

COMMISSION DEALS WITH JOWLETT CASE

Father Tells Police Board Son Hardly Recognizable—Adjourned.

Further adjournment of the charge of assaulting a prisoner made before the board of police commissioners by Fred Jowlett, against plainclothesman Dunlop, was made by the board yesterday afternoon. Mayor Church endeavored to find out who assaulted Jowlett near a Greek restaurant on West Queen street several weeks ago, and in order that all witnesses might be heard, several members of the jail staff will be asked to appear at the next meeting of the commissioners. Officers from Claremont street station testified that Jowlett was in front of the restaurant when the front window was broken and when a police sergeant called to Jowlett to come to him, Jowlett is said to have started to run away. The officers in the station said that Jowlett was bleeding about the mouth when brought into the station, but did not complain of having been roughly treated by the police.

He spent Sunday over the Don, and when he appeared Monday morning in police court was acquitted of a charge of breaking the cafe window. Jowlett's father stated when he saw his son Monday morning he was so badly injured about the face he could hardly recognize him.

Chinese Raids.
The consul-general of China wrote the commissioners from Ottawa complaining of the raids last month on the Chinese stores on Elizabeth street. He asked that the police locate the ringleaders of the gang and prosecute them. The board are already having the police endeavor to locate the ringleader and if they find them the board will see that they are prosecuted.

Dr. Clarke and Mrs. Huettis interviewed the commissioners, asking that all patients suspected of being feeble-minded be medically examined before they are dealt with by the court. The commissioners expressed sympathy with the request, but remarked they have no jurisdiction in the matter.

The city solicitor will be requested to draft an amendment to the city by-law giving the police power to convict theatrical firms for showing posters which are not approved by the police. As the law is at present the police only have authority to confiscate the posters.

A returned soldier wrote asking that he be given a position training policemen in first aid. He claimed to be highly experienced in first aid work. The commissioners are satisfied with the doctors now training the men.

Two probationers, H. Shingleton and Jackson, resigned and their resignations were accepted.

Sportsmen and Red Cross Combine to Cheer Wounded

The Red Cross and the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association are combining to give various military hospitals a grand Christmas celebration on December 22. Christmas cheer will be the best procurable—will be the gift of the Red Cross. The Sportsmen's part will come on with the vaudeville and motion picture performance and again in the evening when there will be dancing, women friends will be invited and first class orchestra will share with the hospital staff. The hospitals that will share will be the Dominion Orthopedic, the Base Hospital, St. Andrew's and Pearson Hall. Altogether 1,821 soldiers and sailors, together with 840 nurses and others of the hospital staffs. Christmas stockings will be donated by friends and members of various societies.

SEEK KAPUSKASING PROBE.

A deputation from the Grand Army of Canada, headed by H. McLeod, L. Montgomery, J. F. Marsh and D. Precious, waited on Premier B. C. Drury yesterday asking for an investigation of the conditions at the Kapuskasing soldiers colony. Premier Drury promised the deputation that he would order an investigation of their complaints and see what could be done to adjust matters.

LECTURE ON IRELAND.

A lecture on "Ireland of Today," with lantern slides, was given last night at St. Vincent's Hall, Rensselaer avenue, by Rev. L. Minehan, who has just returned from the green isle, and was able to give first-hand information to his audience. The lecture will be repeated tonight.

DEWSON SCHOOL WANTS $130,000.

On Thursday night the board of education will be asked to set aside in next year's estimates the sum of $130,000 for an extension to Dewson Street School. Last spring, in compliance with the city's request for retrenchment, the board cut out of its items an appropriation of $70,000 for the same purpose.

GETTING "HEP" TO THE GOOD EATS

A Host of Dyspeptics Can Get Back to the Old Days of Freedom by the Simple Expedient of a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Meals.

"Gosh! I never knew before how good these little pork sausages were." Thus says the man who thought his stomach was gone for all time, but who tried the simple expedient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after eating. And with this for a starter, he goes in for a cheese sandwich, a slice of hot mince pie, eats ham and thinks only of the energy and good feeling that follow eating the foods that make most people ravenously hungry even when they are full. And all of this without any risings, no gas, no belching and none of that growly heaviness that so often follows indigestion. Try these tablets after eating. They are used extensively wherever good eaters are found and are on sale almost everywhere in the United States and Canada.

