

BURNS UP $250,000
BUT SAVED SHIPCuban Gunboat Captain Burns Liquor
When Ship's Coal Is Gone.

Yarmouth.—How the youthful captain of a former Cuban gunboat, liquor laden, converted his storeroom into a spirit burner, at sea in the height of a gale that threatened to swamp the vessel, was told when the Maria jumped into this port, her decks littered with the remnants of seven hundred cases of alcohol which had been burned in the furnace after the coal supply had been exhausted. The liquor had represented $250,000 valued at eighteen dollars per gallon.

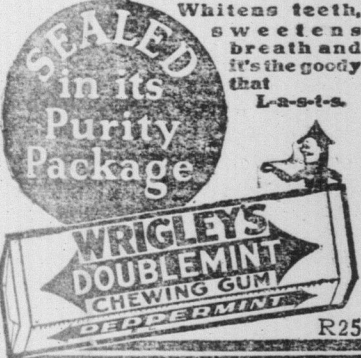

The Maria, Captain Bernal, sailed from Havana twenty-four days ago, with 10,000 cases of assorted liquors, bound for St. Pierre via Yarmouth. It took followed, and almost throughout the twenty-four days at sea the Maria was in the clutch of such storms that it seemed impossible she would stay afloat.

After the crew had repaired broken down engines and ran before the gale for into the Atlantic, it was found that the coal supply was exhausted and food almost gone. It was decided to burn the liquor in a furnace of spirit as the only hope of remaining afloat and all the fragrant of the liquor was brought to bear upon the problem. Even with what was probably the most expensive fuel ever used by a steamer the heat speed that could be averaged was four knots per hour.

Here and There

The gold mines of Northern Ontario broke all previous records in the month of January, when they produced approximately $2,100,000, based on preliminary reports received from the mines.

It is reported that arrangements have been made for the financing of a $500,000 plant in Edmonton, Alta., for the manufacture of paving blocks from the tar sands of Fort McMurray.

The first of the private fur auction sales which the Hudson Bay Company has decided to hold in future at their head office in Montreal took place recently, when a collection of various furs, estimated roughly at $25,000 to $30,000 value, was put up for sale by sealed bids.

Grain handled at the port of Montreal in 1923 totalled 120,013,938 bushels, the largest amount shipped through any port in North America during the year. Montreal thus maintains for the third consecutive year her position as the leading grain exporting port of the continent.

Dr. Geo. H. Locke, chief librarian, Toronto, at the request of the Canadian Authors' Association, has undertaken to supervise the selection of volumes for the Canadian literature exhibit at the British Empire Exhibition. The task involves the gathering together of 500 representative books and it is anticipated will take about a fortnight.

From all indications, the potato shipments to Havana this season from the port of St. John, New Brunswick, will greatly exceed those of last year. To date there have been 750,307 bushels sent forward in twenty steamers, while from September 1, 1922, until January 31, 1923, a total of 505,668 bushels were shipped in seventeen steamers.

With heavy enquiries from South American sources for Canadian flour, millers expect to see their export volume substantially increased during the month of February, as compared with January. This movement, together with offerings of a premium for wheat at Vancouver, has been the most encouraging trade feature of the past month in Winnipeg, Man.

Colonel Geo. H. Ham, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who recently returned from Florida, reports that Canada was prominently featured at the South Florida fair, held at Tampa some time ago. A very striking exhibit of Canadian products and natural resources was displayed and a "Canada Day" was celebrated, all of which is said to have been a revelation to those who attended.

Buffalo meat from the park at Wainwright has recently been on sale throughout Canada and has been extremely well received. It is described as resembling beef but of a more gamy flavor. Government officials expect that this meat, with hides and other buffalo products, will become a regular source of income to the people of Canada in the future.

Work on the Kenogami dam, in the Province of Quebec, is reported as progressing very well, and the $2,000,000 works located at the upper part of the Saguenay River are expected to be completed within 15 months. As a result of these works, the mills operated by the Price interests will be kept in full activity during the whole year, instead of partly closing down in the winter months, as they have had to do in the past.

Crusoe Knew What He Wanted And He Got It

ONE of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe. He knew what he wanted—a ship—so he put up an ad. for one. He hung up a shirt on a pole, at the top of his island. That, in the language of the sea, was plain to every seafaring man.

