The investigation was placed in the hands of George S. Sampson, Burns detective, who brought with him a score of assistants. He inaugurated the firm of Martin & Co., general contractors, 52 Duluth Building, Montreal, and it was there that The Daily Mail alleges "the trap was baited." The dummy company was incorporated in due form, a handsome suite of rooms rented, while one Burns agent was set adrift in the city hall, Mr. Sampson meanwhile posing as the head of the firm of Martin & Co. The com-pany drafted a bill proposing to give

Council to Deal With It After a three hours' conference with architects and builders this morning, the board of control passed the new building bylaw on to the city council. The principal objection to the new by-law, as framed, was that it allowed noth-ing but first class, fire proof buildings to be erected in the central business dis-trict. This was considered a hardship and as likely to curtall building opera-tions.

THE LONDON BELLES Next Week-The "HONEYMOON GIRLS"

PLAYED A TIE GAME The World and Methodist Book Room played ten minutes' overtime to a tie, 2 to 2. In the third fixture of the Pub-lishers' League, at Clinton street rink last night. The game started off with a rush, and after some end to end play. Rutledge netted from in front for The World. Five minutes later, Smith beat the Book Room net guardian by a high one from the corner. The Book Room sot one back just before the bell for hard the Book Room evened up the speed, and the Book Room evened up the speed out from both sides. To-wards the end, Cain of The World and williams of the Book Room engaged in a free fight, and both took a rest for the balance of the game. The ten min-tues overtime resulted in no scoring. Except for the rough stuff the game was good and fast. This is a bad fea-ture of the Publishers' League, which, unless nipped in the bud, bids fair to give it a bad deputation. It is up to the league executive to get out some referees who will kee pthe teams to clean hockey. GRAND MATS Saty 250 & 500 OPERA EXCUSE HOUSE ME FIRST TIME NEXT-A Fool There Was
