When your neighbors get jealous there must be a reason. One of our competitors said a few choice things about us the other day which came to us by chance, and it was all said in a jealous way, because we happen to be ahead of them in new ideas and it may be that we are selling some of their customers our up-to-date garments. Competition is an open fight and we are in it to win from the drop of the hat. We don't indulge in mud-slinging, but we can hold our own even at that. We are leaders in the Clothing Business of Toronto, not imitators nor followers. and for advanced ideas of up-to-date C'othing for men and boys we want everyone to

MAY AMEND SMOKE BYLAW.

City Solicitor Chisholm and Property Commissioner Harris waited upon Premier Whitney by appointment on Saturday afternoon and had a con-ference of half an hour. What the exact results were neither the repre-sentatives of the government nor of the city care to say, but Mr. Chisholm said he hoped that the city would be able to get an amendment that would be satisfactory.

The city's request that the emission of dense smoke from chimneys should be allowed only for six minutes in each hour was sidetracked in the recent measure, the government holding that it would be impossible to institute a system of inspection that would guard against evasions of the law.
