That Pulley Accident at Aylmer.

On Saturday last The World published an account of a fatal accident at Aylmer, Ont., whereby Mr. J. D. McDiarmid of that place was instantly killed by the bursting of a poorly-constructed "wood split pulley." The Dodge Wood split pulley Co. of Tompto, while very much regretting the accident, are glad to say that the pulley in question was not one of their manufacture, and take this opportunity of advising the users of pulleys of the importance of seeing to it that they get a well-made, reliable article when purchasing. Every "Dodge" pulley manufactured is guaranteed astrong enough for the heaviest double leather belt any width. To avoid accidents or mishaps ask for the "Dodge" patent and avoid inferior imitations.

16 Improvements That Will Not Improve.

Among the alterations being made on the open ground opposite the Farliament Buildings is the planting of a number of chestnut and oak trees. Complaints are being made by officials that when these have grown to a respectable size the view from the suildings down the beautiful University-avenue will be interrupted and the appearance of the pile from the same thoroughfare entirely spoiled.
