Challenge Thrown Out by Mackenzle King and the Farmers' Party Has Been Accepted — Redistribution Abandoned - New Census Returns Will Not Be Ready In Time.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 6. - The challenge thrown out by William Lyon Mackenzie King and the Farmers' party has been accepted.

Within the next three months the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen will ask for the dissolution of Parliament and appeal to the country. He made the announcement to a gathering of two thousand people in the Grand Thea-tre here on Thursday night. "It is in my indementathe duty of

"It is in my judgment the duty of Parliament and my duty as Prime Minister of this country to ask for the dissolution of Parliament at an the dissolution of Parliament at an early date and an effection before the new year, and that is the course I am going to pursue." Mr. Meighen declared at the close of a matter of fact: explanation of the considera-tions that had led to that decision. Mr. Meighen admitted that he would Mr. Meignen admitted that he would have preferred to bring down a re-distribution bill before appealing to the people. It had always been his intention, though he had never pledged himself to redistribution, but he had come to the conclusion that it could not be done without that it could not be done without prolonging indefinitely the uncertainty and the lack of confidence that were retarding the commercial and industrial recovery of the country. Inquiry had revealed the fact that the census returns upon which re-distribution would have to be based would not be available before De-cember, but even if they could be ready in November and a special session of Parliament held, it would session of parameter next, it would still be necessary to commit the country to a long winter campaign, "A winter campaign through December, January and February is something unthinkable," he commented.

In making his announcement the Prime Minister placed before the people the issue upon which the election would be fought. The cleavage between the advocates of a policy of moderate protection and the free traders of the Farmer Party and the Liberals, with their "muffled drums" of free trade, was set forth as the issue in the campaign. Mr. Meighen stated his own posi-tion and left it to his opponents to explain theirs. The national Liberal and Conservative party was going into the contest to fight for a policy of protection. In that policy there was no room for dependence upon the good will of other nations. He spoke of the dangers of the policy advocated by the free traders, pointing his argument with the evi-dence of events. Those who were dence of events. Those who were wont to speak of free trade in food products as "A new heaven and a new earth" had learned of later

Trade and ventured the propnecy that the time would come when in Canada, as in Great Britain and the United States, the farming commun-ity would be found staunchly sup-porting protection.

AUTO BANDITS ESCAPE

Sawed Through Window Bars and Got Away.

Murrell Brothers, ' Whose Bandit Career Ended In Slaying of Russell Campbell, of Melbourne, Ont., Escaped, Leaving No Trace of Direction They Have Gone-Are Dangerous Desperadoes.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 6 .--- William and Sydney Murrell, two of the quartette of auto bandits whose depredations ended in the slaying of Russell Campbell, a garageman, when they attempted a bold daylight robbery of the Home Bank at Melbourne last April, escaped from the county jail Friday night.

They are at liberty, with no trace of the direction they have taken, leaving behind them the route of their escape as marked by sawn cell bars, a six-inch hacksaw with muffled guard, and a bricklayer's ladder with which they scaled the wall to freedom. Three weeks hence, on Monday, September 25, the Murrells, with "Silm" Williams, who remains a prisoner, were to have faced Justice Lorgie and a summer and successful and the second as the second Logic and a jury on a charge of murder. The escape was a surprise so complete to the authorities that the prisoners were probably gone a full hour before their cell was found empty.

ridor and locked in the inner night cell each evening at eight o'clock, three turnkeys usually stood guard, one at the door, armed with a revolver. On Friday, Turnkeys McLeod and

On Friday, Turnkeys McLeod and Hodgins and a special guard, Arthur Corsaut, proceeded to the cells for the usual routine. McLeod cutered first and called, "Come on, boys," but the prisoners, whom he be-lieved to be there, made no re-sponse. He stepped then into the night cell and saw the aperiure through which the men had fied. It was then a few minutes after output

On the day of the crime the ban-dit gang stole a touring car at Lambeth and drove to the village in the early morning. They built a bonfire and eat a meal in the fields, and at 11 o'clock drove into the village and halted at the Home Bank. As they, rushed in with drawn pistols, a lady clerk emerging grasped the situa-tion and ran with a warning to the Theaker responded, gun in hand, while the village telephone operator spread the alarm throughout the community. Meanwhile a second lady clerk in the bank slammed the door, of the vaulis and turned the comof the vaults and turned the combination. Reciprocal trade in grain had been arranged. It had been interrupted during the war, but it went into operation last fall. It had been in operation only a few months when the United States fastened a duty of 25 per cent. on it. Potatoes were the United States fastened a duty of 35 per cent. on it. Mr. Meighen scored those who have been seeking to stir up class feeling by making the farming com-munity believe that their interests were different to those of other classes. ing is known of their activities in the interval. The night cell was housed in a one-story lean-to in the southeast ex-ercise yard. The narrow wirdow in a brick wall 20 inches thick was barred about two inches from the exterior surface by an iron grill com-posed of three upright and three horizontal bars spaced about four inches apart. The centre perpendi-cular bar was sawed off top and bot-tom and the three horizontals were cut at each end to make an opening about 18 inches high aud nine inches wide. The sill of the window was but five feet from the ground. A brick wall is being built by Wilson & Co., contractors, inside the exercise yard, to make a storage space for equipment for the county of Middlesex Works Department, and gangs of men have been at wor2 there every day. A bricklayer's lad-der stood against the jall wall, reach-ing to within four feet of its top, embedded with broken bottles and other supposed obstacles to escape. The yard was in darkness and un-guarded. The prisoners, since the time of their arrest, have practiced physical exercises each day, and both, according to jail officials, are good athletes, capable of performing astounding feats of strength and agility. From the top of the wall they appear to have jumped down to a small shed and thence to the ground and liberty, within half a block of King street. Whether accomplices awaited them in a motor car is nothing more substantial than a suspicion, but it is not doubted by the police that the escape was carefully planned and coolly executed. Doubtless already armed, both ex-pert' automobile drivers, they are probably on their way, and he who
