A FARMER'S ADVICE.

HE TELLS THE PEOPLE TO SHUN IMITATIONS.

HE HAD BEEN IMPOSED UPON BY AN UN-SCRUPULOUS DEALER WITH THE RESULT THAT IT NEARLY COST THE LIFE OF A LOVED MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY.

From the Woodstock, N.B., Sentinel. A reporter of the Sentinel recently dropped into the Victoria Hotel looking for general news and to scan the register for arrivals. Among those present he noticed a well-dressed farmer sitting reading a small pamphlet. The reporter asked the landlord if there was anything new, and being answered in the negative the farmer turned and addressed him. "Looking for news, ch? Well, sit down and I'll give you something worth pubthe alert and the farmer continued, "You see this little book I hold in my hand? Well, the title of it is "Five Prize Stories," and there is more good sense in it than in half of the philosophical works of the day, and it don't lay in any of the stories either. Well about a year ago I got hold of another little book by the same author entitled "Four General tions," which I read carefully through, and one very important thing I read in it was, beware of imitations, just as I read in this little book. Now I wish to show how I had been taken in (deceived) and how I found it out and how near it came to costing me the dearest member of my household. Well, to begin at the beginning. My name is Shepherd Banks; I reside 111 miles from the village of Bristol, Carleton Co., N.B.; and am a well-to-do farmer. For several years my wife was troubled with pains in the back and weakness of the kidneys. About two years ago she was taken very ill, the trouble taking the form of acute rheumatism. We consulted no less than three different doctors who, however, failed to help her. She continued to grow weaker and weaker, and the pains she endured were something terrible, For over a year she was unable to do a single thing about the house, and she had fallen away in weight from 180 to 130 pounds. and we despaired of her recovery. I happened to notice in one of the newspapers a testimonial of a similar cure through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I immediately got a couple of hoxes. My wife began taking them, and by the time she had used these she began to gain appetite and her pains were much eased, and we began to have great hopes of an ultimate cure. I then went for another supply of the pills. This time I purchased them in bulk, paying 30 cents for 100 pills, which were taken from a large glass bottle. I took them home and my wife began their use. Soon after she began to grow worse again; the old pains returned severer than ever. We still continued the use of the rills until shout a third of them. of the pills until about a third of them were gone. About this time I got through the mail, along with my neighbors, the book entitled, "Four Generations," issued by the Dr. Williams Medicine Oo. On reading it it did not take me long to find out that the pills I had bought in bulk were a fraud, as Dr. time and supplicated the Virgin to have is atways a monsignor.

Williams' Pink Pills are not sold in mercy upon them. This was no infred as well to say here, for the benefit mercy upon them in the most crowded of non-Catholics, that "monsignori" are bulk, but in boxes with the trade mark quent sight, even in the most crowded on the wrapper. I went to the cup board thoroughtares. Even after the exciteand taking down the box in which the ment had subsided many of the more pills were threw it and its contents into superstitions still believed that the phethe stove. I then went and procured a nomenon had been sent as a warning half dozen boxes of the genuine Pink portending some dire calamity to Spain Pills, and from the time my wife began | The success of the insurgent armies in | His closed carriage is a simple and eletheir use there was an improvement in | Cuba was the first thought to occur to | gant brougham having his coat of arms her condition. The warning uttered by Mr. Banks is | been exploded. one that the public will do well to heed, for some unscrupulous dealers in different parts of the country try to impose upon the public by trashy imitations colored to present the appearance of the genuine Pink Pills. The public can always protect themselves by bearing in mind that the genuine pills are never sold by the dozen, hundred or ounce. They are always put up in boxes around which will be found full directions for their use, the whole enclosed in a label bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Will-iams' Pink Pills for Pale People." If you want a medicine that will cure all disenses due to poor or watery blood, or shattered nerves, ask for the genuine Pink Pills, and take nothing else, no matter what some interested dealer who is looking for a larger profit may say.

EXPLOSION OF AN AEROLITE.

