PURSUANT to a resolution passed by the inspectors of the above mentioned estate. I have been instructed to offer the lease, stock in trade, goodwill, fixtures and other assets of the above mentioned company, for sale as a going concern by public auction on WEDMESDAY, THE 23rd DAY OF SEFTEMBER, 1925, at the premises of the company, 119 Dundas St., London at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The lease has until December 31st. The lease has until December 31st, 1930 to run, and by reason of the sub-letting of portions of the premises comprised in the lease the rental of the building occupied by the company is exceedingly low.

The stock in trade consists of seeds, grain, fertilizer, plants and goods of a like nature, an inventory of which can be seen at the premises of the company.

like nature, an inventory of the company.

Since the date of the authorized assignment the business has been carried on by Mr. R. F. Scott as trustee.

The assets, stock in trade and lease, will be offered first together as a going concern and in default of satisfactory bids being received the stock in trade and lease will be offered separately.

Terms of sale cash.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. K. F. Scott, trustee, or to Mr. Nelson Wisher at the premises of the company.

Fair Delights the President

"No one could be more delighted with the Western Fair this year than I am," declared J. H. Saun-Amherst tomorrow.

Premier Stewart pointed out that the policy of Mr. Meighen in 1921 and now was "the same for Canada and every part of Canada." The people of Canada had come through "four years of government, or attempted government," under Mr. Mackenzie ders, president, to The Advertiser late last night. "Our showing of livestock was quite the equal, if not better than the Toronto show as to quality, and almost as big in numbers, whilst other departments were on par with the Canadian National Exhibition, and there was a re-markable absence of confusion throughout the entire week. "I want to thank the people of London and surrounding of munity for their support loyalty, which made possible the largest attendance in the history of the fair this year."

The Tide of Politics

Nominations Pouring in From All Parts of Country, Although Nomination Day Is Still More Than Month Away-King Advances Date For Campaign in West.

Pressure of business affairs, due in part to the death of Sir Adam Beck, who held a large interest in the London Rolling Mills Co., Ltd., may result in the retirement from political life of J. Frank White, Conservative member for London, before the coming federal contest. Although he has as yet made no definite decision in the matter, leading Conservatives are already surveying the situation which would arise should Mr. White not be a candidate for renomination at the local Conser. vative convention, and there is a fairly well-defined movement on foot to offer the nomination to S. Fred Lawrason, of S. F. Lawrason & Co., chairman of the London board of advention of the Consequential with education, and a Conservative with a long record of public service.

education, and a Conservative with a long record of public service.

One or two other possible candidates are said to be under consider ation, but Mr. Lawrason is regarded as the logical choice for standard-bearer in the event that Mr. White finds it impossible to run again.

The present member stated at the time of Sir Adam's death that passing of London's M.L.A., would resuit in greatly increasing his responsibilities in connection with the Rolling Mills Company of which he is superintendent. The plant is at present being enlarged to a considerable extent and these two factors are said to be giving the present London member cause to consider whether or not he can devote further time to political life.
