FIELDING QUILTS
THE SIFTON ENTERS

One of the Cabinet "Situations" Which Montreal Politicians Are Just Now Discovering.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Al the Sir Wilfrid Laurier proclaimed at Sorel that the ministry would go to the country as at present constituted, there are daily and hourly happenings which would appear to indicate that a general shake-up at Ottawa cannot long be delayed.

In the first place it is no secret amongst the leading party managers here that news has been received from the minister of Justice of a character that leaves no doubt whatever in their minds that the retirement of Hon. Mr. Aylesworth from the ministry and public life cannot be delayed.

Should he remain with his portfolio during the campaign, it is absolutely certain that he will be quite unable to lend any kind of a helping hand during the coming contest.

The specialists on the other side, so report says, are not in a position to hold out any hope whatever as to a commission made by the minister. Hence the necessity for the minister's retirement.

Then it is also quite sure that the Hon. L. P. Brodeur has been promised the position of chief justice of the superior court of the province as soon as Sir Henry Taschereau signifies his readiness to be placed on the retired list. The chief justice, altho an able and impartial jurist, will stay on the bench as long as Sir Wilfrid deems it convenient to withhold Mr. Brodeur's promotion, and it is well understood that if the Conservative party receives a majority of seats at the coming election, the judicial nomination of the present minister of marine will be on the order paper should the government see fit to sanction the nomination after the people may have pronounced against the ministry of the day.

This, of course, is a possibility being passed over in view of the precedent established by Lord Aberdeen when that nobleman declined to sign a nomination made by the late Premier, Bart., after that gentleman had been defeated at the polls.

The most interesting rumors, however, are those attributing a desire, on the part of the minister of finance to get rid of the care of office just as soon as possible.

Mr. Fielding's leadership is now not entertained, and his close friends are looking for his retirement to one of the newly-created commissions at no distant day.