SUPERVISORY MEN LABORITES TODAY

Masters, Mates and Pilots Join Ranks of Trades Unionism.

Most recent, and, perhaps, in its way, the most important move in the arena of trades unionism, is the alignment of the National Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots with the Trades Council in Toronto. Tomorrow night the roll-call of the Trades Council will be answered by Captains Cooke, Nicke, Brown and Milton Hornby. This is significant, having in mind the fact that only a few days ago one of the chief exponents of trades unionism in Toronto stated that what was needed in the movement was the infusion into its ranks of what might well be termed the supervisory section of the working community.

The National Association was organized in the United States last March, and today numbers 89 members, which, in the parlance of mariners, is synonymous with locals at the Labor Temple, Harbors in Canada have already been organized in Montreal, Quebec and Kingston, nearly a hundred belonging to Kingston, 150 in Toronto and 300 in Montreal. It is the intention of the business manager for the lakes to institute many more harbors in the very near future, and the association will shortly take in all the coasts of lake and ocean within and bordering both the United States and Canada.

Capt. W. J. Stitt is president of Toronto Harbor, No. 68. A secretary is to be elected on Monday. Capt. John Strain of Buffalo is the business manager for the association.

WILL NOT AFFILIATE

G.W.V.A. Decides Against Joining Veterans' League Upon Terms at Present Proposed.

That the G. W. V. A. of Toronto will not join or affiliate with the Veterans' League of Toronto upon the proposed terms of representation has been decided. The views of each individual branch in the matter have been secured, and with the exception of Riverdale, all are dissatisfied with the basis of the federation as proposed.

Secretary J. V. Conroy, of the district command, stated to The World that it was unreasonable to expect the G.W.V.A. to surrender its influence and authority by consenting to enter a league in which it is to have no more representatives than any one of a dozen bodies with one-tenth of its membership.

Under the constitution of the Toronto League of Veterans each organization is represented by five delegates without regard to size, while the plan favored by the G.W.V.A. is per capita representation.

The street car was east bound on Wellington street and was driven by Motorman James Wallace, 337 Parliament street. Wallace was not detained by the police.

A Message to Business Men and Their Wives

The following statement coming from a hard-headed business man like Chas. M. Schwab is something that should be taken seriously as an indication that music is departing from its ancient state of divine uselessness.

Where Business Men are Wrong

It is a favorite saying among men that "Music is for Women." But is it? Why are not the refining influences of this wonderful art just as much needed by men and as applicable to men? Some men seem to think they lose a part of their masculinity if they confess to a love of music. Well, I love music and I think I have held on pretty well to the masculine side of my nature. In fact, music has meant much to me in my life. Again and again it has refreshed me when I was dog-tired; taken me out of myself and away from the problems of business. A book can do that, too. So can a painting. But not so surely as does music.

There is a reach to music that the other arts have not; it seems to "get" to you in an exhausted mood and quietude and refreshes you as a book or a picture is not so sure. Of course, much depends on a man's nature, on his temperament. But, speaking broadly, and knowing men as I do, I cannot help but feel that the average business man would be benefited more than the dreamer by the more than himself to music. I need not be the long opera at first. Let him select the shorter concert. But few men immersed in business are right in turning their backs upon music as a means of absolute refreshment, mental and physical.

CITY HALL NOTES

The city council, at its meeting on Monday last, passed just six paragraphs of the first page of a 64-page agenda. No exceeding the speed limit here.

All grocery and fruit stores will be compelled to close their doors at 7 o'clock on and after Dec. 12, and to serve a customer with even a lemon to cure a bad cold after that hour will be an illegal act. Housewives, who like to do their Christmas buying with the valued aid of their husbands, will not be able this year to follow the custom, as during Christmas week all such naughty places as a grocery or fruit store will be closed.

A good many of the aldermen realized yesterday the full meaning of the old saying: "Act in haste, repent at leisure," and wished that they had thought deeper on the early-closing question before registering their votes in its favor on Monday night. All day yesterday the phones were ringing with aldermen were working overtime. Questions were being leveled at them from small grocery and fruit store owners, asking opportunity of getting rid of the particular alderman had voted against the individual citizen's business interests. The questions were difficult to answer, but the aldermen will hear them again when he goes before the people for re-election. Some big "explaining" will have to be done, indeed.