MANY INJURED FLEEING FROM BUILDINGS. MADRID, Feb. 10.—An immense aerolite exploded above the city at 9.30 a.m. to-day. There was a vivid glare of light and a loud report, followed by a general panic. All the buildings were shaken and many windows shattered. According to the officials of the Madrid observatory, the explosion occurred 20 miles above the earth. The sun was shining clearly at the force of the concussion to walls and windows throughout the city.

When the explosion occurred the populace believed that it was an earthquake or a sign of divine wrath. Many of them threw themselves on their taces wherever they happened to be at the time and supplicated the Virgin to have is always a monsignor. It is to them naturally, and is the expression i of a certain unchanging persistence; the sake of magnifying the little strength they have.

The Pope's voice is as distinctly individual as his manner of speaking. It is not deep nor very full, but, considering his great age, it is wonderfully clear and ringing, and it has a certain incisiveness of sound which gives it great carrying power. Pius IX. had as beautiful a voice, both in compass and in richness of quality, as any baritone singer in the Sistine choir. No one who ever heard him intone the "Te Deum" in St. Peter's, in the old days, can forget the grand tones. He

-with great physical beauty, with a rare charm of manner and with a most witty humor; and in character was one of the most kind-hearted and gentle men of his day, as he was also one of the least initiative, so to say, while endowed with the high moral courage of boundless patience and political humility.

Leo XIII. need speak but half a dozen dozen words, with one glance of his flashing eyes and one gesture of his noticeably long arm and transparently thin hand, and the moral distance between his predecessor and himself is at once apparent. There is a strength still in every movement, there is deliberate decision in every tone, there is lofty independence in every look. Behind these there may may be kindliness, charity and all the milder gitts of virtue; but what is apparent is a sort of energetic, manly trenchancy which forces admiration rather than awakens sympathy.

In spite of his great age, the Holy Father enjoys excellent health, and leads a life full of occupations from morning till night. He has in no respect changed his habits since the time he fived at Perugia as Cardinal. He rises very early, and when at about 6 o'clock in the morning his valet, Pio Centra, enters his little bedroom, he more often finds him risen than asleep. He is accustomed to sleep little-not more than four or five hours at night, though he rests awhile after dinner. We are told that sometimes he has been found asleep in his chair by his writing-table at dawn, not having been to bed at all. Of late he frequently says Mass in a chapel in his private apartments, and the Mass is served by Pio Centra. On Sundays and feast days he says it in another chapel preceding the throne-room.

The little chapel is of small dimensions, but by opening the door into the neighboring room a number of persons can assist at the Mass. The permission. when given, is obtained on application to the "Maestro di Camera," and is generally conceded only to distinguished foreign persons. After saying Mass himself, the Holy Father immediately hears a second one, said by one of the private chaplains on duty for the week. whose business it is to take care of the reminiscence of Carpineto and of the mountaineer's early life.

Every day at about 10 o'clock he receives the Secretary of State, Cardinal in his own apartments, and on those days the under-secretary, Monsignor Rinaldini, confers with the Pope in his chief's place. Cardinal Mario Mocenni, acting prefect of the "Holy Apostolic Palaces," is received by the Pope when he has business to expound. On the first and third Fridays of each month the maggiordomo, Monsignor della Volpe, is re-ceived, and so on, in order, the Cardi-nal prefects of the several Roman congregations, the under-secretaries, and there is a list of them, with the days of their audience.

During the morning he receives the Cardinals, the Bishops "ad limina," ambassadors who are going away on leave or who have just returned, princes and members of the Roman nobility, and distinguished foreigners.

At 10 o'clock he takes a cap of broth brought by Centra. At 2 in the afternoon, or a little earlier, he dines. He is most abstemious, although he has an excellent digestion. His private physician, Doctor Giuseppe Lapponi, has been heard to say that he himself eats more at one meal than the Holy Father cats in a week.

Every day, unless indisposed, some one is recived in private audience. These audiences are usually for the Cardinal prefects of the congregations, the patriarchs, Archbishops, and Bishops who are in Rome at the time, and distinguished personages.

When the weather is fine, the Pope generally walks or drives in the garden. He is carried out of his apartments to the gate in a sedan-chair by the liveried