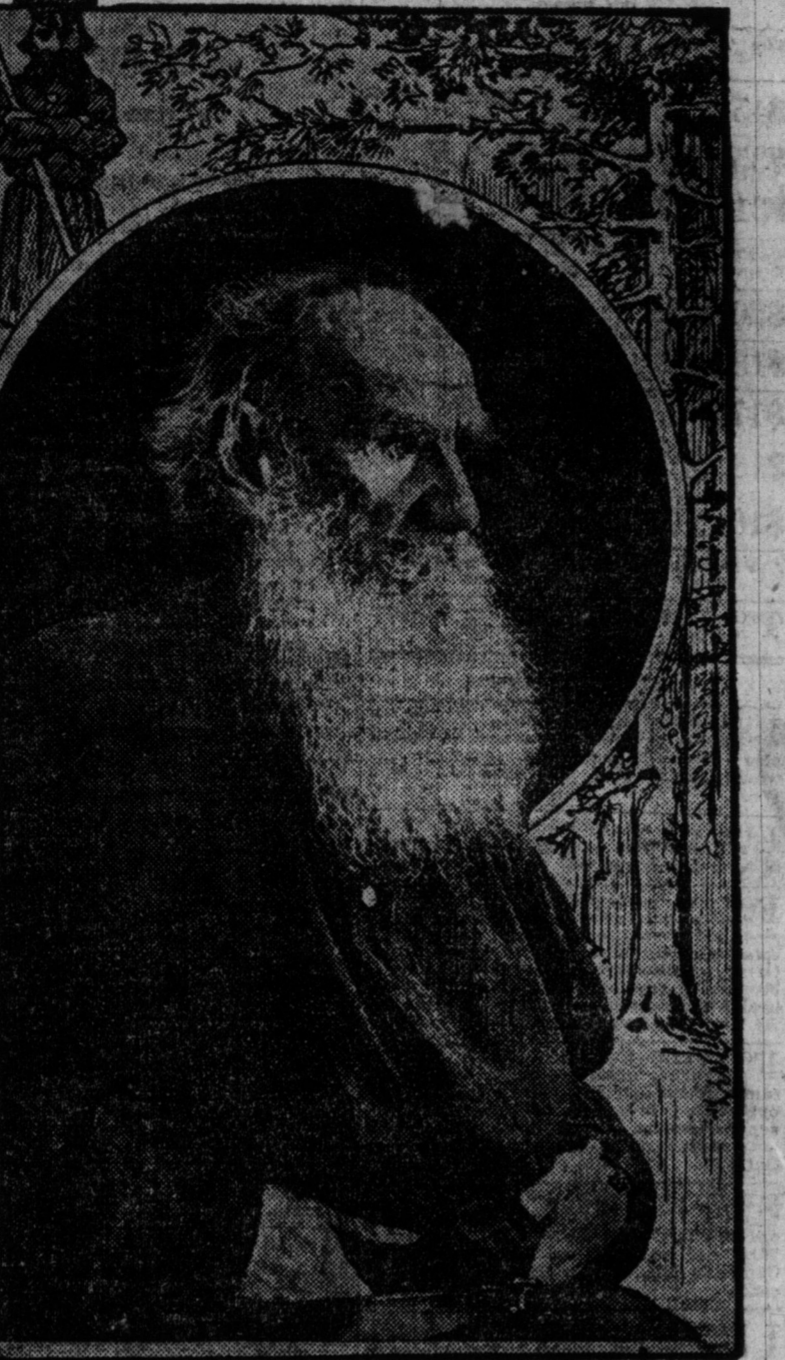

The minister of finance is an honest man and he is a very poor man, as the ex-prime minister, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has never learned the secret of acquiring riches while in office, as have some of his more fortunate colleagues.

Mr. Fielding will never sit again at the same council table with the so-called Napoleon of the West, and Mr. Sifton's influence with the prime minister is growing rapidly that he will go to the cabinet at his own terms, should the present ministry secure a new lease of power.

Mr. Fielding sees all this ahead and it looks at the present time as if the Hon. Clifford Sifton, in entering the ministry, will meet the Hon. W. S. Fielding on his way out.

TOLSTOI CELEBRATES HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

RUSSIA JUBILATES

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 10.—The newspapers of Russia appear to-day, almost without exception, as Tolstoy jubilee numbers, and publish pages devoted to his life, criticisms of his literary work and anecdotes of his career. Many of the articles naturally are phrased in terms of extravagant adulation, but in general the criticisms are discriminating and just.

Count Leo Tolstoy, novelist, author and social reformer, celebrates the 80th anniversary of his birth at his home in Yasnyaya Poliana to-day.

The celebrations throughout Russia of the count's birth are much less widespread than was the original intention of his countless admirers, and the prime reason of this is the opposition of the Russian Government and the orthodox Russian Church.

Tolstoy
 As a reformer, Tolstoy has been the one articulate voice for the one hundred and twenty odd millions of silent suffering people who speak the Russian language.

As an author, he is the greatest survivor of the 19th century, the one man of letters whose reputation has gone to all the ends of the earth.

FITZPATRICK'S AMBITION
 Wants to Develop Imperial Correspondence Bureau.

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—The Liberal organization for the Dominion is now practically complete. It has been under the charge of Hon. Clifford Sifton.

Agents and officials have been appointed for the districts from Halifax to Vancouver and only the notification of these remains to be done. Some literature has already been published and issued, but the bulk of it is in the printer's hands and will be ready within a fortnight.

It is stated that the genius of the former minister of the Interior has battled the Liberal party with a battlefront. The like of such a man has never had, and that every corner of Canada will be won to the last vote.

But while the Hon. Clifford Sifton has bent himself to the detail of the scheme of vote-getting, the other chief guiding hand in the plan of campaign is Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and in the hands of these two the destinies of the Liberal party are placed.

The dissolution has spoiled one of the grand schemes of Sir Charles. It had been his proposal to develop the branch of Imperial and Foreign Correspondence of which William Mackenzie some months ago was appointed secretary. It was to have been thoroughly organized with Professor Short of Queen's at the head. How necessary this is may be realized when it is pointed out as one instance that nobody knows where all the correspondence relative to the fisheries branch of the Fisheries Department has been handed on from minister to minister and it is scattered. However, the dissolution has put a stop to the formation of this branch and Professor Short will remain by the civil service commission.

HOLLAND DISAPPOINTED.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 10.—Telegraphic dispatches received here from Amsterdam, where the royal court, Het Loo, is situated, confirm the report of Queen Wilhelmina's miscarriage, which occurred last Saturday evening.

The general health of her majesty is satisfactory, but her miscarriage, made it over to his wife; with his terrible earnestness of purpose, he could see

PLEADING FOR SOULS OF MEN

Remarkable Scene in Glasgow Council Chamber When Unemployed Ask for Work.

GLASGOW, Sept. 10.—A remarkable scene was witnessed at the offices of the city council this afternoon.

