

THE WRECK KILLED ELEVEN

Three More Bodies Found Beneath the Ruins Near Borden-town Yesterday Morning.

ONE OF THEM WAS THAT OF A WOMAN

The blame for the accident is placed upon the conductor of the Camden Local.

Trenton, N.J., Feb. 22.—The total number of dead as a result of the wreck at Borden-town, N.J., today is eleven. The bodies of the three men who were killed in the collision last night were brought to Trenton this morning. The three bodies were found beneath the ruins, and were badly charred. One was that of a woman, who was not badly burned. It is doubtful if she can be identified.

Of the killed, besides Engineer Earl and Conductor Birmingham, three have been identified. One was J. Walter Lee, a Trenton salesman, whose body was taken to his home. Another was William McNamara, a laborer, supposed to live at Philadelphia. The third was a woman, whose name was not known.

Blame on Conductor Suppl.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 22.—Superintendent of the Camden and Atlantic City Railroad, said today that the responsibility for the wreck at Borden-town last night rested with Conductor Edward Suppl. He said that the conductor had disobeyed orders. Three bodies were found today in the ruins. They were those of Italian laborers and were not identified.

A MAN'S TWO WIDOWS.

James Adams' Estate Sought by Both, But a Settlement Finally Effected.

Chancellor Boyd reserved judgment yesterday afternoon in the suit of J. J. Hall, carpet cleaner, against Lillian H. Adams, barkeeper, and J. A. General, real estate agent, to get possession of 144 Hovland avenue, New York.

A settlement was agreed to in a case in which a man left two widows. About 40 years ago James Adams married a girl near Borden-town. They lived together until 1888 and had three children. In that year Adams left his wife, and went to Dakota, she never hearing from him again. In 1897 Mrs. Adams was given a decree of divorce from Adams, which was never paid. In 1900 she married Lillian H. Adams, who had a daughter, Bessie May, 8 years old. It appeared that in 1896 Adams procured a divorce from his Canadian wife, of which she was not aware. In 1890 he married his life in the L.O.P. for $1000, and the Canadian widow, an creditor under the divorce decree, to whom the money was bequeathed. Very little evidence had been offered in the case, but the Chancellor said that the case was settled. It was finally agreed that the Canadian widow should receive $1000, and the child $400, each paying their own costs.

After considerable argument the suit of the Hamilton Advertising Company against J. P. Ellis et al. to get possession of the premises at 144 Hovland avenue, was dismissed. The preliminary list for Monday at 11 a.m. is: Severn v. Dew; Fraser v. Toronto; Richardson v. Patterson; Bentley v. the Canadian; and Canadian Express Co. v. Dixon v. Adams.

THE DOMINION OF CANADA

GUARANTEE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY.

ANNUAL REPORT TO SHAREHOLDERS

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Shareholders of the Dominion of Canada Guarantee and Accident Insurance Company was held at the Company's Office, 144 Hovland avenue, New York, on Thursday, March 22, 1901.

The report of the directors was read and adopted. The directors have pleasure in submitting the fourteenth annual report of the company, which shows a year of very satisfactory progress.

During the year 11,000 policies have been issued, and renewed, for $2,000,000, the gross premium on same amounting to $100,000.

The gross premium income for the year 1900 was $100,000. The income from interest and other sources amounted to $100,000, making a gross income of $200,000. The premium income shows a very considerable gain of $200,000, or 36 per cent. over the year 1899.

It is satisfactory to note that with the large increase in premium income and business a substantial reduction was made in the ratio of expense in securing the same, the ratio of expense to net premium income being 10 per cent. less than for the year 1899.