The circulation was small, there was no other medium, but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no enquiries for a long time. He changed his copy, as one garment after another was frayed out, and in the end got what he wanted.

Crusoe used the best medium at his disposal. The best medium in Annapolis County, Mr. Advertiser, is the Weekly Monitor. It goes direct to the people to whom you wish to tell your story. Use these columns persistently and you are bound to obtain results.

HELL AND DAMNATION AWAIT
JOY RIDERS, JAZZ HOUNDS
AND MORBID MOVIE
FANS, SAYS FR.
McBRIARTY

(From Sydney Record)

"Hell and eternal damnation awaits many souls, due to the immorality which prevails in the low motion picture houses and dance halls," said Rev. Father McBriarty, speaking to the men of the Church of the Sacred Heart on Friday evening.

Father McBriarty's sermon dealt with the three concupiscences on which the devil plays in his degradation of human souls in the game of life—pride, sensuality and avarice.

The reverend father said: "The underlying cause of industrial disputes is lack of correction by the parents during the youth of the men employed in the industries. These men through this lack of correction acquire a pride which cannot be crushed, by themselves or anyone else. When their employers tell them to do a certain thing the youthful employees, due entirely to pride, maintain a stupid defiance. What is the result? A clash, cessation of work, and loss of time and money follows. Thus the parents are in the main responsible for many industrial disputes, because they spared the rod during the infancy and youth of their children. This is more noticeable in the present generation than in the past. The fathers of the present generation have gained their wisdom at the expense of the rod, are thanking their parents for it now. Children who refuse to be governed should be punished corporally. If at first they do not respond to kindness, then use the rod. Good habits will be installed and they will grow up to thank you for it."

Sins of Sensuality. Speaking of the sin of sensuality, Father McBriarty said: "There are two sins of sensuality—immorality and drunkenness. Go into the low motion picture house and what do you see? Practically nakedness walking the stage. Immorality is to be plainly seen and unvarnished immorality. The alliance of divorced couples takes place. How, in the name of God, can any man go in and take a seat and remain seated without blushing?"

"Go into the dance halls and you see dances gone through which are downright sinful. A man said to me the other day: 'Father, how in God's name can a man lead a decent life when he has to take part in the dances which are danced today—dances which are suggestive?'"

Going further in his sermon, Father McBriarty said: "The auto has its good points as a great means of transportation and recreation. I am ready to take an oath that more than one soul has been ruined through night auto parties. The young women of today, before they will go, ask the young man if he has anything. Of course they mean 'hooray'."

"My God, what a sorry spectacle it is to see a young man, half drunk, at the wheel, and a girl, in a similar condition, seated beside him. You well know what sins are committed by this couple while in this condition. On the day of judgment, I say, many automobiles will figure in the accusations. Many a car with its license number will be brought to accuse some men."

"Why do young people keep company? With the object of getting married. But today some young people they have special privileges once they become engaged. You will even find parents going to bed and leaving young men and their daughters in the parlor. I cannot understand how they can do it. What can you expect of married life if this is the way they act during their engagement? What a mockery it is for these young people to approach the altar and ask for the Holy sacrament of matrimony. Be on your guard and remember the devil is always tempting you. Guard against it by prayer. Let us remember who we are, for, after all, we are the sons of God, and are made to His own image and likeness."

Effects of Immorality. Continuing, he said: "Go into the hospitals and insane asylums today and you will see young men lying pale and wan on cots, or walking the floor raving lunatics, suffering from a disease. What disease? A disease brought on by the occasions of sin. Go to the water edge in spirit tonight. If the waves could only speak what story they would unfold. A story of suicide brought on by the occasions of sin. Go to the depths of hell in spirit tonight and ask the suffering souls the cause of their condemnation. Their answer would be, 'because of the sin of impurity.'"

"The three faculties that make a man a man are reason, will, and ability to love," said Father McBriarty. "But the demon drunkenness robs us of these three faculties. A drunkard has not the use of his reason. His free will is gone, and his faith is gone. My God, what is a man who has lost these faculties? He is a brute, a low down brute. We are bound by commandment to love our parents, brothers and sisters and neighbors. Does a drunkard love his

Prominent Ontario Fruit Grower Tells Of Study Of British Market.—
Should Not Export Anything Less Than No.
2 Grade.

