

BIG RECEIPTS FROM WORLD SERIES ARE EXPECTED THIS YEAR

INCOME WILL AGAIN BE MORE THAN MILLION

Series Expected to go Six or Seven Games—Some Figures

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The million-dollar world series apparently is an established affair in baseball. Receipts for the last three major league classics have gone well beyond this mark and with the game's biggest prize, the Yankee Stadium, available for part of the coming season, if the Yankees win, there is every prospect that the high tide of finance will continue.

The fact that the championships of the last three seasons have run to six or seven games every time has helped swell the "gate," but the odds usually favor the battle going close to the limit. Only one series in over a score of years has been decided in four straight games, that of 1916 when the Braves trounced the Athletics.

1923 RECORD YEAR

The 1923 championship between the Yankees and Giants established an attendance mark of 300,400 in six games. It was made possible through the use of the game's biggest two enclosures, the Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds, and isn't likely to be broken this fall.

The same series also established a single game attendance record of 62,317 with record receipts of $201,480, more money than was taken in from the full six-game series of 1916 between the Red Sox and Cubs.

Following is the detailed disposition of last year's receipts:

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLOP.

THERE is an impression among baseball men that if the Yanks do get into the world series—and the "Y" is not a big one—that they will be faced with plenty of southpaw pitching. The theory is that the Yanks, while a hard-hitting crowd, fare better against right-handed box artists than portlanders. Their two best sluggers, Ruth and Gehrig, bat on the left hand side although in fairness to these young gentlemen it must be stated they can smash most any kind of pitching.

Pitchers in the American League for years have said they have found the Babe's weakness but if clouting for around 370 throughout the season and crashing some 40 and more homers is considered a weakness, we shudder to think what strength might be.

The spectacle of poor old Ruth, tottering to the plate under the weight of his heavy mauls and feebly cracking the pill out of the lot nearly four dozen times this year is a sad and sorry one. And, now, the National Leaguers want to add to his many burdens, financial, physical and otherwise, by telling the world that southpaw pitching will stop him. Well, it may but the Yanks are not so old of themselves for southpaws in the persons of Herb Pennock and Dutch Reuther. That pair is about as good as the rest.

MR. GENE TUNNEY, the boxer of a thousand epigrams and high culture, so far forgot himself Thursday night as to actually snarl at "Tiger Jack" in the fifth round. A man-to-man scrap soon wiped out the publicity veneer.

NOW that Mr. Tunney has earned the right to boxing's biggest prize, what will he do with it? One of the things that aroused resentment against Jack Dempsey on the part of the average fan was his stand-off attitude when it came to defending his title. He had plenty of opportunity but preferred the easy life in the movies and that is probably what cost him his crown. He held it for seven years. The last time he defended it was three years ago. With Mr. Tunney fare any better? It is known that Tunney prefers to draw the color line and that puts Harry Wills in a rather doubtful position. In the first burst of enthusiasm, Tunney's admirers will say he could take Wills easier than he could Dempsey. Wills, it will be recalled, was unable to do much with tough Bartley Madden, the fighting Irishman who went ten rounds with him. Tunney, on the other hand, stood Madden away in three rounds—the first time that gentle experience ever entered Mr. Madden's gay career. If it had been Wills and not Tunney who faced Dempsey Thursday night, what would have been the result? Your guess is as good as ours. Now, Dempsey has said he will never allow Wills or Mullins to make any money out of him but if Dempsey wants to try a comeback, Mr. Tunney might say, "Sure, but beat Wills who has a prior claim." As a champion, Mr. Dempsey could say about what he liked. As an aspiring comeback, he is not in a position to dictate terms. A Dempsey-Wills match would create as big a future in pugilism as though the title were at stake but it is extremely doubtful if it will ever take place. In the meantime, Mr. Wills grows older every day.

WHAT the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina is not quite clear but what the Governor of Pennsylvania said to those who asked him to stop the big bout is rather definite. Mr. Pinchot said he would not stop the bout because he himself had bought rumpsteak tickets. Any man who spends $27.50 for a ticket to see a $40,000 crown at stake has reasons for not butting in.

No Game Here Today

The baseball game for provincial could not come to Saint John for the game today. Sudden death of prominent member of his congregation, St. John, report that Newcastle tomorrow. St. John is not favorable for game. Improbable to procure substitute for captain because of illness of other players.