A crowd of the unemployed gathered in George-square before the council convened and a delegation of twelve was admitted to the meeting. The councilors received the delegation by rising from their seats.

The spokesman of the unemployed said this never before had there been such a scene in Glasgow.

"Every human unit," said this man, "is entitled to food. We make no outrageous request; we are only here to plead for the souls of men and women. They demand work."

The chairman replied with deep emotion. He said the council had received the delegation in a spirit of brotherhood and that it would do all in its power to help those who needed work.

Large bodies of troops were held in reserve this afternoon in anticipation of rioting and attacks on property. The council, however, have decided to refrain from demonstrating for one week in order to give the council an opportunity to adopt measures for the improvement of the situation.

The police arrested a socialist who incited a man to resist arrest. He threw a brick through the window of the council chamber before they secured him.

Three thousand of the unemployed last night organized a midnight march to one of the best quarters of the city. Mounted police scattered the crowd.

NEWARK, N.J., Sept. 10.—The body of Mrs. Ashton Harvey, dressed in white and literally covered with a fortune in jewels, was found to-day in the private pleasure lake of the estate of Stewart Heston, at Short Hills, N.J., by blood hounds, which had been brought from New York to seek her.

Mrs. Harvey was the wife of Ashton Harvey, a millionaire corporation lawyer at 33 Broadway, New York, and lived on their magnificent country estate at Short Hills.

Mrs. Harvey was wealthy in her own right, had been acting peculiarly for several weeks, and her daughter, Dorothy, and son, Harold, became alarmed yesterday when she left the house dressed in white, even her shoes and stockings, and wearing a necklace and earrings valued at $25,000.

About her neck she wore a $25,000 pearl necklace and on her head she had placed a rich diamond tiara. Her dress was covered with diamonds and other brooches set with diamonds and rubies.

Her husband believes Mrs. Harvey committed suicide. She had been a sufferer from headaches for nine years. She also grieved over the death of her eldest son, Ashton.

ARCHBISHOP BRUGHESI GHERISHES GREAT HOPE
 Whole of England May Yet Return to the Catholic Faith—Next Congress in Montreal.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
 LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Eucharist Congress had a huge meeting in the Albert Hall, the cardinal legate presiding. The Archbishop of Montreal, speaking in French, said the congress must remind the cardinals of the glorious days of Rome.

He represented Quebec, the most Catholic of the British empire. He declared the recent protest by Protestant societies against the congress proceedings was not a national protest, and the congress was being greeted with sympathy and respect in every quarter. The congress marked the re-entry of Catholicism into its old kingdom. The whole of Catholicism was now looking for the first capital of the world, the Holy See, to be established in the heart of the British empire.

He concluded by inviting all to the eucharist congress in 1910 at Montreal.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Having as his assistants the members of the state parole board, Cornelius V. Collins, superintendent of prisons, today led the pursuit after five convicts who escaped from Clinton Prison at Dannemora.

After an exciting chase the convicts were surrounded in the woods on the mountain side, northwest of the prison, and Supt. Collins boldly entered the forest and captured one of the men single-handed.

It was 1 o'clock this afternoon when it was discovered that the convicts had escaped. Iron bars guarding a cellar window had been sawed away. The men who took "French leave" were serving terms of from five to 25 years for highway robbery.

When the alarm was given the state parole board was in session in the office of Warden Cole. Supt. Collins and the members of the board decided to help capture the fugitives.

At the end of two hours the convicts were run to cover. Supt. Collins had the clump of weeds in which the convicts had sought to conceal themselves surrounded. Then he took a party of prison employes into the woods and it was not long before all five convicts had been captured.

Supt. Collins had little trouble with the man he caught.

LAUDANUM EASY TO GET.
 No Questions Asked by Druggists if You Want It.

"The astonishing feature brought out by the inquiry," said Coroner Wiens last night after the jury had retired to arrive at a verdict as to the death of Charles Heids, "is that under the Pharmacy Act laudanum can be bought by any person at any time without any questions being asked, or the signing of any book by the purchaser.

"Laudanum is as readily a drug as morphine and the public is much more familiar with it in any way it is used and when any one thinks of suicide one thinks of laudanum first of all, and yet it can be obtained as readily as sugar."

The verdict was to the effect that the laudanum from which Charles Heids died was self-administered.

C.M.A. ENDORSE SUBURBAN RAILWAY SERVICE.

At the meeting of the executive of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, held yesterday, the first since the holidays, the matter of an improved railway and suburban service was introduced, causing a lively discussion. The general consensus of opinion was strongly in favor of the movement, and the following resolution, as expressive of the opinion of the executive, was unanimously adopted.

