MR. DUGUD SAYS IT IS NOT TRUE

The Government's Ice Breaker Expert Is Angry At A MONTREAL REPORTER Who Credited Him With Tall Statement About Ice in the Straits--P. E. Island Sunday School Association--Boston Police Officer Becomes Insane.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Oct. 18.—(Special)—The 17th annual convocation of the P. E. Island Sunday School Convention was held yesterday at Summerside with a good attendance. Addresses were delivered by W. C. Pearce, member of the International Association of Chicago, Rev. R. G. Stratton, S. F. Woodroffe and others. The executive reported the work last year to be the best in the history of the association, which was largely due to the energy and financial ability of Rev. A. D. Archibald, field secretary, who, unfortunately, returns this year. The normal work was exceptionally successful. The credit roll has grown in favor, but the home department needs stimulating. The treasurer reported the receipt of $1,500 and a balance on hand of $154. Rev. R. G. White is the president for next year.

Charles Duguid, the expert from England who has been sent by the dominion government in connection with building of the new ice breaker for our winter service, repudiated an interview alleged to have taken place with him and published in a Montreal paper, wherein he is made to state that he was surprised to learn that there is six feet of solid ice in the straits to contend with. He says he has given out no such statement to the press. Policeman Joseph D. McDonald of Station 3, Boston, a native of Scotia, P. E. Island, has been suspended from duty under a charge and has been committed to the city's institution for the mildly insane.

While McDonald has shown no mental disorder when on duty at his home he has been subjected to occasional violent outbreaks, and has repeatedly threatened to kill himself and his wife and several other persons. McDonald always seemed to be the most good-headed of officers. He was frank, open-hearted and of the kindest disposition. Last Saturday he was placed under arrest for threatening his wife and also for using threatening language to Police Captain Peabody. He was released later and summoned to appear again to answer a charge of drunkenness, insubordination, absence from duty, and two other offenses. When rebuked for his irrational acts he said he did not know why he did them only that he felt he had been wronged. He has now been pronounced insane. McDonald recently distinguished himself by "breaking up" a gang of counterfeiter's before the west end of Boston. Some weeks before this he earned the public commendation by stopping a runaway horse on a Boston St.

A CHATHAM MAN'S SAD EXPERIENCE How E. A. Strang Was Made a Victim of the McCurdys.

(Chatham Week.) E. A. Strang, of this town, takes a strong interest in the relations respecting President McCurdy and the Mutual Life of New York. About fifteen years ago he bought a $5,000 ten-year endowment policy in the Mutual Life, and paid $1,182 for it. He was promised big profits in dividends and principal. At the end of ten years he was paid only $3,405, and his protests and requests were unavailing. He then referred to Mr. McCurdy and turned down by him. Mr. McCurdy was drawing $100,000 a year salary, besides profits on his side lines, and his son, now-in-law and a notorious gambler, was an officer or agent of the company at the time that Mr. Strang was swindled in the way we have

Shenston Bolster, the 13 year old son of John Bolster, painter, had an experience yesterday which came close to costing him the use of one eye or might have resulted in the loss of life. While playing with some boys in a yard off York street, he was struck over the left eye with a B. B. shot from an air gun, discharged by one of the young fellows who said that he could not see Bolster. DEER HUNTERS LUCKY

The game shipments up to Monday day promised to make the day's total of game shipped the target of any day of the season so far, 29 deer being brought down by the morning and noon trains. Saturday's shipments are high for the season so far, 67 deer being brought down on that day. The recent rain greatly improved matters for the hunters though the rain was not half as much as was expected to meet the hunting conditions of the best. No moose have been reported as being killed yet, but it is much too early for this considering that the season opened this morning—Bangor Commercial.

BACK FROM THE WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Lively who have been out through western Canada on a trip returned home today. Mr. Lively expressed himself as being very much pleased with the trip. He says he had no idea of the magnitude of the country or of the grandness of the mountains. He says there is lots of work out through the west for anyone who has a trade and his advice to all young men would be to go west. Mr. and Mrs. Lively visited Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Banff and other places in the Rocky Mountains. Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and the fair at Portland, Oregon.

Returning from Portland, they came through the Crow's Nest Pass. Mr. Lively speaks of the west as the greatest country in the world. It is rumored today that bread is being sold by a North End baker at five cents a loaf. The regular price is six. Just what effect this will have upon the majority of bakers is not known definitely.

