FORTY SECOND YEAR.

Feeling In Europe

Situation in China Discussed in the European Capitals.

Proposed Memorial Services at St. Paul's Cathedral Postponed.

French Government Still Hopes That Legations Are Safe.

By Associated Press.

London, July 21.—The request of Secretary Hay to the powers to make an immediate forward movement upon Pekin is not likely to meet with any success in England. Lord Salisbury is as eager as the American secretary of state to adopt such a step, but he is practically convinced that it will be impossible until September on account of climatic conditions and the allies' lack of equipment. Beyond a courteous reply that England is willing to co-operate in any movement that the commanders on the spot may deem advisable, nothing is likely to come of the latest American effort to reach the Chinese capital. Pekin, in the immediate future, would be military suicide. The government's attitude may be described as a philosophic determination to grin and bear it, hoping for the best, yet fearing the worst, until troops and climatic conditions enable the troops to enter Pekin and ascertain without a shadow of doubt the extent and cause of China's present disintegration. Until that is accomplished, every opinion worth repeating is suspended, not only regarding the future of China, but also as to the nature and severity of the future situation in it. Meanwhile British journals, which are bound to express opinion of some sort, and a majority of British people who are able to restrain their feelings in the face of this far eastern horror, declare that in so great an emergency no risk is too great.

Minister Conger's telegram has introduced into the situation, already replete with uncertainties and perplexities, a further element of doubt. The greatest sufferer in this respect is Dr. John Colt, the venerable dean of St. Paul's. An hour after the receipt of the news of the receipt of a message from Minister Conger was published, the government issued a notice that the memorial service on Monday for the victims of the Pekin massacre was undertaken without its sanction. Similar notices were also issued in the papers from relatives of those at Pekin, saying the dean had exhibited indecent haste, while the aristocratic Morning Post denounces the cathedral dignitaries in terms almost as strong as it did the Boxers themselves, whereupon the dean got on his back and declared that it was too late to cancel the service, but owing to pressure from high quarters to-day he had consented to postponing it.

According to the Statist Russia is likely to bear the brunt of the financial burden of the Chinese crisis, on account of the probability that that government would be obliged to incur a large outlay to protect Siberia, while if the government should try to maintain the outlay would be still greater. The Statist says, however, "This would benefit other European markets, as the probability that much Russian gold will have to be sent to London, Paris and Berlin, partly to meet the interest of the Russian loan and partly to pay all the obligations Russia has already entered into or is about to enter into. In that way the money market will be strengthened, for if Russia lets go of, say, twenty or thirty millions sterling, it will be an enormous relief to the funds in Europe."

FRENCH OPINION. Paris, July 21.—Is it anarchy or war? If this question was answered to the entire satisfaction of the powers there might be some light on the future situation in the East, but with the absolute lack of trustworthy information, all are acting in the dark. No one is willing to hazard a guess as to what the outcome is to be. "Western civilization," said an official of the foreign office to a representative of the Associated Press, "is apparently facing a serious problem. This time the powers have to deal not merely with the defenders of the Manchu dynasty, but to all appearances with a uprising of the Chinese people, who imagine that the European powers for the last two years have been aiming not to overthrow the dynasty, but to take China. This seems to have given rise to an unprecedented spirit of patriotism. We fear that North China will not alone be involved in the anti-foreign outbreak, but that the Yangtze Kiang valley will be for long be caught in the vortex. There have been indications recently which inspire us with this apprehension. The movement of drilled forces is one of them."

A significant fact in the present situation is that during the Sino-Japanese war, when the Japanese were victorious, the viceroys of the central and southern provinces, in which were a great number of drilled troops, were instructed by Li Hung Chang not to send the soldiers north, but at the present moment these troops are under orders to march towards Pekin.

The French government still entertains hopes of the safety of the legations in Pekin in view of today's advice. It also declines to believe that any discord will break out among the powers, especially the British and the Japanese. Russia has her hands full with affairs in Manchuria, where it is pointed out that has been taken as much by surprise as have been the other powers. The invasion of Russian territory by the Chinese surrounded the Russian government, which little suspected that the Chinese were in such straits or so well armed in the territory contiguous with Russia.

The Battle of Tien Tsin

Details of the Big Fight Between Allies and Chinese.

Terrible Fire Kept Up by Defenders of the City.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 21.—The Evening World publishes a detailed story of the Tien Tsin fight. It comes from Frederick Palmer and has been copyrighted by the paper. It is as follows: "Chee Foo, July 19, via Shanghai, July 21.—The attack on the native city of Tien Tsin on July 13 resulted in the narrow escape from what seemed, up to midnight, would be a terrible disaster to the allies.

"The Russians went swinging to the north end and the Chinese to the south. The Russians were to take the forts near the city wall, and the other allies the city itself.

The Legations Are Safe

At Least 50 Say Chinese Officials in Reports to Powers.

Tien Tsin and Vicinity Evacuated by the Chinese Hordes.

By Associated Press.

Brussels, July 21.—The minister of foreign affairs, M. Fabrean, has received the following telegram from Shanghai, dated to-day: "A telegram from the governor of Shan Tung announces that the ministers were safe on July 20. They were under the guardianship of the Chinese authorities. Li Hung Chang has arrived at Shanghai and the line of communication is open."

Washington, July 21.—The Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fang, communicated to the secretary of state this morning two important telegrams. The first is from the director of posts and telegrams in Shanghai, and says: "Fortunate the Minister Conger's telegraphic reply has come. An instant messenger of the 22nd this noon (corresponding to July 18) stated that all ministers were safe. Insurgents are fighting and shooting at each other. Li Hung Chang is proceeding northward to suppress the riot. He will find it difficult so to do."

