

THE T. EATON CO. LTD.
190 Yonge St. Canada's Greatest Store. Toronto.
1190 Yonge-street, Sept. 9, 1895.

Canada's Greatest Store!

Five acres of selling space under one roof, with entrances on Yonge, Queen, James and Albert-streets.

From 1100 to 1300 employees, according to the season, making the largest store organization in Canada.

A manufacturing department in which we use 134 sewing machines, running by steam power at the rate of 1800 stitches per minute. In this department we employ 250 persons, and turn out 1500 complete garments every day, all of which are sold under our own roof.

Thirty-three merchandise departments, including everything in dry-goods, together with books, groceries, bicycles, carpets, wall papers, furniture, housefurnishings, harness, jewelry, patent medicines, ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, and everything else that goes well together.

A delivery system, consisting of 55 horses and 35 wagons, covering the entire city and vicinity within a radius of ten miles at regular intervals. Horses cleaned by electric power.

Three boilers, with 600 horse-power, and three handsome engines, aggregating 350 horse-power, consuming about 1000 tons of coal per year.

Seven dynamos, with a capacity of 2250 incandescent lights and 200 arc lights. The largest private electric plant in Canada.

About 40 miles of steam pipe is necessary to heat the entire building.

Grinnell's Automatic Sprinkler System of fire protection, representing 3000 sprinkler heads.

The Pneumatic Cash System, requiring 1-2 miles of 2-1/4 inch brass tubing, with 109 pump stations, and two rotary pressure blowers, necessary to operate the plant.

Seven hydraulic elevators, driven by two pair of steam pumps, with a capacity of 1,000,000 gallons of water a day. Two large dairy farms—one at Lexington and the other at Georgetown—receiving daily the product of 120 milch cows; barn buildings on farm with a capacity for storing 50 tons of hay and 10,000 bushels of grain.

Dairy lunch room in the basement, supplied with cream, butter and milk direct from our own dairy farms, and capable of accommodating 3000 people a day.

Mail order department, with experienced clerks, to do shopping for those who can't get to the store, customers at a distance as well as though they shopped in person.

Biggest and Best!

You think of this as a place to buy dry-goods, but the idea is too limited. Its work comprehends ready-made clothing for men and boys, fine shoes for everybody, carpets and house furnishings, the newest things in millinery, men's furnishings, trunks and valises, groceries, toilet articles and furniture. It keeps much of everything that men and women want for themselves or for the home. It is enterprising, pushing, successful, and there's a reason why Toronto people do more trading here than anywhere else.

Nobody ever passes through Toronto, having an hour to spare, without coming here. Quick wits and sharp eyes are on the alert to make good things better, to change conditions in your favor, to make the buying and selling of goods seem less like trading than it ever did. Rich and poor are treated with uniform courtesy, out-of-town customers are reached with the long arm of the postoffice, and every consideration of honest quality and right methods creates the promise of a steadily increasing success.

We manage to keep sharp step with the march of progress. There are dry-goods store in plenty, but no other single business which so completely touches every side of your living. Whatever stocks are included in the catalogue of this store are considered so much merchandise, to be sold on a merchandise basis. Whether you look to dry-goods or carpets, shoes or millinery, upholsteries or pictures, results are the same—dry-goods profits. The combination of widely different stocks retailing under one management makes lowest prices possible. Such aggregation means purchasing power. And in the selling of goods Aggregation is Economy.

A hundred thousand families within easy reach of this store means grand possibilities. The business is greater than it was six months ago and is growing. Sound progress is manifest in all departments. The store organization is strong, stocks are thoroughly complete, values are unusually good and methods are true to our conception of progress. We're old enough to comprehend trade conditions and wise enough to make every advantage count in your interest.

THE WHEAT QUESTION—MANITOBA.
The Globe of 6th inst. contains a "special" from Winnipeg headed "Grain Dealers' Tactics." "Feeling in Winnipeg Against the Bear Operators." "Farmers' Advice to Hold Their Grain." The article states that The Tribune reproduces from the columns of The Globe extracts from a letter written by Mr. William from Portage la Prairie describing how farmers are victimized by the grain combine and the big four manufacturers and the price of wheat kept at the lowest possible notch. The Tribune accuses grain dealers of welcoming any injury to the wheat crop as affording them a pretext for offering them a few per bushel less than the wheat that is worth. The "special" further refers to the fact that the provincial papers are also declaring war against the grain men, and quotes from The Portage la Prairie Review: "The great grain-buying corporations of the country are evidently trying to keep the price of wheat down to the lowest point possible. The bulk of the crop is being marketed and their elevators are being filled. This means to them thousands, perhaps millions, of bushels. If they can buy the wheat at 45 cents a bushel and when they are full up use what influence they have to raise the price, flour will go up accordingly, and the wheat dealer will get a profit of 10 cents. There is no question as to the value of the wheat this year. It is estimated at over 250,000,000 bushels, and this means that the wheat crop cannot be kept at a low figure for a great length of time. Those, therefore, who can afford to hold their wheat are almost sure to find it profitable. The 'special' further states that The Portage la Prairie Review advises farmers to hold their wheat, saying: 'Be in no alarm; hold your wheat, brethren; hold for higher prices, which we must eventually come.'