Controller McBride says a big deputation of small grocery and fruit store proprietors will be on hand at Thursday's council meeting to endeavor to get a re-opening of the whole question, and, if that fails, it is likely the matter may be heard of in the law courts. Many of the larger grocers are also not at all pleased with the present decision. It seems Controller Maguire had promised to pass a resolution making the law effective from Dec. 29, instead of Dec. 12. The resolution was not pressed, and now both the large and the small grocers will have little opportunity of getting rid of the special Christmas stock, which only sells readily in the evenings. The Retail Merchants' Association seem to have bitten off more than they can chew by forcing their laws on early closing on the council.

It was rumored around the city hall yesterday that four aldermen have decided not to seek re-election, namely: Frank M. Johnston, ward one, who was top of the poll in his ward at the last election; Francis W. Johnston, ward three, who took second place, but was nearly 1500 votes below Ald. Rameden, who was in first place; J. C. McMillan, ward four, who registered third place, being but 300 votes from the top; and R. H. Graham, who easily took the premier position. No names were mentioned yesterday as likely successors to these aldermen.

All the members of the old board of control—Controllers Maguire, Cameron, Robbins and McBride—are likely to run again for office, and it is conceded that with one exception they are nearly sure to be re-elected. Ex-Ald. Joseph Gibbons as a sure starter for a controllership, and as a lady candidate will also be in the field, to say nothing of last moment selections. A lively contest is certain. Further, it is said by aldermen likely to know that Ald. Rameden and Hiltz, who are undoubtedly two of the most able men in the council, are anxious to become controllers. They are, however, awaiting the decision of the old guard to run or not to run before coming to a final decision.

Two Toronto women are already in the field for seats in the city council.

AIRY MILLIONAIRE ONCE IN TORONTO

Ex-Manager of Shingle Company Will Buy Zeebrugge on Shoestring.

P. J. Keiran, the alleged Irish-American "millionaire" who promised two months ago to invest £150,000,000 in Irish housing, has not yet produced the first million demanded some weeks ago by Dublin Corporation as evidence of good faith.

P. J. Keiran, formerly known as W. P. Keiran, will be remembered by many as the erstwhile manager of the Toronto Shingle Company, with offices at 515 West Queen street. Later Mr. Keiran formed the Fidelity Funding Company of New York, which, after a lurid career, was wound up.

The Irish housing scheme is by no means the first airy offer of millions which has come from Mr. Keiran, who is a bluff, suave man of 55, born in County Monaghan and brought up in the United States. Mr. Keiran is, or has been, engaged in the following projects, all involving many millions: Since he arrived in England in 1915, 1915—An offer to the British treasury to raise a "war loan" of £5,000,000 in the United States. The proposal was severely "turned down."

1916—A proposal to sell £5,000,000 of Chinese bonds and float a company with the Chinese government as partners. Nothing came of this.

1917—A proposal to form a corporation with the title of the Reconstruction and Federation of British Industry, with a capital of £1,000,000,000. This was started by the formation of a syndicate with a capital of £250 in 15 shares.

1918—A definite offer to the Ecuador government of a loan of £10,000,000, and a National Bank with a capital of £2,000,000. The finance minister of Ecuador has recently been cabling to his consul-general in London, asking why this promise has not been carried out.

1919—The Irish housing scheme with its offer of £150,000,000, which so far has not resulted in anything.

Scheme for the purchase of Zeebrugge harbor and docks and the investment of £50,000,000 in Belgium. Four Rumania. A proposal to buy £10,000,000 worth of British goods for the "reconstruction" of Rumania.

In connection with the Zeebrugge scheme, Mr. Keiran, who was refused a passport by the British authorities on many occasions during the war, was allowed a passport to go to Brussels. He was accompanied by Mr. Ian Robertson of Brooklyn, Dillingham, Scotland, who is the alleged representative of a "trust" which, according to Mr. Keiran, is going to find the millions for Irish housing.

On his return, Mr. Keiran stated that he went to "buy Zeebrugge" with "treasury sanction," and his passport was obtained at the "indignation of the treasury." At the treasury nothing is known of Mr. Keiran's proposal, and no assistance has been given or promised to him.
