Mr. E. A. Macdonald claims that he is slandered by the statement that he endeavored, by threatening to publish an account of his traffic with Mr. Marshall, to extort several thousand dollars additional from that gentleman or Mr. Coleman. This is a personal matter among the gentlemen mentioned, and they will no doubt proceed to fight it out.

But the citizens should fasten their eyes upon this fact and never move them to one side or the other until its significance is deeply impressed upon their minds: a man who is so interested in one member of the Kist-Macenzie-Everett company admits that he paid the sum of $500 to that company in a real live blackmailing case. It was a straight, solid $500 deal, and there is no mistaking the entire chain of circumstances. The people are confronted with a rugged and incontrovertible fact. Well! Such sums of money are not thrown at E. A. Macdonald's feet every time he puts his hand to the door of a court room. It is time to money to the company that acquired the franchise as Mr. Marshall understood it, then the acquiring of the franchise in the name of the Kist-Macenzie-Everett company. If Mr. Marshall thought a month or so of time was worth $500 spot cash, some other indiscreet friend of the syndicate may have valued his thirty years' time at a similar price. If an ex-aidman who appeared on the scene after the $500 of the case, what would be the value of a real live blackmailing case? Is it for the sake of the money? Admitting how unfortunate it is for a syndicate at such a trying time to possess indiscreet friends with bottomless pockets, was it for the sake of the Chief Magistrate of this city to feel around for them and assess the amount of their indiscretions? If any aidman did not understand his human nature, and indulgent friends do "assist" those who have at other times been "assisted" them, and this is a mighty queer generation all through. We can never see it all—but we can try, and try like blazes!

It talks in the Voice of Hating. The Telegram continues to talk high-strung, both about Sunday park matters, and tumbles helplessly all around the subject in trying to find something injurious to "his administration." It is very hard to crowd "some expecting to be the witnesses of stirring scenes," then in the next breath the stirring scenes theory is dropped and the crowd is told that the "stirring scenes" had not had the approval of twenty-five per cent of those present. The gathering "was good, orderly and well-behaved," and "law-abiding." It is a pity that the further we find that this great gathering of sweet-tempered innocents were a lambent wickedness, too—the police were out of sight and "the rowdies" and the boys were thus deprived of their natural enemy. They could not get at the notice boards, for they were nailed high up on the trees. Evidently there was a "stirring scene" in the Park. A reporter who was in a court of being absolutely saintly. It requires a paper with a mighty large-sized spite against Mayor Clarke to appreciate "the funny" and "the funny" in the Park. A reporter who was mistaken for the Mayor of this city was surrounded by a crowd crying, "Run him out!" and out of the Park he had to go under cover of the police. A hysterically funny little happening! Charming little prank of the boys! As one reads the Telegram's account of this affair, he can almost hear the baby-like prattle of the innocent and the toddler around the reporter and the police force.

Queen's Mayor of Toronto could go into the city, or if a man who bears a resemblance to him cannot do so, the condition of affairs is disastrous, and only a piousness newspaper will applaud such a "stirring incident" because of personal spite against the Mayor of the period.

and on the fruit of his investigation will depend the action of the City Council.

Jobbery and Corruption.

Editor World: Permit me to assure you that your endeavors in behalf of the taxpayers of Toronto are by myself, and I presume by every taxpayer, fully appreciated. You have generally placed the power of your paper on the side of honest civic administration, and on an unimpeachable vigor opposed to anything in the form of jobbery or corruption. It is not at all surprising that you should not at all times be in the right, and that you should not at all times be in the right.

Street Railway Boodle.

Editor World: Your exposure of the $400 boodle, received by E. A. Macdonald for withdrawing his bill in the street railway matter is exciting interest and is the topic of talk all over the city. Every citizen who is interested in the street railway matter is excited by the disclosure of this boodle, and is glad to see that you have not only exposed the boodle, but have also exposed the man who received it.
