The Asylum In Evidence.

The London Asylum for the Insane has been put less in evidence this campaign than in former contests, but wherever any charge of wrongdoing has been even hinted at by the Opposition, a prompt challenge of investigation has followed. It was not accepted in any one case, for the reason, as every intelligent citizen of London knows, that the asylum is well and economically managed.

In no asylum in any other province or neighboring state are the inmates so well taken care of or for so small an expenditure. Take the improvements that have been made at the London Asylum in the last 20 years, and reflect on the fact that these have all been accomplished, and for an annual expenditure, per head of inmates, much less than in the days when Dr. Landor was superintendent. The average cost, per head, of sustaining the inmates of London Asylum for the six years from 1871 to 1876, when Dr. Landor was in charge, was $136. For the past ten years, up to Dec. 31, 1897, the average rate showed a steady decrease, averaging $132 44 per head. Between 1894, when the Government was last sustained, and 1897, the rate has fallen from $127 to $121 51 a year per patient. These official returns, which were not challenged by Mr. Whitney in the Legislature, are a complete answer to all the insinuations that the Government and its officials are either corrupt or extravagant in procuring supplies for the institution.

The list of Government candidates for the West is printed in another column. It would not surprise us to see all of them winners. One thing seems to be assured. The Government which they support will be returned to power for the next four years, as it well deserves to be.

If Westminster does its duty tomorrow it will give Dr. McWilliam, the Government candidate, a majority of 400, and thus secure his election. Foll every vote.

An old book quaintly says that "when the whole system is pervaded by well-life and activity, vigorously propelled, communicated." Which means that when the blood is purified by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, perfect health is the result.

The Penalty of Personalities.

At the eleventh hour, on the eve of polling, a contemptible personal attack, entirely without foundation, is made by the London Free Press on Col. Leys, the Government candidate in this city.

Col. Leys has lived in London for over 30 years. He has proved an enterprising, kindly-hearted, charitable citizen. His personal friends, among all classes of the community, are numbered by the thousands. At the start of the campaign, he dared his opponent, or his sponsors, to come on the platform and make the personal charges against him which were insinuated by them in the canvass. They dared not do so. On the contrary, with one unenviable exception, the speakers for Mr. Beck declared that they had nothing to say against Col. Leys. The individual who proved the exception merely sneered at the colonel's kindly disposition, and insinuated what he knew he could not say openly if he would keep out of jail for criminal libel. Really, our contemporary, the Free Press, but follows this detractor's example.

And of what avail is the eleventh hour attack on this popular citizen to serve partisan purposes? It may keep a few unthinking electors from voting for the Government candidate, just as some citizens were moved to vote against Mr. Hobbs, and in favor of Mr. Essery, at the last Provincial election, when a similar campaign of slander was organized against the Liberal nominee. But as on that occasion Mr. Hobbs' majority of 893 was substantially aided by the votes of electors who resented the campaign of personalities against him, so will Col. Leys' majority be added to by the support of citizens who are disgusted by the dastardly warfare made against him.

It were easy to personally assail Mr. Adam Beck. He has weak places in his armor. Even his friends concede that. But we believe that Mr. Beck can and ought to be defeated on public grounds, and we leave the weapons of personal detraction to the despairing advocates of the Opposition candidate.

Col. Leys will be elected tomorrow. The Government which he supports will be sustained throughout the Province by a good majority. The assurance of these cheering results is good enough comfort for the colonel's friends, who

Would You Be Beautiful?

All the World Bows Down to Beauty.

Why not be beautiful? A beautiful complexion is the first requisite. Every woman can obtain a beautiful complexion by using the new skin food—Hazeline. It makes the face and hands soft as velvet, it prevents the skin from becoming chapped, and removes every trace of roughness and redness caused by the wind. Hazeline is the best remedy for all facial blemishes, such as wrinkles, freckles, sunburn, etc. It gives health, vigor and beauty to the skin. Price 25 cents. CARRINGTON & LAWRENCE, Pharmacists, 216 Dundas street.

will only work the harder to increase his majority as an answer to the eleventh hour malignant personal attack which has been made on him.

East Middlesex.

Electors in London West and other municipalities of East Middlesex will have one of the ablest members in the new Legislature if they elect Dr. McWilliam tomorrow. The doctor has large interests in the riding. He is a man of independent means and of ability, and he can be relied on to look well after the interests of his constituents in the Assembly. All the indications are that Dr. McWilliam will be elected if his friends take the precaution to have every vote polled that is favorable to him. Never has there been a better chance to have the constituency represented on the Government side of the House than the which now exists.

West Middlesex.

The west riding of Middlesex promises to do the handsome thing by its favorite son tomorrow. It would have been graceful for the Opposition to have permitted the Minister of Education to be elected by acclamation, but Hon. George W. Ross is regarded by his political antagonists as a statesman of so great strength that at each recurring election they use every artifice to secure his defeat. They have failed hitherto. Hon. George W. Ross has proved invincible in every election. He will be successful on the present occasion, and he will continue as the right hand man of the Government of the Province. The people of West Middlesex will do themselves honor by retaining the services of one of the ablest public men of the country. The Minister of Education has been much abused in the campaign now ending, but that is surely a tribute to his great ability. If the reader is inclined either not to vote at all, or to vote against Hon. Mr. Ross, let him bear this fact in mind as well as reflect on the abandonment at least on the platform, of the sectarian appeals raised against the Minister at previous elections. The utter collapse of the Opposition arguments on this score alone should cause thinking men to doubt the reliability of other worthy assaults on the Minister, and should secure him the vote of every independent elector.

Don't Let It Ache.

If your stomach, liver and bowels are working properly you will have no headache. Burdock Blood Bitters will keep you right, so there is no need to proof that this is so. "I had severe headache for over three years, and was not free from it for a single day. Finally I used Burdock Blood Bitters, with the result that it has completely cured me." MRS. AFFLECK, Toronto.

If London streets were put end to end they would reach to St. Petersburg.