THE MAYOR'S ROBE

There is a regrettable lack of harmony at City Hall. The immediate cause is the mayor's robe. It has been reported for a long time in a tin box, with both balls and the like, that a Prince is coming and several persons want a turn at wearing the insignia of civic rank. The mayor claims priority, but Deputy Mayor Lewis says it would fit him better, and Ald. McFollock submits that as a man of experience in extending a welcome to admirals he should certainly have a look in. Ald. Christie has agreed to wear a chamber coat if Ald. Lewis gets the robe, but Ald. Holder declines to welcome the Prince to the city in any such regalia. He will have the robe, or wear an asterisk.

The bickerings over the matter are creating quite a scandal, and when two of the aldermen rivals met this morning in the room of the mayor's clerk, where they go every day to practise the formal bow with great pageantries were greeted in 1885, they almost created a scene by sneering at each other's flexions. A committee will probably be appointed to settle the matter.

DOES NOT KNOW WHERE FATHER IS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Frank B. Jordan, son of Thomas D. Jordan, formerly controller of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was in the city today before the legislative insurance investigating committee today. He is in the first instance and real estate business in this city. From an effort was made to obtain information as to his father's whereabouts. Mr. Jordan, however, declined to answer the question Mr. Jordan, Sr., as to the whereabouts of his father, who is not present in the city. Mr. Jordan said he had not seen his father since Sept. 4, did not know where he was. He had made no effort to learn where his father is. Answering Chairman Armstrong's question he said he knew of no one who could tell where his father is at present. He did not know whether his father and mother were living or dead.

Captain A. T. Mabey, of the steamer Clifton, saved Francis Day, the five-year-old son of the stewardess of the steamer, from a watery grave. He led him away playing in a small boat and fell into the water. Captain Mabey jumped overboard and rescued him when he was sinking for the last time.

Proprietors of line stores on the boundary between Maine and New Brunswick must have been rudely shocked by the sentence imposed on Melbourn Williams of Boston and Holman McMullen of Bridgewater in the United States district court at Portland on Monday. Both men received sentences of one year and one day in the state prison at Thomaston on indictments charging violation of the federal statute against depositing and keeping goods in a store situated on the boundary line with intent to defraud the first time in years. They were further sentenced to pay a fine of $200 each. The merchandise alleged to have been kept consisted in both cases of various liquors.

Williams and McMullen passed through Bangor Saturday in charge of Deputy U. S. Marshal Haskell on their way to Portland, where they answered to indictments found by the grand jury. They were taken on capias on Friday of last week. The sentence imposed by Judge Hale on Monday is undoubtedly in the line of the increased activity on the part of the customs officials in an attempt to do away with the line stores. Treasury department officials have been urgent in their demands that the business be broken up and the deputy collectors have been doing good work along this line. It is said to have been a number of years since a sentence to state prison has been made by the court in a border store case. There was a similar case of the kind at the June term of the United States district court in this city but the respondent, keeper of a somewhat notorious line store in the vicinity of Houlton, was let off much easier than were Williams and McMullen.

Frank McNalley, the third member of the trio carried through Bangor by Deputy Haskell, was convicted of smuggling four quarts of whiskey across the border and for this he was sentenced to serve thirty days in the Cumberland county jail. Dudley and Stuart Lee, of Danforth, who were arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshal Hasty last week and taken to Portland, pleaded guilty to smuggling houses across the border and were sentenced to pay fines of $100 and costs, which they paid. The houses were sold at public auction on Saturday.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 18.—A new feature in political campaigning in Philadelphia was the appointment yesterday by William A. Tilden, chairman of the city party campaign committee of 20 women, wives of prominent men of the city, to take a prominent part in the present political battle. They will make a special effort to get out the stay-at-home voters. Thousands of women, under the auspices of the W.C.T.U., will assemble in all parts of the city on election day and pray for civic righteousness and the success of the reform party. Members of the union declare that their prayers of last year resulted in the wave of reform that is sweeping this city. Every branch of the W.C.T.U. will hold prayer services from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on November 7. Many of the meetings will be held in churches, but when the use of a church cannot be obtained the women will assemble at their own quarters. Prominent ministers in every section of the city will be asked to participate at these services.
