A., for being drunk was allowed freedom, as he had been in the cells from Saturday night. Four other drunks who were arrested on Saturday night were released. A carman of Quidi Vidi, who was accused of beating his mother-in-law whilst he was drunk, was allowed to go, as there was no prosecution, and his Honor had received a letter from the complainant offering excuses for his conduct. A woman shopkeeper, who was charged on complaint of a number of people with selling hop beer, overproof, was ordered to pay costs. In the witness box she denied the accusation that drunken men were found on her premises. She explained to the Judge how she reduced the strength of her beer, but on the present charge she had not time to make the necessary dilutions of water before the police pointed on her. It being the first offence His Honor suspended sentence. John Teems, who refused to obey a summons to appear last week on a charge of fighting on the public streets, stated to the Judge that he was working hard and had not time to appear. His Honor remanded the prisoner for eight days, informing him that a charge of stealing $50 worth of groceries had been preferred against him.

Methodist Conference.

Report Will Be Presented Condemning Delay in Bringing About Church Union.

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—A report on church union, which will be laid before the quadrennial meeting of the general conference of the Methodist Church in Canada which opens here to-morrow morning, will condemn the delay in bringing about the union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches and will express the opinion that "to substitute co-operation for organic union as the continued policy of the churches would imperil all that has been done and would break faith with hundreds of communities in which people have abandoned their old allegiance on the basis of the solemn declaration of the three bodies in favor of union."

The question of the admittance of women to the ministry will also be discussed at the conference.

Delegates have been arriving all day from different parts of Canada and 400 are expected to be present at the opening session to-morrow morning. The conference will continue about two weeks.

Two Schools of Fishermen.

Salt cod vs. fresh seems, according to the latest despatch from Halifax, to be at the bottom of the question of the eligibility of the Mayflower for the International Fishermen's Regatta. The men of Nova Scotia still engage in the saltfish trade, as did their ancestors before them for generations.

Bostonians have turned to fresh fishing in place of the old salt-fish trade. Their fortune lies in quick trips in from the Banks, whereas the Nova Scotians are in for long cruises and do the salting while at sea.

As the result speed is the prime requisite of the fresh fishermen, whereas endurance and the ability to ride out all weathers are demanded of the salt fishermen. The Nova Scotian boasts go to the Banks and remain until they have packed away and salted down their catch to the limit of their carrying capacity. This is naturally a test of staying power. The strain on the ship is greater and the work of the crew infinitely more trying. To spend a few weeks anchored on the Banks is comparatively easy for men and boats, but when the season is long and the fish are running slow, and morning after morning the little dories are dropped over the ship's side to refill with the day's catch, and the task of cleaning the fish becomes intolerable, and it seems as if there would be no end of packing them away, then are endurance and patience demanded of the men and stanchness of the ship. The constant pitch and toss in a never quiet sea is a strain that tells in the end.

That the Nova Scotians who make the long seasonal catches look down upon the Mayflower as nothing but a fresh fisherman is very natural. If they wish to confine the regatta to salt fishermen they are well within their rights. But if, as the Mayflower's owners claim, she can do the work of the salt fishermen it is not the part of reaction to exclude her because she embodies certain new departures in rigging intended to give her speed, but which are not to the taste of the old school of Nova Scotian salt fishermen.—Ex.

Death Warrant of Secretariat.

NOTED WRITER CONDEMNS THE BRITISH CABINET'S MANIFESTO.

London, Sept. 26.—(Canadian Press)—Swift MacNeill, ex-M.P., the noted constitutional writer, in a letter to the Times, condemns the Cabinet's manifesto in anticipation of a war with Turkey as an incident without parallel in the history of cabinet government.

The manifesto was due to the existence of the cabinet secretariat, which, Mr. MacNeill says, is an institution unknown to the constitution and the sole creation of the present Premier. This unfortunate foreign policy manifesto, he adds with the Foreign Office out of the picture, ought to be the death warrant of the secretariat.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

BACK AGAIN.

MOSCOW, Oct. 2. Premier Lenin is to resume his duties to-day, according to a definite announcement in the Premier's name. He will preside over a meeting of the commissioners to-morrow, when international matters of importance will be discussed. Lenin's last public appearance, before he was stricken with illness, was last March.

OPTIMISTIC.

LONDON, Oct. 2. A feeling of relief is evident in all British official circles this morning as a result of favorable week-end developments in the Near East situation. Authorities are hopeful that the conference between Kemalists and Allies will have good results. A similar feeling is noticed in despatches from Constantinople, where Kemalists are less threatening around the neutral zone, and additional British reinforcements inspire assurance. No results are expected from the Mundania conference until the middle of the week, and meanwhile the Government marks time with the Premier in the country, and no Cabinet meeting scheduled for to-day. Government officials reiterated to-day the complete evacuation of the neutral zone by Kemalists, as required, before parleys can begin.

DESTROYERS LEAVE.

MALTA, Oct. 2. The first British destroyer flotilla and a number of L. class submarines, with a submarine depot ship, is leaving for Constantinople to-day.

HAS L. G. RECEIVED!

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2. Great Britain's recession from the neutral zone controversy caused surprise here, and disappointment, but it is generally admitted that this step is the only thing that could have saved Kemal's hand. It is now conceded that tact and tolerance, coupled with the timely arrival of reinforcements from England, prevented the Turks from striking at Chanak. It is expected that the Mundania conference will drag on for several days, with the Kemalists bargaining and haggling over every point. The British will insist upon occupying the Asiatic banks of the Straits, even at the peril of failure of the conference, and may also contest immediately the withdrawal of the Greeks from Thrace. The inviolability of the Straits will be stoutly defended.

IN FOND AND LOVING MEMORY of Phoebe May Wareham, who died October 2nd, 1918, aged 20 years. Days of sadness will come over us, Tears in silence often flow; For memory keeps you ever near us Though you died 4 years ago.

Time will pass and years roll on Whatever be our lot; As long as life and memory last You will never be forgot.

In our hearts we mourn the loss of her we loved so dear What words can give the clasp her hand, her gentle voice to hear; Her loving smile and welcome words that was so dear to us, She's resting now in heaven above in God alone we trust.

Friends may think I have forgotten But they little know the sorrow That smile hides all the while.

No pen can write, no tongue can tell Our sad and bitter loss; But God alone has helped us well To bear our bitter cross.

—Ever fondly remembered by mother, sisters and brothers.