(The Farmers' Sun, Toronto)

The necessity of sending only good quality apples to the British market was strongly emphasized by James E. Johnson, of Simcoe, manager of the Norfolk Fruit Growers' Co-operative, in telling the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature of the results of his study of the Old Country and European market for fruit. Mr. Johnson was sent over for this purpose by the Ontario Government.

He advised against sending anything less than No. 2 grade apples to the British trade. "Better leave No. 3 and Domestic apples at home," he declared, "or, better still, educate growers not to grow so many of these. Every dollar invested in thinning means two dollars back in results." He advised pruning with the opening of Spring, except where orchards were thoroughly familiar with winter pruning.

Mr. Johnson recommended against exporting apples in boxes, stating that barrels were more profitable and were what the English buyers were accustomed to. The varieties suited to this trade were Golden Russets, Greenings, Newton Pippins, Ribston Pippins, Baldwins, Kings and in some years Wealthies.

He urged more careful packing for export, and explained the auction system followed in the Old Land. He had found British brokers dealt fairly and said the Commission men were often blamed for market conditions and condition of fruit for which they were not responsible.

Mr. Johnson recommended more educational work among fruit growers. The Department, he said, had done good work, but it was important that members of the House should get the public interested. Production and handling costs were not properly understood. An education campaign to increase production in the vicinity of urban centres would also be desirable.

He stated that 33 cars of apples sent to him from Norfolk to England netted $3.77 per barrel. This was not a high figure, he admitted, but important in that otherwise the price of apples sold at home would have been less. The latter netted $4.17.

The first step toward failure is landing a soft job.

What a life the poor woman lives. It would have been better for her to have been put in a shroud on her wedding day than to face the hell upon earth that is her life. What do the children hear? Nothing but blasphemy and curses, with most likely the foulest oaths. Poverty reigns because the husband will not work. I am not preaching to discourage you, but to warn you against the pitfalls. To the young man I say, 'Do not touch the sparkling glass, because ruin, remorse and sorrow follow in its wake. The perfume is the breath of death, its sparkle is the eye of evil.'

"The last concupiscence upon which the devil plays is avarice, an inordinate desire for money. 'It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than it is for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven.' Now, why is it easier for the impossible to happen than for a rich man to enter heaven? Not because of his riches, but because he forgets God and his duties towards God. The rich man will rob his neighbors solely for love of money. He makes it his God. Look at the wild speculation going on in the exchange today. It converts them into nothing more than gambling houses. The press and the politicians promise to do anything for money. Judas paved the way to his suicide by his love of riches, which he gained while acting as treasurer of the money obtained by the apostles and betrayed his Master for 30 miserable pieces of silver."

CANADA'S FUR CROP

SEVENTEEN MILLIONS

Maritime Provinces Contribute Less Than a Million.

Ottawa.—The total value of the raw fur production in Canada in the season of 1922-23 was $15,751,597, the number of pelts being 1,932,267. Compared with the previous season, an increase of 557,296 is shown in the number of pelts and a decrease of $677,300 in the value. Of the Provinces, Ontario led in value of raw fur production, with a total of $3,616,592, followed by Quebec with $3,049,656, Saskatchewan with $2,242,937, and the Northwest Territories with $2,171,424. The combined values of the Maritime Provinces was $738,816.

In 1922 there were 977 fox farms in Canada, of which less than one-half were situated in Prince Edward Island.

FORD MAY USE N. S. COAL

Big Coking Plant Is Being Erected At Ford City.

The virtues are lost in interest as rivers are lost in the sea.

A bribe will enter without knocking.

Ottawa.—Hon. E. M. MacDonald returned from Windsor, Ontario, where he was the guest at a dinner given by the Veterans of the Border Cities. While there Mr. MacDonald visited the various manufacturing industries in these towns, and found that at Ford City where there is now being completed a very large manufacturing building in connection with the construction of Ford cars that they are proceeding with the construction also of a large coke plant, which is intended to be used exclusively, if possible, in the coking of Canadian coal. Mr. MacDonald discussed with the directors of the Company the desirability of their using Nova Scotia coal for this purpose, and a full investigation is being made into the possibility of this being done.