The motion, moved by W. C. Phillips of the Phillips Manufacturing Company and L. B. Dusseaux of the Gendron Manufacturing Company, was as follows:

"Be it Resolved, That the executive of the Toronto branch, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, herein endorses the efforts of the councils of the City of Toronto and various neighboring municipalities to secure a better suburban train service, with commutation rates between Toronto and points within a reasonable distance thereof, and unites with them in urging the railways to give this service, which, in its opinion, would be profitable to all concerned."

Two firemen were injured and $100,000 damage done in the destruction of the H. B. Johnston & Co. tannery, 137 River-street, last night.

The men injured are: Matt McCartney, Bolton-avenue ladder truck, three days broken; William Tolchard, Bolton-avenue ladder truck, injuries to back.

At 12:30 this morning as Tolchard was moving a ladder ladder from the twenty foot engine house to the fifty-foot main structure, a fire started at the edge in the dense smoke and fell to the ground. His back was injured and he was removed to the General Hospital in a horse wagon.

DREYFUS, NOT HIS ASSAILANT, ON TRIAL

Remarkable Scenes in Court During Opening Session of Man Who Attempted to Shoot the Major.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The trial of Louis A. Gregori, the man who on June 4 of this year fired two revolver shots at Major Alfred Dreyfus in the Pantheon at Paris during the canonization ceremonies of Emile Zola, was begun in the assize court here to-day.

One of Gregori's bullets wounded Dreyfus in the wrist, while the other went wild.

The accused man has summoned 60 witnesses, chiefly persons connected with the Dreyfus affair, from Premier Clemenceau and Minister of War Flicourt to Col. Du Paty De Clam.

The efforts of the defence to revive the old Dreyfus affair, however, are certain to prove abortive, as both the public and the government are opposed to the reopening of this question.

A large crowd was present in the court room and the "woman in white," who was conspicuous throughout the trial of Dreyfus at Rennes, occupied a prominent place.

The proceedings developed no new features. Gregori, who is charged with attempted murder, told his story much as he did immediately after his arrest. He admitted that his act was premeditated and he repeated that he had shot at "Dreyfusism," and not at Major Dreyfus, as the subject of the participation of the army in the canonization of the Pantheon attending the canonization of Emile Zola.

There was one incident, when the public prosecutor said that the course of canonization had made a definite pronouncement of "innocence of Dreyfus." One of the spectators shouted: "This is a lie!" and many people in the audience cried "Bravo!" The man who created this disturbance was ejected on the order of the court.

The continuing efforts of the defence to rake up the Dreyfus case culminated in a dramatic incident. Gregori was attempting to question Major Le Brun Renaud as to the subject of the confession Dreyfus was alleged to have made to him while being conducted from the court martial to prison in 1895.

Dreyfus sprang to his feet and with white face and trembling violently shouted to Gregori's counsel:

"Sir, Renaud, as the subject established in the most decided manner my innocence."

Immediately a tremendous uproar broke out and mingled cheers and groans shook the room. Finally the president was obliged to clear the court before a semblance of order was restored.

Foxboro, Minn., is Beset and May Have Been Wiped Out—Hibbing Also in Danger Again.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 10.—Foxboro, Minn., may be destroyed by forest fires, against which the entire population has been fighting to-day. A fire entered the City of Washburn, Wis., and caused $100,000 loss. The forest fires have overwhelmed the fire fighters at Hibbing and have destroyed the buildings of the St. Louis County Fair Association and several other buildings are on fire.

THE WEATHER.
 Yesterday morning opened up gloomy and grey. Jupiter Peep appeared to be converting it into a drizzle as to whether he should shower Toronto or hold back until after the fair. It was easy to see the sun was angry as he hung over us and threatening like a big ball of fire. And you felt uncomfortable. One who was over the superstitious might have had quailms as a result of the sombre appearance of everything. But shortly after 8 o'clock the pellets rolled away. The sun shone, smiled in fact. His rays were cheerful. The woman was also taken to St. Michael's Hospital. Her injuries are not dangerous.

Shanley supplied the cash for the drink. Kavarar, went for the liquor and returned about 2 o'clock. He was not pleased with the overindulgence of the other two upon his return, and criticized the woman for drinking the drink. Shanley made his way into the street to avoid trouble. The man who was arrested is a stable hand, who arrested him for being drunk.