Colby Cannonader's Mark of 5 Victories and No Defeats Is Menaced By Herb Pennoch

Yankee Star Must Win Three Games, However, to Equal Jack Coombs' Mark, Providing New York Gets in Big Series

Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The world's series pitching record of five victories and no defeats, held by the old Colby Cannonader, John Wesley Coombs, is menaced by only one man, Herb Pennock, in the approaching baseball championship classic. And it would take three triumphs by the frail, willowy Yankee southpaw to equal the mark of Colby Jack.

Chief Bender, old team-mate of Coombs on the Athletics, holds the distinction of gaining the most world's series victories, six, but the famous Chippewa Indian tasted several defeats. Coombs' perfect record was achieved as the result of three victories in 1910 and one in 1911 with the Athletics, his fifth coming in 1916 when he had transferred his allegiance to Brooklyn.

Coombs' mark of three victories in one series is shared by three other mound heroes, the late Christy Mathewson, who gave added lustre to his 1905 feat by making all of his games shut-outs against the Athletics; Babe Adams, who registered three triumphs for the Pirates over Detroit in 1901; and Stanley Coveleskie, three-time victor for Cleveland over Brooklyn in 1920. "Covey" had a chance last fall to tie or surpass Coombs' mark, but was beaten in both of his starts for Washington against the Pirates.

Pennock got his first baptism of world's series fire in 1914 when he was a youngster with the Athletics, but it consisted only of three innings' work as a relief twister. His big effort was in 1923, when he pitched the Yankees to two victories over the Giants and helped clinch the world's series for the Huguenots.

Outstanding facts on world's series pitching follow:

Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs allowed the "hitless wonders," the White Sox of 1906, only one hit.

There have been five two-hit games, pitched by Ed Walsh of the White Sox, Mordecai Brown of the Cubs, Eddie Plank of the Athletics, Bill James of the Braves and Walter Hoyt of the Yankees.

Walter Johnson of the Senators in 1924 equalled Ed Walsh's 1906 record for strikeouts in one game, with twelve on the opening day of the Giants-Senators series, a 12-inning battle.

Jack Coombs issued fourteen passes in the 1910 series, nine of them in one game.

DOYLE ACTS ON RESOLUTION BY MONCTON CLUBS

South End I. L. Opposes Break and Favors Baseball Branch

THE action of S. P. Doyle, president of the M. P. B., in deciding to call a special meeting of the organization in response to the request of the six Moncton clubs will likely be the main topic discussed at a meeting of the committee which has been getting in touch with affiliated bodies in New Brunswick to ascertain the sentiment regarding the formation of a New Brunswick branch of the A. A. U. of C.

At a meeting held recently, six of the Moncton clubs voted to endorse the M. P. B. and ask that a special meeting be called to consider charges made in The Telegraph-Journal by A. W. Covey. Mr. Doyle's reply has been that he will call a special meeting to consider the matter of a breakaway although doubtless the charges will form part of the agenda. Eight clubs in Saint John have announced their decision to work for a New Brunswick branch of the A. A. U. of C. and also opposed to breaking away from the Maritime Province Branch of the A. A. U. of C.

FOR BASEBALL BRANCH

The executive of the South End Improvement League last night passed a resolution advocating the formation of a New Brunswick branch of the Canadian Amateur Baseball Association and placing itself on record as opposed to the formation of a New Brunswick branch of the A. A. U. of C.

A special committee was appointed to take up with other affiliated clubs the matter of securing action along the lines of the resolution. C. M. Lingley, president, was in the chair. Various routine matters were dealt with and it was decided to hold a supper and entertainment for the City Intermediate Baseball League at some date not yet decided upon. A committee was named to make all the arrangements for the supper and the committee will meet on Tuesday of next week to perfect plans.

Model Yacht Races In Harbor Today

Considerable interest has been aroused in the Model Yacht Club races to be held in the harbor this afternoon. The venturing of these small craft in the rougher waters of the harbor will be a new departure.

The course will extend from McLeod's wharf to the second buoy and back, a distance of about two and one-half miles. The race will be run at full tide so that trouble from currents may be eliminated. No time limit has been set for the reception of entries and those wishing to enter their boats are requested to be ready at McLeod's wharf at 2.30 this afternoon.

Boats of 55 inch size and over are eligible and size is the only special qualification, any make or type of boat being permitted to enter. Prizes will be presented by the club for first and second places. A large field is looked for.
