POETRY, &c.

THERE MEST BE SOMETHING WRONG. When earth produces, free and fair, The golden waving corn; When fragmant fruits perfume the air, And fleecy flocks are shorn; Whilst thousands move with aching head, And sing this ceaseless song, "We starve, we die, oh, give us bread." There must be something wrong.

When wealth is wrought as seasons roll, From off the fruitful soil ; When luxury from pole to pole Means fruit of human toil, When from a thousand, one alone, In plenty rolls along ; The others only gnaw the bone, There must be something wrong

And when production never ends, The earth is yielding ever; A copious harvest oft begins, But distribution—never! When toiling millions work to fill The wealthy's coffers strong; When hands are crushed that work and till, There must be something wrong.

When poor men's tables waste away, To barrenness and drought; There is something in the way, That's worth the finding out; With surfeits one great tablet bends, While scarce a crust their board extends, There must be something wrong.

Then let the law give equal right To wealthy and to poor; Let freedom crush the arm of might, We sek for nothing more; Until this system is begun, The burthen of our song Must be, and can be, only one--There must be something wrong.

The paculiarities of the British system, and which render it, in the opinion of many, peculiarly adapted to the circumstances of Colonial society, respect the catholicity, the intellectual training, the moral influence, and the cheapness which it favours. The Scriptures are daily read in the School, but without note or comment.—Christianity is honored, but no sectarianism is taught. Children belonging to any denomination, may, with equal asfety and with equal confort, partake of the educational advantages of this system. No bias of any kind is eyer used to turn the mind of the children into any particular denominational chan-nel.

He would take this method of returning his sin-cere thanks to his friends for the liberal snpport that he has received during the last fourteen years in businese, as well as to inform them that having visited London last winter, and Boston and New-York this summer, he has entered into new arrangements, by which he will be regularly sup-plied with every description of WATCHES, CHRONOMETERS, and all other Goods in his line, which will be sold lower than at any other establishment in this City. Having purchased, when last in London, asplen-did Astnonoutant CLOCK, and one of Den's DIPLIEDESCOPES, and other Apparatus suit-able for correcting and rating Marine Chronome-ters and completing and adjusting Nauticel Instru-ments, and having expended a large sum to make his establishment efficient and accommodating to the Public is the would now cherish by hope of re-ceiving a continuance of that patronage and-sup-port which the nature of this enterprize would warrant him to expect. He is aware of the op-position that the plain honest trader sometimes neets with from unprincipled and designing mens; but the same principle which has guided him through evil report and good report, will govern him in his future efforts to serve the Public and himself conjointly.

It was the persuasion that a system of teaching possessing these features, would be a benefit to this community, and might indirectly prove advan-tageous to the Province generally, that induced several gentlemen, belonging to different denom-nations, to establish a School of the kind in this neighbourhood.

several gentlemen, belonging to different denomi-mations, to establish a School of the kind in this neighbourhood. The School commenced on the 25th of Angust, 1845, with twenty-seven pupils. For some time the progress of the Institution, in point of numbers, was slow. At the termination of the first quarter, the increase of pupile was so great, that it became necessary, not merely to obtain the occasional use of an additional room, but to seek the services of an assistant. Application was immediately made to the Parent Society in England. In the meanwhile whe Committee were constrained to avail them-solves of the services of Teachers who laboured under the disadvantage of not being duly initiated in the principles of the British system. At length of the first application the Committee were favoured with the services of Mr. Munro, whe, in the capa-city of Assistant, fully sustains the character, as an efficient Teacher, which the testimonial of the Parent Society lead the Committee to anticipate.