Special correspondence, such as the above, published in The Globe, is both malicious and mischievous. The World has always understood that the country in the world is there as large a proportion of grain buyers as in Manitoba and the Northwest or elsewhere. That some large holders realized handsome profits on their stock through the sudden rise in prices commencing in April last, may be true, but that this was owing to the fact that their wheat had been bought under its value at time of purchase, or that the wheat was sold at a profit to any other cause than the reported failure of the winter wheat crop in the United States, is sheer nonsense. Grain dealers who must feel flattered by The Tribune's opinion that their influence can raise the world's prices.

The Globe is a great stickler for non-interference with the market, which contents will always find its own level; yet in this case endorses statements and advice on one of the most complicated commercial problems, and in doing so displays its own lack of judgment and information on the subject. It endorses the advice to farmers to hold their wheat and not to sell at 45 cents, because this means millions to the holders. In the same issue of the paper it quotes No. 1 Northern selling in Duluth at 56-1/2 for Sept. It overlooks the fact that a wheat buyer can get a better advantage at the price in Duluth than he can by buying at 45 cents at interior points in Manitoba. The Globe and Manitoba newspapers, and the Globe more the importance of fact that with the immense crops of hard spring wheat in Minnesota, the Dakotas and our own Northwest, the high price of wheat in 1894 as will balance the loss of wheat in 1895. The position and prospects for the trade are stronger and more promising than a year ago, and holders may reasonably expect a moderate improvement in prices such as may cover interest, insurance and waste. But the circumstances are not of such a character as we can justify newspapers or others to advise farmers to hold their wheat at prices above other markets.

In 1894, a year of exceptionally large grain crops of all kinds in Russia, the Government of that Empire, in order to prevent too rapid sales and exports, adopted the policy of making advances on grain at low rates of interest. These advances were extensively taken up. The intention of the Government was beneficial, the result was disastrous, as the markets kept declining for more than a year, and the farmers lost rather than gained. In 1891, the Grangers in the West urgently pressed upon farmers to hold their wheat, as owing to the failure of the crops of that year in Russia and France the American farmer was going to dictate to the world the price at which he would sell. Hundreds of thousands of farmers followed this advice, which was probably the honest opinion of as well-informed men as are now writing for The Globe and Manitoba papers. The advice brought them millions of dollars loss. Nine times out of ten the best policy for farmers is to meet the market and sell when they are ready to sell. They must remember that buyers have as much to say in fixing prices as the seller. The Chicago Daily Bulletin hit this position nicely the other day in describing "Johnny Bull" as a "bear" and the "Russian bear" as a "bull."

That low prices prevail elsewhere than in the West is seen from the fact that Portland, Oregon, where Walla Walla wheat is quoted at 46 and 46 1/2 cents per bushel on track, and Valley wheat at 48 to 50. If from these prices are deducted the costs for buying in the interior and of transportation to the seaboard, it is clear that the price to farmers generally cannot be over 40 cents. If The World were furnished with specific charges of undue combination, with proofs of unjust reduction of prices owing to false pretence of inferior quality, ample space would be granted to the complainants, but we have no desire to emulate The Globe in pandering to the prejudices of the Western farmer by unjustly and wantonly maligning the grain dealers of Manitoba, who have the reputation of being as honorable and enterprising business men as any in the Dominion.

THE PASSING OF THE HORSE.
Looking a year into the future we see ourselves at the industrial Exhibition on opening day. The formal ceremonies connected with the event are about to begin. Looming near the grand stand we see a vehicle approaching. An old gentleman is seated in front and two younger ones in the rear. The rig is a strange one, and everyone is gazing towards it. Along it comes at a high rate of speed. No horses are attached to the carriage. It is the horseless vehicle. Old man Massey is the party who is directing the strange thing. He is thought by everyone that he is now coming to a stop where the crowd stands. Such, however, is not the case.

He is shooting from the old gentleman's eyes as he guides the vehicle near the crowd. He is evidently very much elated with the thing. Just as the vehicle draws up before the grand stand, and everyone congratulates Mr. Massey on having fulfilled his promise made at the previous Exhibition. The old gentleman shakes his hands all round and remarks quietly that the pleasure derived from anticipating the event of the reality itself has added a couple of years to his must eventually come.

There is nothing exaggerated in this prognostication. As a matter of fact the horseless vehicle will be seen in Toronto before the next Exhibition is here. Within one year it will have demonstrated its practicability, and although by that time it will not be much more than a novelty, its use will be so conspicuous that the horse himself will admit that his time for going has arrived. As soon as the public get used to the fact that the horse is not necessary, the horse will be sold for a very low price, and the horse will be sold for a very low price, and the horse will be sold for a very low price.

One thing only stands between the horseless vehicle and its universal use in cities. We refer to good roads. When the new vehicle is seen on the streets and when it capabilities are understood it will be evident that the horse is not necessary. The horse is not necessary in the cost of transportation is the horseless vehicle, rubber-tired, and running on asphalt or some similar roadbed. Under such conditions the cost of transportation would be reduced to a minimum.

A PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.
At the meeting of the York Pioneers held in the log cabin on the Exhibition grounds on Saturday, a resolution was adopted and unanimously adopted "giving upon the Government of Ontario the necessity of having a fireproof museum built, in which to store the historical relics and documents of the Pioneers' society. We do not think the Government should be asked to provide a museum for this particular association. If, however, all the relics concerning Canada that are to be found in the Canadian Institute, the York Pioneers and several other institutions in this city and in Ontario were collected they would form the nucleus of a decent provincial museum. If the Government should see its way to do anything in the matter it ought to be by creating a museum that will attract relics from all these sources. The York Pioneers have been in existence as a society for more than 20 years, and their collection of relics is at best a very meagre one. If there was a provincial museum there is no doubt many relics and historical documents would be presented to it that their present owners very wisely decline to give to a private society entirely outside public control.

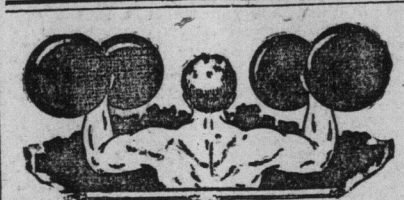

"GOD HELP THEM."
In his sermon at St. James' Cathedral yesterday morning Rev. Canon Doucett made a few trenchant remarks at the Toronto Sunday arc question. He pointed out the unfortunate condition of those who lived in the slums of the city, in that they were never able to get out into the green fields of the country and to enjoy the pure air of heaven. "God help them," said the preacher, as he contrasted the life of the rich with that of the poor who spent the summer at expensive resorts and who often traveled for years at a stretch. The rev. gentleman was thankful, however, that a change in the opinions of the people was at hand. Progress and truth, he said, would finally come out triumphant. Not, however, Brothers Paterson and O'Meara can help it. On Friday night these two back-numbers were up at Hamilton trying to collect funds to carry on their campaign of bigotry and ignorance. An effort was made to raise $500 for legal expenses to fight the running of cars on Sunday in Ontario cities. Some one ought to take pity on these two unfortunate lawyers and call them in out of the wet. Let some kind friend take them aside and gently inform them that they have become the laughing stock of the public. This would be a kindly act.

Pure Water for Toronto.
Now is the time to use Saugeen Mineral Water, flowing from an artesian well 1500 feet deep, and bottled as it flows from natural springs. Every household during the present waterworks mishap should not be without it. No danger of typhoid or malarial fever while using this water. All leading hotels keep it. In Toronto, C. H. Saunders of the Silver Creek Brewery is the agent, or for further particulars address Saugeen Mineral Water Company, Southampton, Ont.

A Female Bridge-Jumper Arrested.
New York, Sept. 7.—Flora McCarthy, 27 years old, is supposed to have jumped from the Brooklyn bridge early this morning. She was picked up in the East River, in an unconscious condition. She wore a life preserver, her stockings were weighted with sand, and an American flag was wrapped around her body. She was arrested and taken to the Hudson-street Hospital.

The Normanna Disabled.
New York, Sept. 7.—The officers of the Lullaby report that they sighted the Normanna on Wednesday afternoon, when her captain signalled that the port engine was disabled and that they were using the starboard engine. It is expected to make port to-day.

GREAT PHYSICAL STRENGTH
Is not necessary to the enjoyment of perfect health, yet strong, healthy organs and faculties give rise to the most delightful sensations of existence. Exercise, common sense and ordinary precaution and you need never be weary. When you find your stomach troubles, your bowels inactive, your nerves sensitive—look out! When your weight is decreasing, when your energy is waning, when exertion seems impossible and sleep does not give rest—look out!

Serious illness has its beginning in neglected little things. Even dread consumption comes on by degrees, and may begin with a very slight derangement. Taken in time, 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can be cured. The best safeguard against disease is an active, healthy liver. That means good blood and good blood means good health. The germs of disease seek out the weak spots in the body. Don't have any weak spots. If you have them now, clear them out, one by one, make them strong. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do it. It searches out all matters, and discharges of whatever character. It regulates the action of the organs of the whole body. It forces out impure matter, makes the blood rich and puts new life into every fiber. It makes food, firm, healthy flesh—doesn't make fat. It gives you flesh that you can work with—the flesh that means health, but a reasonable plumpness is essential to the best bodily condition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is pleasant to take and you don't have to take an ocean of it to get well either.

London, Ont., Nov. 26, 1894. Bernard Lindman, Esq., Toronto. Dear Sir—It is now about three months ago since I first noticed that a cure of my rupture was being effected by the use of one of your Williams' Trusses, and I am fully convinced that the cure is both complete and effectual. I have been taken long walks without any support of any kind, and have every confidence that my rupture, which, as you are aware, was of a very severe description, is now permanently healed, and I can assure you that I feel deeply thankful for the beneficial results. I have already recommended your appliances to several of my friends similarly affected.

Yours very sincerely,
J. H. MICKLER, Supt.
