

- ship, 289. Attempt to sail frustrated, 290. Second winter's station, 291. Excursion to the northward, ib. Discovery of the Magnetic Pole, 293. Another fruitless attempt to sail, and third winter, 294. Observations on the Esquimaux, 295-298. Journey in boats to Fury Beach, 298. Finally abandons the Victory, 299. Fruitless attempt to penetrate through Barrow's Strait, ib. Fourth winter at Somerset House, Prince Regent's Inlet, 300. Successful navigation next summer, 302. Received on board of the Isabella whaler, 303. Return home, 304. Rewards to the adventurers, ib. General results of the voyage, 305. Expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, 409.
- Russian expeditions to Nova Zembla, 142.
- S.
- Samoledes, account of the, 115, 124, 257.
- Scoresby, Mr., his experience in the navigation of the Frozen Seas, 20. Observations by, 316. Excursion on Jan Mayen's Island, 319, 486. Discoveries on the east coast of Greenland, 320-326. Opinion on Sir John Franklin's case, 403.
- Shedden, Robert, Esq., his exertions in search of Sir John Franklin, 377, 380.
- Snow, W. Parker, Esq., his voyage in search of Sir John Franklin. See Forsyth.
- Southampton Island, observations, and perils along its coast in the voyage of Captain Back, 347-357.
- Splzbergen, 13; 327, 346, 311, 312, 325, 331. Dutch settlement, on, 427, 431, 434. Geology of, 452.
- V.
- Victoria Land, 361, 365.
- Voyages, ancient, to the North, 95-102. The Carthaginians, 95. Pytheas, 96. The Romans, 97. The Zeni and Quirini, 100.
- Voyages in quest of a North-east Passage, 103-143. Sir Hugh Willoughby's expedition, 105. Its disastrous issue, 112. Voyage of Stephen Burroughs, 114. Pet and Jackman's voyage, 119. Dutch expeditions under Barentz, 120-189. Hudson's expedition 189. Captain John Wood's, 141. Russian expeditions to Nova Zembla, 142.
- Voyages, early, towards the North Pole, 144-154. Henry Hudson, 145. Jonas Poole, 146. William Baffin, 150. Fotherby's voyages, 151. Recent Polar voyages, 308-343. Phipps' (Lord Mulgrave) expedition, 309. Scoresby's voyages, 316. Clavering's voyage, 326. Expedition of Graah, 328. De Blasseville, Dutailles, and Trehouart, 329. Buchan, 331. Parry's Fourth or Polar expedition, 333-340. Question as to the practicability of penetrating to the Pole, 341.
- Voyages, early, in search of a North-west Passage, 155-211. Voyages of the Cortereals, 156-160. Gomez' voyage, 161. Expeditions in the reign of Henry VIII., 161-164. Frobisher's voyages, 164-176. Davis' three voyages, 179-187. Weymouth's expedition, 188. Knight's voyage, 191. Hudson's expedition, 193; calamitous termination of, 203. Voyages of Button, ib.; Gibbons, 204; and Bylot, ib. Baffin's expedition, 205-207. Fox and James' voyage, 210; Knight and Barlow's, ib.; Middleton's, ib. Moor and Smith's, 211. Recent North-west Voyages, 212-270. Ross's First Voyage, 214-220. Parry's First Expedition, 221-232. Second Expedition, 233-287; Third Expedition, 267-270; Ross's Second Voyage, 271-304. Position of the question respecting a North-west Passage, 305. Revival of interest in it after the return of the Antarctic expedition, 370-372. Instructions to Sir John Franklin respecting it, 372-376.
- W.
- Walrus or morse, the, 72. Encounters with, 252, 313.
- Waygat, island of, 122.
- Wellington Channel, 225, 305, 374, 419.
- Weymouth, George, voyage by, in search of a North-west Passage, 188. Conspiracy of the crew, 189. Dreadful hurricane, 190.
- Whale, the description of, 67-70.