

The box of clothing which our society sent to the Northwest was valued at $130. The greater part of the contents was new, but all the second-hand clothing which was sent was in good repair and clean.

The total contributions of the auxiliary for the year amounts to $204.09, expenses $28.50, which leaves a balance of $175.59, which we have sent to the Presbyterian Treasurer.

We are much encouraged by the results of the past year's work, but feel that more could be done if a greater number of the women of the church would connect themselves with the society.

E. TURNBULL,
Secretary W. F. M. S.