The second telegram is from Li Kuyi, director of Shan Tung, dated July 20, and was read by Minister Wu at 10 o'clock this morning. It is as follows: "According to an edict of 22nd of this month (July 18), with the exception of the German minister, who was killed by anarchists, with regard to which rigorous measures are being taken to investigate and punish the guilty parties, all the other ministers, for whom strenuous efforts are being made for their protection, are fortunately unharmed."

Paris, July 21.—Yu Kenk, the Chinese minister here, today handed to the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, an imperial edict, dated July 18, giving the assurance that all the foreign ministers in Pekin, except Baron von Kettler, the German minister, were then safe and sound, under the protection of the imperial court.

CHINESE EVACUATE.

London, July 21.—The admiralty this morning received the following cablegram from Admiral Seymour: "Tien Tsin and neighboring territory evacuated by Chinese."

WILL BE ARBITRATED.

North Sydney, C. B., July 21.—A private letter received by ship owner here, from Ottawa, stated positively that negotiations between the British, American and Russian governments regarding the Tien Tsin and the Behring Sea by Russia eight years ago had been concluded and the case would now be referred to arbitration.

Still Are Kept Guessing

Powers Trying to Discover if Chinese Are Telling the Truth.

Encounters Said to Taken Place in the Vicinity of Wei Hai Wei.

By Associated Press.

London, July 23.—Though there are some indications that hardened pessimism is beginning to melt the warm showings of Chinese assurance, so that it is now admitted that perhaps not all the foreign ministers at Pekin have been killed, incredulity, however, remains the dominant note of European comment. No one seems able to reconcile the assurance of the imperial edict with Minister Conger's statement in his alleged message to Secretary Hay that he was in hourly expectation of death by massacre, though both documents purport to have been sent from Pekin on the same date.

WILL BE CONTESTED.

Liquor Men Will Fight Against Manitoba Prohibition Law.

WINNIPEG, July 21.—(Special)—The hotel-keepers have received a circular from the headquarters of the Liquor Dealers' Association, informing them that the association has taken every precaution to look after their interests when the constitutional of the Macdonald liquor bill is tested by the courts. If a decision unfavorable is rendered by the Court of Queen's Bench, it will be appealed to the Privy Council, and the legal lights have been retained by the association.

ANOTHER BOER SUCCESS.

Dewet Captures a Hundred Highlanders and Cuts Communication With Pretoria.

London, July 21.—A despatch from Capetown, dated to-day, says that Lord Roberts has attacked Middleburg in force and a big battle is in progress. President of the Highlanders. The story of 100 Boer commander's bold raid comes in the form of a telegram from Gen. Forestier-Walker, dated to-day, and dated to-day, forwarding a despatch from Gen. Knox as follows: "Kronstadt, July 22.—Following is the report of the Boer command sent to Honningspurg, and wired thence to Kronstadt: "I have followed command since July 16. Had sharp fighting at Palmietfontein on July 19. Prevented Boers from pursuing us by darkness. Eight dead Boers found. Our casualties were 5 killed and 70 wounded. The Boers were driven back through Paarde Kraal in the darkness. I shall march to-morrow to Roodevan station. Send carrying sick between Krugersdorp and Potchefstroom on July 19."

Protection Asked for

Canners' Association Appeal to Provincial and Dominion Governments.

Many Fishermen Would Work If Not Molested by Strikers.

Boats of Non-Union Men Seized by Agents of the Union.

By Associated Press.

Vancouver, July 21.—The board of trade held an emergency meeting this afternoon and sent telegrams to the Provincial and Dominion governments asking for adequate protection for the fishermen at Steveston, who desired to go out in the boats to fish. Mr. T. Mathews, who took the side of the strikers, protested very strongly against the resolution. He said in effect that it was asking the government to interfere with the fishermen's union, and suggested authoritative violence against organized labor. He was reminded that violence had already been done by the strikers. Several canners explained that there were enough fishermen who would fish if protected, to satisfy all demands. The strikers demands were unreasonable; that it was almost a financial disaster that the action of the strikers should close up the canneries; and that the government should protect those fishermen from violence who desired to fish at canners' prices.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

London, July 21.—Richard Hodgson and wife, while driving into the city this morning, were struck by an incoming train on the Boers. When at Maitland street, and both were instantly killed. Mr. Hodgson was a farmer and lived in London township. The horses escaped with little injury.

ELECTRIC MEASUREMENTS.

Their Great Usefulness in Mechanical Work.

In making electrical measurements it is not only that we measure electric quantities and actions, but that by means of measurements made electrically we are able to measure all sorts of other important things accurately.

For instance, measure the actions of a motor and its efficiency at different loads, and then set the motor to drive a lathe or some other tool or mechanical appliance. By watching and noting the readings of the electrical-measuring instruments we have at once an easy, accurate and comprehensive method of observing exactly what the tool is doing under all circumstances and of the power required to drive it. We are, therefore, able to understand the working of that tool in a way which was not possible before, and which was not possible before.

Again, the practice of testing engines coupled to dynamo—which with proper arrangements, can be done continuously and with great accuracy and facility—has not only led in a few years to the production of dynamo of great efficiency, but it has enabled the output and working of steam and gas engines to be watched in a much more critical and detailed manner than has been possible before, and this has undoubtedly led to great mechanical improvements in steam engines. G. L. Abdenbrook, in The Engineering Magazine for July.
