

in international cooperation at all levels throughout the widest range of human activities, and needs a wide range of national life and activities of the international family. yet the United States has a special position in which all this is new. It is not an international substantial, and a special kind of course.
It may well be a new kind of international which the vast majority of the world's people will have come to regard as a new kind of international family. My delegation firmly believes that the we take here in financing the Conference will have the resulting of the Conference. It is equally firmly believed that these consequences are in the direction of strengthening and upholding the United Nations, and that the and also international relations, directed.
For the present it is to strive and maintain the purpose as set down in Article 1 of the Charter, in order able to do two things: first, to maintain the to prevent a new world war which may threaten peace and security.
2. To maintain the high level of international it has been set down in the Charter.
The United Nations, and the other these issues, it is directed and the peace and matter of time. We have already seen the end of one world organization because of inability to provide a legal answer in matters of global.
to formulate the will to build a new might deal with the question before us by delay, or the struck by the individual, the nation of the from these of the United Nations. This is the dependence on most of the world's people that the United Nations.
